General points

When a full name is assigned the most important post held is used: e.g. Bishop, Dean, Chancellor, Treasurer, Succentor, Archdeacon, prebendary OR if more appropriate principal residential post held at death e.g. rector, vicar etc.

Main entry for double barrelled names and aliases is under first element, e.g.
John Hopkin LATER Lane-Hopkin 1853-1923
Richard Mansell ALIAS Mansfield e1494-a1558

Individuals known by just a christian name are listed in a separate sequence before the main list.

Individuals with the same or similar names (who may be or are confused) are noted thus:

John Smith (Dean of London) e1500-e1550
* Entry probably confuses men of the same name*
* Entry might confuse men of the same name*
* Entry might confuse men of the same surname*
* Easily confused with John Smith (vicar of Ilam, Staffs) 1505-1555*
* Easily confused with men of the same name*
* Easily confused with his father/son*
* Perhaps a misreading for John Smith*
* Perhaps also misread as John Smith*
* Perhaps identical to John Smith (vicar of Ilam, Staffs) 1513-1584*

John Adams B.A. (presbyterian minister of Gayton) ?1624-1686
Adams, (? christened on 17 May 1624 at Bradley), was likely son of William Adams of Woollaston in Bradley yeoman 1596-1671 and Thomasin. (This man studied at Oxford where on 9 Apr 1647 he was a servitor at Oriel College and matriculated but later migrated to Trinity College. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 4 Apr 1650.) Adams graduated B.A. and was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 1651.2 when he was in office as presbyterian minister of Coppenhall. On 14 Jul 1656 after nomination by the parishioners of Gayton he was appointed by the Commissioners (? for the approbation of public preachers) as presbyterian minister of Gayton but had probably left office before Sep 1662. By 6 Sep 1662 he may have been ordained deacon and been appointed a stipendiary curate at Wolverhampton and on 4 Aug 1663 he was ordained priest by Lichfield. Still in office at Wolverhampton he died, aged about 62, and was buried there on 5 Apr 1686. Adams married first perhaps about 1650 to Cecily (d 1655). He married second perhaps about 1660 to a woman by whom he had 1 child (perhaps a boy). [NB: It is possible that two or more men are conflated in this account.]

Wednesday 14th April 1915: This morning the Reverend J. Warwick Adams, former vicar of Dunton, put on overalls instead of clerical dress and began work in a munitions factory at Birmingham.[1] Since leaving Dunton he has been the vicar of Wall, near Lichfield (Staffs), but before becoming a clergyman in 1887 he was an engineer in his father's engineering works. A couple of weeks ago, having taken to heart Sir John French's statement that "the protraction of the war depends entirely upon the supply of men and munitions", Reverend Adams offered his service to the War Office as a mechanical engineer. While the authorities were willing to accept him as an armourer sergeant, they could not grant his request to leave him free for Sunday duty in his parish. In view of this he took civilian employment at Messrs Kynoch's factory. Fifty-four year old Reverend Adams will begin work at 8am and work until 6pm with a one hour break for dinner. He will be employed using a "sliding rest lathe" and will work under the same conditions and at the same rate of pay as his workmates. He will lodge at Birmingham during the week and return to Wall on Saturday evening to be ready to take Sunday services. His son, also an engineer by profession, is serving as a Second Lieutenant in the Royal Engineers. [Bedfordshire Standard 16th April 1915]

Thomas Adams B.A. (parochial curate of Trentham) 1602-1667 H1
Adams, christened on 26 Sep 1602 at Burslem, was 2nd son of John Adams of Burslem yeoman c1570-1640 and (his 1st wife) Elizabeth. He studied at Cambridge where at Michaelmas 1620 he was admitted as a pensioner at St John's College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1624.5. On 20 Sep 1628 he was ordained deacon by Lichfield and on 23 Dec 1632 ordained priest by Chester pro Lichfield. By 1639 after probable presentation by the vicar of Leek then Francis Bowyer 1605-1648 QV he was in office as parochial curate of Rushton. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he may have continued here as compliant minister. After presentation by (? James Keeling) he was appointed compliant minister of Blurton ?independent parochial chapelry before 11 Jun 1649. That day "the inhabitants of Blurton, Newstead and the chapelry of Cocknage begged that he might have £30 pa out of the tithes of Trentham, sequestered from Sir Richard Leveson". He was still in office here in 1652. On 10 Dec 1656 he was appointed compliant minister of Trentham independent parochial chapelry and about 1658 certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry. About 1659 he received an augmentation of £90 to his annual salary. In early Jun 1660 he continued here as de facto parochial curate and, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), was confirmed in office. In Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of £1. He subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 18 Aug 1662 and was licensed as a preacher by Lichfield on 6 Oct 1663. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Trentham constablewick and was assessed on 1 hearth. Still in office he died, aged 65, and was buried here on 27 Mar 1667. A sundial on the south wall of Blurton church with the initials TA and the date 166(?7) may commemorate his death. His will made on 9 Mar 1666.7 was proved under Lichfield on 12 Jun 1667. His personalty was valued at £222 and included "the Librarie £20". In his will he wrote "the profitt of all my libraraie I give to my 2 daughters Sarah and Elizabeth". Adams married on 20 Jan 1628.9 at Trentham to Ellen Walter by whom he had 7 sons and 3 daughters. [NB: Although both Adams's father and older brother - progenitors of the family of master potters - styled themselves yeoman they were as wealthy as many a gentleman.]

Thomas Addenbrooke (presbyterian minister of Baswich) ?1625-1677
Addenbrooke, (? christened on 5 Mar 1625.6 at Kinver) was probably a son of William Addenbrooke of Kinver c1587-1643 and Jane (Grove). He was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 3 Jan 1650.1 when he was "settled" as presbyterian minister of Baswich. Here he received two augmentations (previously paid to his predecessor) of £20 and £18/13/4 to his annual salary of £10. During 1653 he was elected as register of Baswich. He probably resigned at Baswich shortly before 19 Jan 1658.9 when after presentation by John Davenport of Davenport, Cheshire esquire 1630-.... he was admitted as presbyterian minister of Swettenham rectory, Cheshire. Certificates of fitness had been supplied by four Staffordshire gentlemen: Matthew Moreton of Engleton in Brewood esquire c1590-1669, Richard Floyer of Hints esquire 1603-1679, Thomas Whitby of Great Haywood in Colwich gentleman c1618-1665 and Sir Thomas Whitgreave of Bridgeford in Seighford knight c1626-1695; and, four Staffordshire ministers: (Richard Clayton (compliant minister of Seighford) ?1595-1669, John Greensmith (presbyterian minister of Colwich) ?1629-1666, Joseph Sonde (compliant minister of Swynnerton ?1598-1672 QV and Noah Bryan (presbyterian minister of Stafford St Mary) c1635-c1672. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto rector. In Oct 1661 he was ordained deacon and priest by Chester and also after (a second) presentation by John Davenport instituted as rector. He subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 6 Sep 1662 and on 11 Aug 1665 was licensed as a preacher by Chester. Still in office he died, aged about 52, in 1677. His will was proved under Chester in 1677. Addenbrooke married about 1652 to Ellen (d 1681) by whom he had 2 sons and 2 daughters.

Joseph Ainge (rector of Handsworth) c1624-1691 H2
Ainge, born about 1624, was a son of Richard Ainge of Hampton, Warwicks "gentleman". He studied at Oxford where on 24 May 1639 he was a scholar at St John's College and matriculated but is not known to have graduated. During the intrusion on 6 Jan 1644.5, probably as a literate, he was secretly ordained (? deacon and) priest by Oxford then Robert Skinner 1591-1670. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 1651.2 when he was in office as presbyterian minister of Hints parochial chapelry. In 1657 he was presbyterian minister of Shipston-upon-Stour, Worcs parochial chapelry. By 16 Sep 1659 he was presbyterian minister of Handsworth rectory and paid first fruits. In early Jun 1660 he continued here as de facto rector and, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), was confirmed in office. On 21 Jun 1661 after presentation by the Crown (? by lapse) he was instituted rector by the vicar-general of Canterbury and (again) paid first fruits. In Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of £2 and subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 14 Aug 1662. In Jan 1663 he was licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. In 1665 the rectory was valued at £120. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Handsworth and Perry Barr constablewicks and was assessed on 6 hearths at Handsworth township. Still in office he died, aged about 67, and was buried here in Dec 1691. His will made on 13 Nov 1691 was proved under Lichfield on 9 Mar 1693.4. In his will he bequeathed "all my study and library of books" to his older son Samuel Ainge M.A. (rector of Haseley, Warwicks) c1656-.... Ainge married about 1649 to Agnes Dowley 1625-1706 dau of Robert Dowley (rector of Elford) c1584-1672 QV by whom he had 2 sons and 6 daughters.

(Crediton) The appointment of a clerk responsible for teaching the choristers in 1334 effectively established a small private choir school, in which a few boys learnt both plainsong and polyphony - we know only the identity of the last of these clerks, Philip Alcock, who gave up his post when the college was dissolved in 1545. Alcock was a former scholar of Lichfield Cathedral, whose setting of an antiphon to the Virgin, Salve Regina mater misericorde, is still extant (it has been sung by the choir in the recent past). (Cheam, original in latin) H.S.E. George Aldrich S.T.P. born in London, Educated at Cambridge. He especially deserved well at the hands of the people As a Minister of the Gospel of the Anglican Church. If any one else was able to be busy in sacred matter, then, when not too much harried by the rebels, was he said to be vigorous. He zealously lent useful assistance in educating boys as master of the Cheam Private School And this or that Mother Academy owed more to no one in proportion to the fresh increase of well born youth. He died in his 84th year an age indeed late in years if you consider the merits of the case and the public slaughter by untimely death. He died on the 13th June, 1685. Alies, christened on 21 Mar 1612.3 at Longdon, was a son of Edward Alies of Longdon, Worcs c1579-.... and Sibyl. He was educated at Bedford. He was probably only educated to literate grade. He studied at Cambridge where on 25 Jan 1629.30 he was admitted as a sizar at Christ's College but is not known to have matriculated or graduated. He was presumably ordained deacon and on 24 Dec 1637 ordained priest by by Hereford pro Lichfield. On 22 Aug 1662 he was in office as parochial curate of Gratwich and subscribed to the Act of uniformity. (At Gratwich a predecessor was in office in 1651.2 and likely served until 1661.) Still in office Alies died, aged about 50, in ?Aug 1663 and was probably buried there. His administration was granted under Lichfield on 6 Aug 1663 to two of his creditors. His personalty was valued at £9/14/7 and included "It bookes 5/0". Alies may not have married.

Simon Alkin (parochial curate of Ellenhall & Ranton) c1640-1684 H3
Alkin, born about 1610, was a son of Walter Alkin of Ellenhall yeoman c1610-1688. He was only educated to literate grade. On 20 Nov 1662 he was appointed schoolmaster of Eccleshall parish school but had been replaced in office by 1 Jan 1663.4. In Jul 1664 he was ordained deacon and in Dec 1664 ordained priest (both) by Lichfield. Also in Dec 1664 he was licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. After probable presentation by Jonathan Cope of Ranton Abbey esquire c1627-1670 he was by 1665, jointly, in office as parochial curate of Ellenhall and Ranton. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Ranton & Coton Clanford constablewick but was not assessed there or at Ellenhall probably because he was living with his father who was assessed on 1 hearth at Ellenhall. About 1680 his joint annual salary at Ellenhall and Ranton was said to be £10. Still in both offices he died, aged about 44, and was buried on 19 Aug 1684 at Ellenhall. Alkin married on 30 Jul 1676 at Ellenhall to Elizabeth North by whom he had 1 son and 2 daughters.

On condition of attending an annual service in Cannock church on St. Barnabas' Day (11 June) and there preaching a sermon in rotation, the incumbents of the eight Staffordshire parishes of Abbots Bromley, Bednall, Brewood, Colwich, Lapley, Penkridge, Shareshill, and Weston upon Trent, provided they are resident for at least ten months in the year in their cures, share equally the income from the charity founded by the Revd. William Alport, of Buckinghamshire, by will dated 1720. (fn. 41)
The original endowment consisted of lands in Cannock and Hednesford. (fn. 42) This land has long since been sold, and the proceeds, invested in stock, yielded £624 9s. 4d. in 1956. Four of these incumbents, of Abbots Bromley, Penkridge, Shareshill, and Weston upon Trent, with those of Bloxwich, Bradley, Castle Church, and Coppenhall, likewise on condition of their being resident in their parishes for at least ten months of the year and attending a service in Cannock church on this same day, share equally in the income of the charity founded by Miss Eleanor Alport, sister of William, by will dated 1727. This charity estate consisted of a messuage and lands in Hammerwich (St. Michael's, Lichfield), over 72 acres by 1847 and over 110 acres by 1921, when most of it was sold. The income in 1956 consisted of £15 rent from two fields in Hammerwich, some 13 acres in all, and £174 16s. 6d. interest from stock. (fn. 48) These two charities were jointly administered in 1956, the vicar of Cannock receiving 10s. 6d. for conducting the service. [VCH]

Under the wills of the two survivors of these (Judith and Mary), the manor and demesne of Alsager passed to the descendants of their great-uncle, the REV. SAMUEL ALSAGER, of Standon Staffordshire, whose only daughter and heiress, MARY ALSAGER, married Roger Wilbraham, Esq., of Dorfold, Nantwich. They had an only daughter and heiress, ANN WILBRAHAM, who married James Williams Esq., of a Flintshire family. To the four daughters of this marriage, the manor and demesne of Alsager passed by the wills of the two last surviving sisters of John Alsager Esq., above mentioned (Judith and Mary Alsager). The eldest of these ladies, ANN WILLIAMS, assumed the name of "Alsager", and died in London on December 6th, 1815, aged 75 years. Her sister CATHARINE (the only one who married) married James Sheridan Esq., barrister-at-law of the Middle Temple, who died in 1799. Mrs Sheridan died in London, January 6th, 1823, aged 73, leaving two daughters, co-heiresses, to whom the Alsager manor and property passed viz:- [INTERNET]

Thomas Alsop M.A. (compliant minister of Cheadle) c1615-1682
Alsop, born about 1615, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Cambridge where at Easter 1632 he was a sizar at Trinity College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1635.6 (M.A., 1639). On 25 Sep 1636 he was ordained deacon and on 13 Mar 1636.7 ordained priest (both) by Lichfield. By 22 Mar 1639 he was a stipendiary curate at Parwich, Derbys. On 4 May 1640 after presentation by Sir Richard Brooke (? of Nacton, Suffolk) knight and Richard Evans gentleman (? pro John Ferrers of Tamworth Castle, Warwicks esquire 1629-1680) he was instituted rector of Boylestone, Derbys. On 5 Jun 1645 the Committee for plundered ministers - calling him "a godly and orthodox divine" - appointed him compliant minister of Cheadle rectory. Apparently a committed presbyterian, he signed the Staffordshire testimony of Jul 1648 as "Thomas Allsop Minister of the Gospel at Chedle". On 4 Feb 1649.50 a successor was in office. On 15 Oct 1662 after presentation by Simon Rugeley (? of Tatenhill esquire c1598-1666) he was insitituted rector of Hathern, Leics. Still in office he died, aged about 67, and was buried there on 5 Jun 1682. His will made on 20 Aug 1681 was proved under PCC on 21 Aug 1682. In his will he bequeathed (out of a property at Boylestone) an annuity of £1/4/0 to the churchwardens of Hathern and a second annuity of 16/0 to the churchwardens of Boylestone and left instructions regarding the distribution of bread to the poor in both parishes. He also bequeathed "to my sonne Thomas Alsopp All my Library and bookes of what sort soever (hee first suffering my now wife to take out of the same for her owne use such English bookes as she shall please) with this charge that hee never suffer any of my notes or paper writings to come to any publique view". Alsop married first on 29 Jan 1638.9 (by licence) at Burton-upon-Trent to Joan Hogg (d 1667) by whom he probably had 4 sons and 2 daughters. Alsop married second on 16 Mar 1667.8 at Heather, Leics to Sarah Barrodale (widow of ----- Harward) (no known children). Thomas Alsop (rector of Boylestone, Derbys) 1641-?1715 was his oldest son.

The Evans family of Tanybwlch. Merionethshire, ended with the children of Evan Evans (d. 1680). His son Robert Evans (d. post-1724) was an imbecile, and in 1680 one of his daughters, and heir, Catherine Evans (d. 1732), married Robert Gruffith (d. 1729) of Bachysaint, near Cricieth, Caernarfonshire, who moved to Tanybwlch. Evan Evans's other daughter, Ann, married Thomas Meyricke (d. c. 1722) of Berth-lwyd, Merionethshire. In about 1717 Evan Griffith (d. c. 1730), son of Robert Gruffith and Catherine his wife, married his cousin Jonet Meyrick (d. 1721), one of the two daughters and sole heir of Thomas Meyrick and Ann his wife, thus uniting Tanybwlch and Berth-lwyd. Jonet died in 1721 giving birth to triplets. Margaret Meyricke, the other daughter, married Thomas Lloyd Anwyl of Hendremur in the parish of Llandecwyn, Merioneth. In the next generation Robert Gruffith (d. 1750) of Tanybwlch married his cousin Ann Anwyl. Their son Evan Gruffydd of Tanybwlch married his cousin Mary Anwyl (d. 1781) daughter of William Anwyl of Hendremur, the brother of Ann. Their daughter Margaret Gruffydd (d. 1809) married William Oakeley (1750-1811), the son of the Rev. William Oakeley of Forton, Staffordshire. In 1817 their son William Gryffydd Oakeley (d. 1835) married Louisa Jane Ness (d. 1879) of Bath, but died without issue and was succeeded in the Tanybwlch estate by his second cousin William Edward Oakeley, son of William Oakeley of Glan William, Merioneth, and grandson of Sir Charles Oakeley, governor of Madras, the brother of William Oakeley (1750-1811).

Edward Archer M.A. (stipendiary curate-in-charge of Enville) ?1614-1672
Archer, born about 1614 (? and christened on 23 Jan 1613.4 at Yardley), was probably first son of James Archer M.A. (vicar of Yardley, Worcs) 1588-1675 and Ellen (Cherry). He studied at Cambridge where at Michaelmas 1629 he was a sizar at Trinity College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1633 (M.A., King's College) 1637. About 1633 he was probably ordained deacon by Lichfield and then appointed as a stipendiary curate at Enville to assist the rector Anthony Fowke 1595-1658 who had been "begged for a lunatic" by his wife probably after a petition to the Court of Wards. In 1637 Archer's father James bought the advowson of Enville from John Whorwood of Stourton in Kinver esquire c1592-c1669 and his wife Abigail. Archer may have been ordained priest by Lichfield about Jun 1638 when he was appointed by Lichfield as stipendiary curate-in-charge in loco Fowke. About a year later Archer had not received his salary of £40 pa and the Enville parishioners petitioned William Laud (archbishop of Canterbury) to arrange payment. Archer was probably still in office at Enville on 15 Feb 1641.2 when a daughter was christened. On 20 Jun 1643 he was appointed rector of London St Ethelburga-the-Virgin within Bishopsgate and from 5 Feb 1643.4 he may have continued here as compliant minister.

In London on 12 Oct 1644 he witnessed the execution in Smithfield of Francis Pitt. book below

On 27 May 1645 he was appointed as compliant minister of Leamington vicarage, Warwicks where on 16 Dec 1645 another daughter was christened. By 1647 he was in office as compliant minister of Somerton rectory, Oxon. On 25 Jan 1648.9, as minister of Somerton, he subscribed to the Humble advice of the lecturers of Banbury to Lord Fairfax. On 26 Jul 1650 the Militia Commissioners [? for Oxfordshire] were to examine charges made against him. On 15 Nov 1650 they ordered him to take the engagement and give security for good behaviour. By 1650 after possible presentation by ●Oliver Cromwell qua Protector he had been appointed compliant minister of Newington rectory, Oxon but was displaced in 1660. By 1661 he was living at Cookham, Berks where he may have been a stipendiary curate. On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived (if in any office). In 1664 he was involved in legal proceedings to collect tithes owing from his time at Newington. Still living at Cookham he died, aged about 58, and was buried there on 21 Feb 1671.2. His administration was granted under Berkshire. His personalty was (said to be) valued at £650 and included a library worth £80. Archer married perhaps about 1640 to Mary (d 1686) by whom he had 3 sons and 6 daughters. Benjamin Archer B.D. (vicar of Quainton, Bucks) 1652-1732 was his third son. His daughter Mary was the wife of William Segary of Wokingham, Berks presbyterian minister c1622-1697. In 1644 Ithiel Smart M.A. (vicar of Wombourn & p.c. Trysull) c1599-1661 QV and Archer wrote a pamphlet A more exact and perfect relation of the treachery, apprehension, conviction, condemnation, confession, and execution of Francis Pitt, aged 65, who was executed in Smithfield, on Saturday, October 12th, 1644, for endeavouring to betray the garrison at Rushall Hall, in the county of Stafford, to the enemy. published by Ithiel Smart and Edward Archer, two ministers, who were acquainted with him in his life, and present with him at his death ...

(Jun 1638) 94. Bishop Wright, of Coventry and Lichfield, to Edward Archer, M.A. Appointment as coadjutor [assistant] and curate of Endfield [Enville], co. Stafford; Anthony Fowke, the rector, being a lunatic. [Latin. Parchment. 31 lines] [SPD Charles I CCCXCIII p540]

(?Jun 1639) 102. Petition of the parishioners of Envield [Enville], co. Stafford, to Archbishop Laud. Mr. Edward Archer, M.A., was, a year since, appointed by the Bishop of Litchfield and Coventry to officiate the cure of Envield, under Anthony Fowke, now rector, and has approved himself a painful minister and every way conformable, but has received nothing for his pains. Petitioners, understanding that Mrs. Frances Fowke, wife of the rector, has lately begged her husband for a lunatic (who has been so accounted these five years), beseech you to appoint Edward Archer coadjutor [assistant] to the present incumbent. Petitioners fear that if Mr. Archer should leave them they should be as ill-served as before, the choice of the curate remaining in Mrs. Fowke. The last time the place was void she opposed Mr. Archer against the Bishop, Mr. Chancellor, and the parish, and sought to have brought in an unworthy man. Pray the Archbishop to assign Mr. Archer competent means out of the rectory, the parish being large and the living £160 per annum, which is not so well employed as it ought to be. Signed by thirteen petitioners. [SPD Charles I CCCCXXIV p357]

"That the Worcestershire Archers were Royalists, there can be no doubt; the children of Edward Archer of Hanley Castle, eldest son of John Archer of Welland, by his wife Eleanor, daughter of Richard Frewen of Hanley Castle, were dispossessed of their estates by Cromwell. We find, about 1652, 'William Archer and William Walter petitioning on behalf of the children, bring minors, Thomas, George, and Anne, of the late Edward Archer of Hanley Castle.' There is no mention of his elder children in this petition; they, no doubt, had equally incurred the Protector's dis- pleasure. Thomas, George, and Anne, being minors, might be presumed to be guilt- less of political sympathies. These Welland Archers appear to have broken up entirely, about 1649, and to have dispersed in all directions, their large possessions passing into the hands of their Cromwellite neighbours-the Lechmeres* and others. Presumably, the Frewens-maternal ancestors of Edward of Hanley-were also Royalists, for we find them settled in Barbados, at the same period as Edward Archer, of 1693, as well as the Thornes, Moores, and other families, and K'irtows, with whom the [Umberslade] Netherthorpe Archers had intermarried. It is a curious and suggestive fact, that the first Barbadian ancestor of Edward Archer of 1693, called his estates .... 'Oldbury.' Now, if we refer to Dugdale's 'Pedigree of Archer of

William Armett B.A. (vicar of Biddulph) c1609-1667
Armett, born about 1609, was a son of George Armett of Thornleigh in Leek yeoman c1579-1652 and Joan. He studied at Oxford where on 4 Dec 1629 he was a student at Magdalen Hall and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 28 Jun 1633. He was presumably ordained deacon and on 12 Jun 1636 ordained priest by Lichfield. In Dec 1644 an entry in Ipstones parish register reads - perhaps in Armett's hand - "Gulielmus Armett Ministr at Ippstones Decembris". He might have been "in charge" at Ipstones until Jul 1665. In 1651.2 he was in office as compliant minister of Alton vicarage (where his last known predecessor James Rawlin c1586-.... QV was in office as vicar in 1639 and ?1643). In Jun 1660 he may have continued in office as de facto vicar but had left office by Jul 1662. By 26 Sep 1662 he was in office as parochial curate of Horton. On 14 Jan 1662.3 after presentation by Sir John Bowyer of Knypersley in Biddulph 1st Baronet 1623-1666 he was instituted as vicar of Biddulph. Here he resigned before 12 Jul 1665. He then probably returned to Thornleigh (his birthplace) where he died, aged about 58, and was buried on 2 Apr 1667 at Leek. His will made on 9 Feb 1666.7 was proved under Lichfield on 12 Jun 1667. In his will he bequeathed his son "all my bookes except sume twentie english bookes ...". His personalty was valued at about £130. Armett married on 10 Jan 1635.6 at Leek to Ann Brough of Brownford (d ?1667) by whom he had one son and one daughter.

Salop, pleb. ST. EDMUND HALL, matric. 4 Dec., 1618, aged 18; B.A. 27 Feb., 1621-2, M.A. 2 June, 1624, created D.D. 20 Dec., 1642, royalist divine, rector of Hodnet, and of Ightfield, Salop, 1635, preb. of Lichfield 1633, archdeacon of Coventry 1642, his estate was sequestrated and he imprisoned; on the King's death he retired to the Hague, died in Virginia 1653. See Ath., iii. 307. JOHN ARNWAY, a Shropshire man born, be- came a commoner of S. Edm. hall in the year 1618, and in that of his age 18, took the degrees in arts, entred into the sacred funetion, and had a cure of souls bestowed on him. At length the civil wars breaking forth, he adhered to the king's cause, suf- fered much for it in his own country, went after him to Oxon, and was actually created D. of D. in 1642, being about that time (as I coneeive) made archdeacon of Lichf. and Coventry, in the place of Dr. Ralph Brownrig promoted to the see of Exeter. He had then quitted a large fortune to serve his prince, and thereupon was plunder'd by the rebels, and lost his books and papers, which he could never recover. Afterwards upon the declining of the king's cause, he went to the Hague in Holland, and afterwards to Virginia where he died. He hath written, The Tablet, or Moderation of Charles the first, Martyr. An Alarum to the Subjects of England. . A few copies of these two little treatises were both printed together in a small character at the Hague, an. 1650, afterwards reprinted at Lond. 1661. in oct, by the care of Will. Rider sometimes of Mert. coll. who married the author's near kins- woman. Afterwards Dr. Arnway heing reduced to necessity, left the Hague, and upon an invitation he went into Virginia to exercise his funetion among the English, where he died about Lyn haven, Eli- zaheth river or Nausunum, but when I cannot tell, umless about the year 1653. [Arnway was not only archdeacon of Coventry, but prebendary of Woolvey in the church of Lich- fickl, rector of Hodnet and of Ightfield in Shrop- shire. He was driven from his living at Hodnet by the garrison of Wem, when he retired to Ox- ford. Arnway's two little treatises are very rare, but the curious reader may be pleased to see some extracts from them in Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, part 2. page 40.1 JOHN ARNWAY, archdeacon of Coventry, who died in exile in Virginia, in 1653, gives in a little worka the following account of how he fared before he was driven from his native country. It must be remarked that he was once a wealthy man, and he had given mortal offence The name of the book is incorrectly given by Mr. Walker, who states he had only seen a transcript of the passages that he cites: he speaks of it as either "The Tablet," &c., or "An Alarum," &c. There is a book in the Bodleian Library, which has both these titles (The Tablet, or Moderation of Charles Ist, Martyr, with An Alarum to the Subjects of England, sm. 8vo., 1649), but it does not contain the passages in question. to the Parliament by supplying eight horsemen for the King's service. "Though I was urged with drawn swords and bloody halberts to serve the idol (meaning the Covenant), I yet infinitely more bless God for the deliverance of my soul from the idolatry thereof, than of my body from the peril of imprisonment, navigation, sickness, and the desert wherein I sojourn; the three first of which I escaped very narrowly. They offered me restitution of £400 per annum, sweetened with the commendation of my abilities, to bow to it, in swallowing the Oath and Covenant, but Christ's rejection of hæc omnia dabo teaching me not to sell myself to work wickedness, but to abhor presentations upon simoniacal contracts, I re- plied, I had rather cast my stuff and tackling all over- board to save my passenger and pinnace (soul and body), than sink my passenger and pinnace to preserve my stuff and tackling. "Not to speak of their other hard usage, granting me not a Bible of my library to comfort me, nor a sheaf of my means to nourish me, nor a suit of my clothes to cover me, nor use of common air to refresh me; but banishing me the country because I would not be perjured with them, they haled me out of prison in the dead of the night to tax me of papistry, the un- deserved livery they gave to all true subjects and good Christians; who, had their minds been unsettled in religion, haply might have thought the furthest remove from them the nearest approach to God, and so have been sooner turned by their opposition than by the aments of Bellarmin 1642. John Arnway, S. T.P. was rector of Hodnet and Igthfield, in Shropshire. He was driven from his living at Hodnet, by the garrison of Wem. He suffered much in the royaf cause; and being driven from the kingdom, he took refuge at the Hague, from whence he went to Virginia. He related his own sufferings in two little tracts, intitaled, "The Tablet, &c." and « The Alarm, &c.". He died in Vir- ginia in 1653. He was worthy and charitable to the greatest degree; annually clothed twelve poor people, and dined as many every Sunday at his table ... ARNWAY (JOHN), descended of a good family in the county of Salop, from which he inherited a considerable estate, was born in 1601, educated in grammatical learn- ing in his own country, and in 1618 became a commoner of St. Edmund's hall, in Oxford, where he remained till he had taken his degrees in arts, and had also received holy orders. He then went down again into Shropshire, where, in process of time, he obtained the rectories of Hodnet and Ightfield, which he enjoyed to the breaking out of the civil war. He was a man of much learning and very extensive charity, so that though his income was con- siderable, yet he laid np very little. It was his custom to clothe annually twelve poor people according to their sta- tion, and every Sunday he entertained as many at his table, not only plentifully, but with delicate respect. His loyalty to his prince being as warm as his charity towards his neighbours, he raised and clothed eight troopers for his service, and always preached warmly against rebellion. The parliament having a garrison in the town of Wem, a detachment was sent from thence who plundered him of every thing, besides terrifying him with the cruellest in- sults. In 1640 he repaired to Oxford, to serve the king in person, and there was created doctor in divinity, and had also the archdeaconry of Coventry given him, on the pro- motion of Dr. Brownrig to the bishopric of Exeter. His former misfortunes did not hinder Dr. Arnway from being as active afterwards in the king's service, which subjected him to a new train of hardships, his estate being seques- tered, and himself imprisoned. At length, after the king's murder, he obtained his liberty, and, like many other loy- alists, was compelled by the laws then in being to retire to Holland. While at the Hague, in 1650, he published two little pieces ; the first entitled "The Tablet; or, the Moderation of Charles I. the Martyr." In this he endea- vours to wipe off all the aspersions tha: were thrown on that prince's memory. by Milton and bis associates. The se- cond is called " An Alarm to the Subjects of England," in which he certainly did his utmost to picture the oppressions of the new government in the strongest colours; aud in this work he gives some very remarkable anecdotes of himself. His supplies from England failing, and his hopes in that country being also frustrated, he was compelled to accept an offer that was made him of going to Virginia, where, oppressed with grief and cares, he died, in 1653, leaving behind him the character of a pious, upright, and con- sistent loyalist. The tracts above mentioned were reprinted in England, 1661, by the care of Mr. William Rider, of Merton College, who married a relation of the author, but this volume is very scarce. ' . i. 397, 415.7 ARNWAY, JOHN (1601-1653), royalist divine, was of a Shropshire family and heir to a considerable estate. He was a commoner of St. Edmund's Hall, Oxford, and in 1635 rector of Hodnetand Ightfield. (For difliculties con- nected with these appointments see State Pa- pers, Dom. 1634-5). His abounding charity and devoted loyalty were conspicuous. When he repaired to the king at Oxford in 1642, the parliament garrison at Wem plundered his house so completely that (according to his own account) they left him neither bible, nor money, nor clothes. He was promoted to. be archdeacon of Coventry and prebendary of Woolvey. Resuming his activity in the royal service, his estate was sequestrated and he imprisoned till after the king's death. He was then exiled, and took refuge at the Hague, where (in 1650) he pub- lished two pamphlets, (1) the 'Tablet, a vin- dication of the Fing against Milton's ' Eikono- clastes,' and (2) ' An Alarum to the Subjecta of England,' an account of the oppressions which he and others had suffered. He was compelled by poverty to accept an invitation to exercise his function among the English in Virginia, where he died, it is supposed in 1653. Both his tracts were reprinted in 1661 by William Rider of Merton College. [Wood's Athena Oxon. (Bliss), iii. 307; Fasti, R. C. B. now see ODNB in my file

Richard Ashley ALIAS Astley (presbyterian minister of Stowe) e1634-1696
Ashley, born perhaps about 1634 near Manchester, was probably a son of a Lancashire "gentleman". He was educated at Manchester where he was a boarder in the town. He is said to "have been bred at Cambridge" but may not have matriculated and was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 28 Feb 1658.9 when after presentation by ●Richard Cromwell qua Protector he was admitted as presbyterian minister of Stowe independent parochial chapelry. In Jun 1660 he likely continued in office as de facto parochial curate but probably ?voluntarily resigned shortly thereafter. By 1661 he was curate of Blackrod, Lancs but may have resigned before 24 Aug 1662 perhaps to avoid subscribing to the Act of uniformity. In 1668 he may have been living at Tilsley Bank in Leigh, Lancs. In 1669 after preaching in Lancashire at Darwen on 21 May and at Newton on 13 Dec he was presented by the churchwardens. By 10 Jul 1669 Ashley had been admitted as a member of a congregational meeting in Hull, Yorks East Riding when he was elected pastor in succession to John Canne (d 1667). About 15 May 1672 (as a congregationalist) he was licensed to both preach and to be an independent teacher at the house of John Robinson of Hull. In 1682 his meeting was temporarily suppressed and he was to be arrested but is said to have escaped. About Jun 1685 Ashley's meeting-house was used as a prison for those suspected of supporting the Duke of Monmouth's rebellion against James II. In the winter of 1695 Ashley fell ill and still in office "having served the Lord as Pastor of this Church about 27 years" died, aged about 62, on ?7 Apr 1696 and was buried at Drypool, Yorks East Riding on 9 Apr. Ashley married about 1671 to a woman (? Hannah d 1711) by whom he had 2 sons and ?2 daughters. His daughter Abigail was the first wife of Abraham Dawson of Cottingham, Yorks East Riding minister 1663-1733. Calamy records this man as Mr Ashley in 1702 and as Mr or Mr William (in error) Ashley in 1713 but as Mr Richard Astley in 1727. His surname appears as both Ashley and Astley in contemporary records - did he intend to confuse the authorities?

(1727) Pag 414 Blackrode Mr WILLIAM ASHLEY It should have been Mr RICHARD ASTLEY I having said of him p415 that he died about the Year 1691 and again p819 that he died in April 1696 I have been since inform'd that this latter is the true Account. He was born not far from Manchester, and brought up in the publick School there. His early Towardliness and good Inclinations were very observable in the Family where he was boarded; so that when his Father came to take him from School, intending him for a Trade, some discerning Persons in the Family, earnestly urg'd for his Continuance at School, alledging their Hopes that one of his Seriousness and Solidity, might be of great Use to the Church of GOD in the Ministry. His Father yielded to their Advice, and afterwards found his Son's Proficiency in Learning to answer his Expectation. When he was fit for academical Studies, he was sent to the University and soon after his going thither, some of his praying Friends and Acquaintance, spent some Hours in solemnly seeking to God for a Blessing upon his Studies, without his Knowledge.

One of them (a good solid Christian) after Prayers were over, said to the rest, I believe GOD will do great Things for this Lad: Tho' I shall not live to see his Return from the University, yet when he returns, acquaint him with what I say, and excite him to Thankfulness. This was accordingly done: And Mr Astley gave his praying Friends a Sermon in private, and they had such a Tast of his Gifts, as fully fatisfied them that GOD had heard their Prayers. [Calamy (1727) p569-70]
(1778) Dr C speaks of him as the same person who was ejected from Blackrode in Lancashire see p 84 But the name is different It is remarkable ibat he had called that person William Ashley in the Account but in the Contin says it should be Richard Astley In this article he only mentions Mr Afley without any Note here or in the Contin to make the name in this and in the former place to agree In the Index the names find so as to express two perfons as it is probable there were viz Mr Richard Anley and Mr William Afbley
(1802) BLACKRODE. Mr. RICHARD ASTLEY. Born near Manchester, and brought up in the public school there. His early good inclinations and solidity, were very observable where he boarded, so that when his father came to take him from school, intending him for trade, some discerning persons in the family earnestly recommended his continuance at school, expressing their hope that he might be useful in the ministry. His father yielded to their advice, and found his son's proficiency in learning answer his expectation. Upon his going to the university, some of his pious friends met together, without his knowledge, to seek a divine blessing upon his studies. One of them, a good solid Christian, when prayer was over, said, " I believe God will do great things for this lad, tho' I shall not live to see him leave the univesity. When he returns, acquaint him with what I say, to excite his thankfulness." They accordingly did so: and Mr. Astley, upon giving them a sermon in private, fully satisfied them that the expectation was just. He proved an excellent preacher. After his ejectment from Blackrode he became pastor of a dissenting congregation in Hull, where he died about the year 1691. Mr. Astley of Chesterfield is a descendant of his. [Calamy II (1802) p353-4]
(1803) RASTRICK [C.) Mr. WILLIAM ASHLEY [fn - Dr. Calamy speaks of him as the same person who was ejected from Blackrode in Lancashire . But various circustances shew this to be a mistake]. Of' Camb. university. Born in Lancashire. He was a preacher, but not fixed, when the Act of uniformity took place, and afterwards was minister of a congregation at Hull. A, very moderate, pious man, of a pleasing disposition and behaviour ; generally beloved and honoured by those that knew him. He was a very edifying practical preacher, and God succeeded his labours at Hull for converting many souls. By his prudence and good temper he brought off the people from some extravagancies, and from the rigid opinions which Mr. Cann, his predecessor, had inculcated ; composed their differences, and kept them in peace as long as he lived. He was very laborious in his ministerial work, and shunned no opportunity to invite souls to Christ, and promote their eternal good. His Common discourse was pleasant and profitable, tending to the same great end. His concern about the souls of his people, was so ardent, that it contributed to impair the vigour both of his body and mind. He was mighty in the scriptures, having an excellent memory, which was strengthened by daily exercise. His preaching was scriptural and experimental, adapted to comfort the afflicted and raise the dejected ; as that of his fellow labourer Mr. Charles, was to awaken the secure. He died April 4, 1695, having been declining some months, during which time his patience and resignation were very remarkable. He was buried in Drypole church. [Calamy III (1803) p445]

He was not there long, seeing that, before 1660, his gifts as a preacher had obtained his appointment to Blackrod, then a chapelry in the parish of bolton, Lanc., whence he was ejected. He went to Hull, where in 1669 he succeeded John Canne as pastor of the congregation afterwards meeting at Dagger Lane. Licensed, June 1672, as "Ind. ..
Richard Astley, 1669-96.—But there was a seven years' interval, and during that time much happened under the regime of the Act of Uniformity and its bye-products, and the Nonconformists of Hull, as elsewhere, had recourse to their conventicles or secret mettings, till the '' Indulgence ''' of 1672-3 gave them a measure of relief, and they came once more into the open, and from that time onward, the sister congregation at least, were part of the visible, corporate life of the town. The Independent licences (1672) are :—Richard Astley— house of John Robinson, Hull; John Packland—house of John Newton, Anlaby, Hull ; Thomas Oliver—house of John Marrs, Newlands, Yorks. Where the Dagger Lane cause met during the ten years from the Ejec- tion to the Indulgence is a matter of conjecture, but that congrega- tional life was maintained is evidenced by the fact that the Records show "that they continued their relation and communion in the Church, waiting for the supply of another pastor to lead them in the Lord." And there is this other fact, that, when the new pastor began the Baptismal Register in 1669, there were baptisms before that date to write in. The Record goes on :—'' On July 10, 1669, Mr. Richard Astley, who had been added to the Church, and consented to come and preach to them, and reside among them, was elected as pastor upon a solemn day of fasting and prayer.' Calamy gives the particulars, which are here summarised, of one who was the first of a long line of the name in the English Presbyterian ministry. '' He was born in Lancashire, and bred in Cambridge, after which he was minister at Blackrode in his native county. Afterwards at Rastrick in Yorks." " Unfixed when the Ejection took place, and later minister of a con- gregation in Hull, where his labours were successful to the converting of many souls, a moderate, pious man of winning disposition, greatly beloved and honoured by all who knew him. His preaching was Scriptural and Experimental, suited to the afflicted and dejected, as that of Mr. Charles was to the awakening of others, so that' in them Hull long had a Barnabas and a Boanerges."' In the winter of 1695 he declined, continued wasting till the following April, when he died, and was buried in Drypole Church on the 9th of that month. The same authority, in his notice of Mr. Astley's contemporary, Mr. Charles, says that "'for many years he, along with Mr. Astley, were the two Presbyterian leaders in Hull often in prison and suffering." We find references to these times in Hull in some of the extracts of our President from the State Papers—May to July, 1670 :—'' The Presbyterians are so high in Hull that London cannot exceed them. I do not know whether it is that they comprise two-thirds of the people there as they do here." There are great disturbances in the garrison by the seditious meetings in conventicles, and we are unable to prevent them for lack of help from the Civil power, "as most of the Aldermen are Presbyterians, the meetings find much favour.' There "' was a great disturbance in the chief Church (Trinity) yesterday, occasioned by a Nonconformist who, through the contrivance of the Mayor, got into the pulpit to preach," etc., etc., which go to show two things, that the Presbyterians were still in power in Hull if not in office, and still meeting in their conventicles. But even Astley's congregation seems to have had some regular meeting-place in 1691, when Thoresby, the Presbyterian antiquarian of Leeds, on a tour, writes: '' Oct. 11. At Kingston on Hull—morning heard Mr. Astley from Titus ii. xi. and in the afternoon heard Mr. Charles at the other place, who preached well from II. Peter 3 and 14." The Communion Roll, which bore 55 names at the date of his Induction, had 224 names added till July 10th, 1695, his wife having been admitted Marcli, 1670. The Baptismal Register begins with the entry :—"' John, the son of Chas. Bell, baptised Nov. 1, 1669," but on the fly-leaf are entries for previous years. But, given with fuller detail, we have 100 entries, until we come to the last of his baptisms :—"' Eliz., daughter of John Watson, b(orn) 22 : 2 : 1696, and baptised the 23rd inst. Richard Astley." The Records have several entries relating to endowments in Astley's time :— Oct. 8, 1671. "' Note of an Endowment of £40 from Lady Norcliff." Oct. 8, 1671. '' Note of an Endowment of £20 from Lady Went- worth, daughter of our worthy sister, Lady Norcliff, with note of its being in custody of William Smith and security for it in the hands of the Deacons." July 16, 1680. '' Note as to Mr. Smith rendering his bond." March 31, 1682. "' Note as to its taking up by Samuel Stockdale, who pays the interest to the Church, £3: 0: 0 received." Oct. 22, 1682. "Endowment for the poor of the Congregation from Mrs. Elizabeth Gunby of £5: 0: 0." 121 Ap. 16, 1674, '' Memoranda as to £30 repaid to Deacons, advanced as bond by them at the request of the Congregation to apprentice a member's boy to the sea." Sep. 24, 1677. '' Admonition to two members of Congregation for Neglect of their duty to the Church." Sep. 25, 1677. '' Conference at Pastor's House regarding dissenting and absent members, with threat to strike them off the Roll, and find- ings in four cases of Discipline." Ap. 7, 1696. "Mr. Richard Astley died, having served the Lord as Pastor of this Church about 27 years."

ll his labours and sorrows, his trials and tribulations, "~- Richard Astley dyed ye 7th day of April 1696 having served ye Lord as pastor to this Church about 27 years. Flere et memenisse relictum est," 19 He was buried in Drypool Parish Churchyard. 20 An important event now occurred in the life of this hitherto harassed congregation. [The Journal of the Presbyterian Historical Society of England 1917-05: Vol 1 Iss 4]
The Independent congregation received a new pastor in 1669 when Richard Astley came to Hull, and there were then 55 members. (fn. 10) The fate of the Presbyterians after Shawe's departure is uncertain, but they doubtless continued to meet. A Mr. Anderson, a minister described as 'a dangerous person and a concealed Presbyterian', was reported to be in Hull in 1664; (fn. 11) and a Presbyterian preacher named Thornberry is said to have been in the town. (fn. 12) After the Declaration of Indulgence in 1672 both congregations registered meeting-houses. Joseph Wilson, who had been ejected from the living at Hessle, was licensed to preach in Hull and Newland —at Richard Barnes's house and at a new meetinghouse built in Blackfriargate. He was minister of the Presbyterian congregation until his death seven years later. (fn. 13) For the Independents, Richard Astley, who had been ejected from Blackrode (Lancs.), was licensed to preach at John Robinson's house, (fn. 14) and Thomas Oliver at John Marr's house at Newland. (fn. 15) The withdrawal of the Declaration of Indulgence in 1673 had a depressing effect on at least Astley's congregation: 25 new members had been added in 1671, 24 in 1672, and 31 in 1673, but in 1674 there were only 16, in 1675 8, in 1676 10, and in 1677 only one. (fn. 16) After Wilson's death in 1679 the Presbyterian minister was Samuel Charles, ejected in 1662 from Mickleover (Derbys.). Under Charles there was only one meeting-place, possibly already in Bowlalley Lane. (fn. 17) Late in 1682 the governor, the Earl of Plymouth, ordered the suppression of both congregations and, though Astley escaped, Charles was caught in 1683 and imprisoned for six months. Several members of the congregations were called before the corporation, including John Robinson, the elder of the Independents, and Christopher Fawthorp, on whose land the Bowlalley Lane Presbyterian chapel was later to be built. After his imprisonment Charles was despatched to Welton under the Five Mile Act. (fn. 18) During the next few years dissenters were pursued for not attending their parish church and for keeping conventicles, (fn. 19) and few new members were added to the Independent congregation: after 12 had been gained in 1679 there were only 10 all told from 1680 to 1685. (fn. 20) More favourable conditions were once again created by the Declaration of Indulgence in 1687 and the Toleration Act of 1689. The Independents gained 12 new members in 1686 and 10 or 11 in 1687; the Presbyterians began regular lectures under Charles, back in Hull, and two patens at their chapel were acquired at this time. (fn. 21) A major step forward was made soon after when, probably in 1691 or 1692, the Bowlalley Lane Presbyterian chapel was built. (fn. 22) Charles died in 1693 and Astley followed him in 1696, just failing to see a new chapel built for the Independents, in Dagger Lane, in 1698. (fn. 23) The Independent congregation then had 113 members. (fn. 24) By the end of the century, then, the two congregations were strongly established and housed in new chapels. In the early years of the 18th century several new meeting-places were registered: for the Independents they included Thomas Wallis's house, for Jonathon Bielby as preacher, in 1705, Joseph Sutton's and Sarah Jackson's houses in 1709, and George Bielby's house in 1713. (fn. 25) Outside the town itself several other houses were registered: Margaret Dent's at Newland in 1709, John Peacock's at Stoneferry and Robert Plaxton's at Sculcoates in 1713, Thomas Rogers's at Sutton in 1719, and John Spivy's, also at Sutton, in 1722. Robert Ashton (parochial curate of Bednall) e1586-1658

Ashton, born perhaps about 1586, is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably ordained deacon (? and priest) before 26 Aug 1616 when he was in office as parochial curate of Wetton. From 1623 to 1625 he was styled "reader" of Chapel Chorlton whilst probably serving as parochial curate. In 1631 he was a stipendiary curate at Colwich vicarage. He was then appointed parochial curate of Bednall. About 1638 he was styled "Robert Ashton of Bednall - minister of the gospel", when he testified to the honest life and conversation of a local preacher Humphrey Vincent ?1595-.... From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. Still in office he died, aged perhaps about 72, about Mar 1658. His nuncupative will made on 26 Mar 1658 was proved under PCC on 29 Apr 1658. Ashton may not have married.

REV. ABRAHAM ASHWORTH, Sentenced in 1808 to Three Years' Imprisonment in Lancaster Jail, for ill-treating his Female Pupils The Rev. Abraham Ashworth, a clergyman and schoolmaster, at Newton, near Manchester, was brought up to receive the judgment of the Court of King's Bench, at Westminster, in 1808, he having been convicted at the last Lancaster Assizes on two indictments: for assaulting Mary Ann Gillibrand and Mary Barlow, his scholars; and for taking such indecent liberties with their persons as greatly to hurt and injure them. Mr Scarlett addressed the Court in mitigation. The punishment, he said, the Court would feel it due to justice to inflict would be of little additional consequence to the defendant, as his ruin was already consummated; but he had a wife and six children, who had been virtuously bred and educated, and it was on their account he implored the Court not to inflict a punishment on the defendant that would render him infamous. Mr Serjeant Cockell said it was not his wish to bruise the bended reed, yet it was necessary that an example should be made of the defendant. He was a clergyman and a teacher of youth; and the prosecutors, who had acted from the most laudable motives, had abundant reasons for what they had done. They felt themselves irresistibly called upon to check the practices imputed to the defendant, and which there was too much reason for believing he had indulged in for a considerable time past. Mr Justice Grose, in passing sentence, addressed the defendant to the following effect: 'You have been convicted of an assault upon a child of very tender years; the narrative of your conduct is horrible to hear and horrible to reflect upon. The aggravations of your offence, I am sorry to say, are multifarious. The object of your brutality was a child committed to your care and instruction, and you are a clergyman and a teacher; a man grey in years, and possessing a large family. In looking to the class of misdemeanours, I know of none so horrible as the one of which you have been convicted. Of your guilt it is impossible to doubt, and that guilt is rendered more heinous by your professing to inculcate the doctrines of a religion which you have so little practised. Instead of protecting the child from the contamination of the world, you exposed her to your own licentiousness, and sought to corrupt her mind. I am shocked at seeing a clergyman standing to receive sentence for such an offence." Mr Justice Grose then proceeded to pass sentence, and adjudged that the defendant should be imprisoned in Lancaster Jail for three years, being eighteen months for each conviction. The court observed that the fear of a greater punishment befalling him prevented them from inflicting that of the pillory. [It was apprehended that he would, if pilloried, have there been killed by the enraged populace.] [INTERNET]

Aspinall, born about 1632, is of uknown parentage. He studied at Oxford where on 6 Nov 1650 he was a servitor at Brasenose College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 8 Feb 1652.3 (M.A., 2 Jul 1659). He may have been qualified as a presbyterian clergyman. On 20 Aug 1662 he was in office as parochial curate of Blurton when he subscribed to the Act of uniformity but was only ordained deacon and priest by Lichfield on (the next day) 21 Aug 1662. In 1665 he did not certify the hearth tax but was assessed on 2 hearths at Blurton township. Still in office he died, aged about 65, and was buried here on 6 Jan 1694.5. His will made on 30 Aug 1693 was proved under Lichfield on 30 Jan 1694.5. The value of his personalty is undiscovered but in his will he made bequests of about £200 which included a charitable bequest "... to buy two bibles & a pair or two of shoes [for] children in Blurton... Also the great Bible and the common prayer booke [for] use of the Chap: of Blurton... the 2d vol: of Foxes Martyrs to cossen Wm Clud [? Ralph Astle B.A. (vicar of Sandon) c1608-1666 H5
Astle, born about 1608, was a son of Ralph Astle of "Goldborne", Cheshire "gentleman". He studied at Oxford where on 20 Oct 1626 he was a "commoner" at Brasenose College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 28 Jan 1629.30. On 22 May 1630 he was ordained deacon and on 30 Mar 1632 ordained priest (both) by Lichfield. On 22 May 1635 he was licensed as a preacher by Sir Nathaniel Brent knight D.C.L. (vicar general of Canterbury) c1574-1652. On 11 Jan 1635.6 after presentation by (the lord of the manor) George Digby of Sandon esquire c1590-1675 he was instituted vicar of Sandon. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. On 30 Dec 1648 the Committee for plundered ministers granted him an augmentation of £30 to his annual salary of £26/13/4. In 1658 he certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry. Still in office as minister in early Jun 1660 he was then reinstated as vicar and, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), was confirmed in office. On 11 Aug 1662 he subscribed to the Act of uniformity. In Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of 10/0. Probably shortly after 24 Sep 1662 Astle was, jointly, appointed parochial curate (& vicar-preacher) of Tamworth but resigned on 16 Dec 1663. In 1665 Sandon vicarage was valued at £30. In 1665 he did not certify the hearth tax for Sandon constablewick but was assessed on 4 hearths. Still in office he died, aged about 58, and was buried here on 10 Jan 1665.6. Astle married on 18 Nov 1639 at Church Eaton to Mary (probably widow of John Farrington of Mitton in Penkridge gentleman c1604-1639) by whom he had 3 daughters.

chn: Christopher Atkinson (at Cambridge) 1791
Thomas Atkinson (at Cambridge) 1797

Miles Atkinson was born in Ledsham, Yorkshire, the son of Christopher Atkinson, the evangelical rector of Thorp Arch in Yorkshire. He was educated at home and Peterhouse Cambridge. After graduation in 1763 Atkinson became Curate of Leeds Parish Church and Head Master of Drighlington School. In 1768 he was appointed lecturer at Leeds and was firmly converted to evangelical views by reading Doddridge's Rise and Progress of Religion in the Soul. In 1771 he joined the Elland Clerical Society and was one of its first tutors of ordinands. Atkinson was morning lecturer at Whitchurch near Leeds (1773-80), rector of Walton on the Hill in Lancashire (1780-88), vicar of Leek (1785-1803) and of Kippax (1783-1811) where he established Sunday Schools for over 2,000 children. He also built St Paul's Leeds and served as its first minister from 1793 to 1811. Atkinson's sons Christopher and Thomas both followed him into the ministry. Edward Atwood (vicar of Harborne) e1628-?1667 H6
Atwood, born perhaps about 1628, is of unknown parentage. He is said to have studied at Oxford as a student at New Inn Hall but may not have matriculated. As a literate in Jan 1662.3 he was ordained deacon and in Jul 1663 ordained priest (both) by Lichfield. On 4 Dec 1663 after probable presentation by the dean & chapter of Lichfield he was appointed vicar of Harborne and is said to to have paid first fruits. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Harborne & Smethwick constablewick and was assessed on 2 hearths. Still in office he probably died, aged about 39, in 1667. Atwood married (? on 22 Nov 1658 at Dudley St Thomas, Worcs) to Mary (?Ward) by whom he probably had 2 daughters.

Thomas Baddeley M.A. (vicar of Eccleshall) c1603-1652
Baddeley, born about 1603, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Cambridge where at Easter 1620 he was a sizar at St John's College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1623.4 (M.A., 1627). On 24 Dec 1626 he was ordained deacon and on 17 Feb 1626.7 ordained priest (both) by Lichfield. In Oct 1627 after presentation by the bishop of Lichfield he was instituted rector of Coppenhall, Cheshire. Here he probably resigned before 20 Dec 1630 when after presentation by the prebendary of Lichfield Eccleshall then George Murray c1589-1633 he was instituted vicar of Eccleshall. On 22 Sep 1642 he was appointed prebendary of Lichfield Gaia Major. From 5 Feb 1643.4 his prebend was abolished but he continued at Eccleshall as compliant minister. In 1647 the Committee for plundered ministers granted him an augmentation of unknown value to his annual salary. Still in office he died, aged about 49, and was buried here on 15 May 1652. Baddeley married perhaps about 1633 to a woman by whom he had 1 daughter.

plundered ministers dated 28 May and 11 Sep 1647 Baddeley and the minister at Charnes had been granted an augmentation amount not stated out of the impropriate (prebend?) of Eccleshall, sequestered from Lady --- Hill, papist and delinquent, which they did not receive because £50 had been granted out of the same to the minister of Biddulph. Hence a new order was made by the aforenamed committee dated 17 Mar 1647.8, by which Baddeley was to have the first charge upon the same. (Bodl MS 325 p219) [1915 p88 91]

$Thomas Badland B.A. (presbyterian minister of Willenhall) c1634-1698 R010
Badland, born about 1634, was a son of ----- Badland of Worcester merchant c1604-.... He studied at Oxford where on 27 Nov 1650 he was a servitor at Pembroke College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 29 Nov 1653. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman when he was appointed presbyterian minister of Willenhall independent chapelry perhaps on 4 Feb 1656.7. On 20 May 1657 he was classically ordained as a presbyterian clergyman by the Derbyshire Wirksworth Classis at Wirksworth. Whilst at Willenhall he received an augmentation of £20 or £24 to his annual salary. On 10 Nov 1658 he certified the fitness of John Orford c1638-..... QV to be presbyterian minister of Arley. In Jun 1660 he continued in office at Willenhall as de facto independent curate. Between 20 Dec 1659 and 22 Jul 1661 he conducted three marriages at Wolverhampton. On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived. He may then have briefly lived in West Bromwich but during 1663 he returned to his birthplace Worcester where he lived for the rest of his life. In 1669 he preached in Worcester St Nicholas and the same year was a teacher of a conventicle probably held at the house of Thomas Smith of Worcester. In 1672 he was licensed as a presbyterian teacher at the house of (his future father-in-law) William Chetle of Worcester clothier c1626-1687. In 1687 a congregational church was founded in Worcester and Badland was the first pastor. A founding record is signed by him as pastor. Other signatories were Elizabeth Badland (? his sister), William Chetle (above), Chetle's wife Sarah and his daughter another Sarah (Badland's future wife). Chewning Blackmore was his assistant pastor from 1688 and later his successor. On 1 Oct 1689 Badland certified Warmstree House, Worcester as a place of worship for protestant dissentors. The next year he was said to have "an estate and Contribution" and to be "very ancient and almost past his labours". Still in office he died, aged about 64, on 5 May 1698 and was buried on 9 May in the chancel at Worcester St Martin. An inscribed monument was placed on the south wall of the south aisle which read "Under these seats lies interred the body of the Rev Mr Thomas Badland a faithful and profitable preacher of the Gospel in this city for 35 years. He rested from his labours, May 5 AD 1698 aetat 64 Mors mihi vita nova." His will made on 5 Feb 1693.4 was proved under Worcester on 19 Jul 1698. His personalty was valued at £753. Badland married on 28 Jan 1688.9 at Worcester to Sarah Chetle e1658-1695 daughter of William Chetle of Worcester clothier c1626-1687 and Sarah (Hall) (no known children). Calamy obtained some information about Worcestershire ministers from "a paper under the Hands of Mr. Badland". Badland was the author of Eternity, or, the weightiness of the unseen concerns of the other world, from their duration opened, proved, and applyed in a sermon preached in Worcestershire (1676). The book was printed in Worcester but published in London. [NB: In 1693 Richard White B.D. preached a funeral sermon for Thomas Baldwin of Kidderminster, Worcs minister c1628-1693 which was printed with his name (in error) as Thomas Badland.]

(1803) WILLENHALL [Chap.] [fn] Mr. THOMAS BALDWIN Junior. He was probably the son of Mr. Thomas Baldwin ejected from Chaddesley, in Worcestershire. Though he might have been expelled from Willenhall Chapel at the restoration, the proper place of his ejectment seems to have been CLENT, in this county, from 'the following account of him given by Mr, Baxter, in his own Life, Part ii. p. 92. "At Clent was silenced Mr. Tho. Baldwin." [In the Index he is called Junior.] "A godly, calm, sober preacher, of a "blameless life" - He died pastor of a congregation at Worcester, and was succeded by Mr. Blackmore". [fn] Dr. Calamy has it, Mr. THOMAS BADLAND, whose funeral sermon was preached by Mr. White, a conforming clergyman at Kidderminster. But that could not be the same person with the above, as he died at Kidderminster, and was buried there. Nor was his name Badland; nor indeed does it appear that there was an ejected minister of this name, tho' Mr. WHITE, in the above funeral sermon (now before the editor) has it BADLAND in the title page : possibly owing to the name being commonly so pronounced, or to the person's chusing to so be so called, as it is known that some of the nonconformists changed their names for the greater safety. See the account of this Mr. BALDWIN, Senior, under the article CHADDESLEV in Worcestershire. [[Calamy III (1803) p 245-6]
(1897) Fifth We now come to the name of a fifth nonconforming minister himself a native of Worcester who began to exercise his ministry immediately after the passing of the Act of Uniformity in 1663 He gathered round him as their pastor the scattered members of those Independent churches that had worshipped in the Cathedral and other parishes of Worcester during the Commonwealth and who as sheep without a shepherd were harassed fined and imprisoned because they would not attend the new establish ment nor partake of the sacrament kneeling in the Romanist manner His name was THOMAS BADLAND The family was one of high standing in the county Richard Badland an ancestor perhaps grandfather was Bailiff of the city of Worcester in 1566 and the name of John Badland occurs in the charter of the city given by James I Oct 2 1621 Thomas Badland was born in Worcester in the year 1634 He became minister of Willenhall Staffordshire in 1656. We find his name among the ministers who gave certificates to John Oxford [recte Orford] as minister of Arley in Staffordshire in 1658 (Nov 10). The names are, Henry Osland, Ri. Fincher, THO. BADLAND of Willenshall, John Wheeler, Fr. Brom wich, John Women. John Tayler. [fn. Lambeth MSS. Augmentations 999 No 415. Oxford married Elizabeth Foley of Old Swinford]. Thus he appears side by side with Richard Fincher and other well known Worcestershire ministers in recommending John Oxford. From Willenhall Thomas Badland was ejected for Nonconformity in 1662 and he came at once to Worcester his native city where he had relations and where he found a ministerial friend and brother in Richard Finche. He then was a young man of 29 years but he at once began to gather the Nonconformists to worship at the risk of fine and imprison ... Among the places of religious worship certified under the Toleration Act for Protestant Dissenters is the following "Worcester, Warmstree House, certified for religious worship of Protestant Dissenters by THOMAS BADLAND 1 October 1689" [Somerset House Large folios, Returns, Vol. VIII., Boroughs] ... The Pastor Thomas Badland was assisted for some years after the drawing up and signing of the Church Covenant by the young minister who came to Worcester in 1688 and who succeeded him CHEWNING BLACKMORE Mr Badland died May 5 1698 and was buried in the chancel of old St Martin's Church On a monument fixed to the south wall of the south aisle of St Martin's Church says Nash is the following inscription "Under these seats lies interred the body of the Rev Mr THOMAS BADLAND a faithful and profitable preacher of the Gospel in this city for 35 years. He rested from his labours, May 5 AD 1698 ætat 64 Mors mihi vita nova." [William Urwick Nonconformity in Worcester (1897)]

Charles Bagnold B.A. (vicar of Brewood) c1642-?1693
Bagnold, born about 1642, was a son of William Bagnold of Onecote "gentleman" c1616-.... and Margaret. He was educated at Macclesfield, Cheshire. He studied at Cambridge where on 16 Jun 1660 he was admitted as a sizar at Christ's College and matriculated that year. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1663. He was (presumably) ordained deacon and on 25 or 26 Jul 1663 ordained priest by Lichfield. On 27 Jul 1663 after presentation by the dean of Lichfield qua prebendary of Brewood then William Paul 1599-1665 he was instituted vicar of Brewood but had left office by 19 Oct 1664 when a successor was instituted. [He may be the man of this name who on 12 Aug 1673 after presentation by Sir John Griffith of Erith, Kent knight c1618-1677 was instituted vicar of Erith, Kent, still in office died here in 1693 and whose will was proved under Rochester, Kent in 1693.

This man may have married in 1674 at London St Katherine Coleman to Elizabeth Davis (no known children).]

Andrew Bailey M.A. (sacrist of Wolverhampton) c1596-1670 H7
Bailey, born about 1596 in ?Wolverhampton, was a son of William Bailey M.A. (prebendary of Wolverhampton Kinvaston) c1566-1633 and Margaret Plankney dau of Henry Plankney of Wolverhampton gentleman c1534-1608.

He was educated at Wolverhampton Grammar School. He studied at Oxford where on 18 Nov 1614 he was a student (? at Hart Hall) and subscribed as an anglican. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 12 Jun 1618 (M.A., 6 Jul 1621). On 12 Mar 1620 he was ordained deacon by Oxford at Watlington, Oxon and on 27 May 1621 ordained priest by Oxford pro Lichfield. On 26 Jan 1622 he was appointed a stipendiary curate at Wolverhampton and likely served until Nov 1636 when after presentation by Martin Briggs gentleman (and/or Walter Grosvenor gentleman and William Skinner gentleman) he was instituted vicar of Shifnal, Salop. Before his death in 1633 Bailey's father William qua official had arranged for a new organ to be built in Wolverhampton church at a cost of £140 for which Andrew stood as a security. Andrew was unable to pay and about July 1637 "was sued to judgment and execution upon his bond, and forced to absent himself and mortgage his land for discharge thereof, amounting to £200". As late as 1640 the matter had not been resolved. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued at Shifnal as compliant minister but in 1646 was ejected by Humphrey Mackworth, a member of Shropshire parliamentary committee, and later that year was in prison for debt. Walker records in 1714:

> "By his Adhering stedfastly to the Interest of the Church Refusing the Covenant and Preventing others from taking it he had render'd himself so obnoxious to the Prevailing Party that they not only Turn'd him out of his Living but sequestred his Temporal Estate (tho' he had then a Wife and 16 [recte 7] Children) Plunder'd him; and Burnt his Books to the Value of £300 and carry'd away at one time in Plate and Goods to the Value of £500 or more. They also Turn'd some of the Children out of Bed flung the Feathers about the House and made Bags of the Tickings to carry away what Goods they could put in them: And a Party of Horse being sent from Stafford to Apprehend Mr Baily not finding him they Threatned to put lighted Matches betwixt the Fingers of one of his Children [Daniel] who was not Ten Tears old in order to extort from him a Confession where his Father was. But tho' Providence preserv'd him at that time he after fell into their Hands and was Twice imprisoned; and to compleat their Barbarities his Numerous and almost starving Family could not obtain one Penny of the Fifths; tho possibly they were deny'd them on account of his Temporal Estate; which however I believe afterwards was no Impediment; for I find he was forc'd to Sell it (or at least Part of it) to support himself."

From 1646 to early Jun 1660 Bailey was probably not in an office. A deed of 28 Jan 1654.5 mentions the sale of a "messuage, farm, or tenement called the Oak, heretofore the inheritance of Andrew Bailey, clerk, and John Bailey his son". This was Oak Farm in Woodcote, Shropshire which had been owned by one "John Baily" about 1500. Bailey was, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), restored as vicar of Shifnal but probably resigned before 19 Apr 1661 when after presentation by the Crown he was appointed sacrist of Wolverhampton. About this time he was also appointed official of Wolverhampton. In 1665 Bailey did not certify the hearth tax but was assessed on 8 hearths at Goat Street, Wolverhampton. Still in office as sacrist and official he died, aged about 74, and was buried here on 6 Aug 1670. Bailey married about 1626 to a woman by whom he had 4 sons and 5 daughters. John Bailey (stipendiary curate at Wolverhampton) c1627-1705 was his first son. Andrew Bailey (parochial curate of Tettenhall) c1629-.... QV was his second son. Daniel Bailey (vicar of Sutton Maddock, Salop) c1637-1725 was his third son. His daughter Mary was the wife of Francis Williams (stipendiary curate at Wolverhampton) c1633-1689. [NB: Bailey is said to have bought a turn to present at Old Swinford, Worcs for £500 and subsequently received £600 from the presentee. He was born into a wealthy family but likely died a relatively poor man.]

(11 Feb 1637.8) 381:85. Petition of Andrew Bayly, clerk, to Archbishop Laud. William Bayly, petitioner's father, deceased, being official of Wolverhampton, a member of the free chapel of Windsor, and finding the organ there much decayed, and Emanuel Creswell, organ-maker, certifying that he could not repair the same, sent petitioner to Dr. Wren, then dean of Windsor, and now bishop of Norwich, to acquaint him therewith, who condescended that a new organ should be erected, and willed petitioner to use his name to the chiefest of the parish for their assistance therein, so that it was agreed that Creswell should erect a new organ for £140. Creswell began to work upon the organ, but being in want of money to buy materials, procured £100 of Henry Gough and £30 of John Hawkins, and drew petitioner to be bound with him for the same, promising that he should first collect the same to make repayment thereof. Before the organ was perfected petitioner's father died, petitioner having only collected £41/10/0 and being remediless to collect the residue in regard that divers refused to pay. The interest of the £130 petitioner has ever since paid (except £8 only), and the said £130 being unpaid, petitioner in Trinity term last was sued to judgment and execution upon his bond, and forced to absent himself and mortgage his land for discharge thereof, amounting to £200. Prays order to collect such moneys as he has disbursed, and letters missive against such as refuse to pay. [Endorsed by Sir John Lambe, "I wrote to Mr. Latham, 11th February 1637-8."] [SPD 12 p247 381:85]
(?Apr 1640) 107. Petition of Andrew Baily, clerk, to the same [Lambe]. According to your former directions to Edward Latham, upon & reference to you by Archbishop Laud, for & collection to be made among the parishioners of Wolverhampton for satisfaction to petitioner for the money he had disbursed for erecting a new organ there, the parishioners agreed petitioner should have about £100 for his disbursements, which were above £200; and the churchwardens were ordered to collect it, and they collected a great part thereof. But some part is uncollected, and lately they have desisted in its collection, and have not paid petitioner any part of what is collected. He beseeches you to direct Mr. Latham to cause the churchwardens to pay petitioner the part collected, and to collect and pay the residue forthwith, or to give such order as you think fit. (28 Jan 1654.5) Richard Waringe, then called of Woodcot, land in Frankwell, alias Frankvyle, in the occupation of himself or his tenant, near the lane leading towards Copthorne, and also the Oak farm in Woodcot, for the term of a year. This was, I presume, a lease preparatory to a release, which vested the fee in Mr Waring; for on the 28th of January, 1654, being then styled of Shrewsbury, he bargains and sells the messuage, farm, or tenement called the Oak, heretofore the inheritance of Andrew Bailey, clerk, and John Bailey his son, to Thomas Blakeway, gent., of Cronekhill, in fee for "a valuable consideration,"so it is expressed, warranting the same against his own heirs and assigns, and those of Bailey, Dorothy Barker, Elizabeth Higgins, and his mother Mary Hunt. [Blakeway Shrewsbury (1897) p496] [Oak Farm, Woodcote] The name of this house dates back to about 1500, when the Oak Farm belonged to John Bayly; it remained in the same family for nearly two centuries, when it passed to the Warings who already possessed the greater part of Woodcote. Andrew Bailey (parochial curate of Tettenhall) c1629-.... H8

Bailey, born about 1629, was 2nd son of Andrew Bailey M.A. (sacrist of Wolverhampton) c1596-1670 QV. He was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably ordained deacon and priest before 1665 when he was in office as parochial curate of Tettenhall. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Tettenhall Regis constablewick and was assessed on 3 hearths. However it appears his main residence was at Dudley Street, Wolverhampton where he was assessed on 5 hearths. Bailey married about 1654 to a woman by whom he had 2 sons and 4 daughters.

$Thomas Bakewell M.A. (?compliant minister of Rolleston) c1619-p1677 R011
Bakewell, born about 1619, was a son of Augustus Bakewell of Stanton [? Stanton-by-Bridge], Derbys e1577-.... [? and Dorothy (Bakewell)]. He studied at Oxford where on 17 Apr 1635 he was a "commoner" at Lincoln College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 23 Oct 1638

(M.A., 3 Jul 1641). About this time he was probably ordained deacon and priest. Perhaps by 1646 he had been appointed ?compliant minister of Derby St Werburgh vicarage where in 1650 he was described as "an able and pious man". Here he sometimes received an augmentation of up to £50 to his annual salary of £18. In Aug 1654 he was appointed an Assistant Commissioner for the ejection of scandalous ministers in Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire. At Derby he resigned before 13 May 1657 when after presentation by ●Oliver Cromwell qua Protector he was admitted as ?compliant minister of Rolleston rectory with an annual salary said to be £120. Whilst at Rolleston he frequently certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry. In early Jun 1660 he probably ? voluntarily resigned for a successor was instituted on 11 Jul 1660. In 1661 he was Boylston Lecturer at Burton-upon-Trent. Here he was to give a lecture every Thursday morning and was paid an annual salary of about £32 by the London Company of Clothworkers (who on 22 Jun 1648 had been given £800 by Thomas Boylston of London clothier the founder of the lectureship). He did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity on 24 Aug 1662 and was thus to be deprived. He then rented a house in Burton where he preached at a conventicle as did Thomas Ford presbyterian minister c1633-1678 QV. For this offence they were both successfully prosecuted on 22 Oct 1663 at Lichfield Consistory Court. Bakewell was suspended from officiating in the diocese and Ford was excommunicated. Both then had to appear before a local J.P. - Sir Brian Broughton of Broughton in Eccleshall 1st baronet 1618-1708 - to whom they both refused to give a security for their better behaviour. In a letter dated Nov 1663 Broughton wrote that when before the bishop "they were so saucy with him that the old priest told him he hoped one day to stand upon even ground with him. To prevent their meeting so numerously we convened them before me and demanded securities of the two parsons for their better behaviour for the future which they both refused to do, for which contempt they are committed to-day to the common gaol". On 9 Mar 1663.4 they were imprisoned at Stafford Gaol but released on 30 Sep 1664 without further imposition. Under The five mile act (31 Oct 1665), which prohibited nonconformist clergy from living in parishes where they had held a religious office since 1660, Bakewell was "was forc'd to leave his Family Wife and Children and go into a desart Place six Miles from his Habitation where he continu'd for several Months to spend his Pains among a poor People who were glad to have the Gospel preach'd to them ...". Perhaps at this time he was as Calamy records in 1702 "... Preaching about Privately in Fields and Lanes, when he was not allow'd to do it in fitter places, was follow'd by the Huntsmen with their Dogs, and was many ways a sufferer." In 1669 he was a teacher of a presbyterian conventicle held at his own and other houses in Burton. On 10 May 1672 he was licensed as a presbyterian teacher at the house of Richard Brown of Longdon; on 25 Jul 1672 as a congregational[sic, ?in error] teacher at the houses of Edward Broughton and Richard Brown of Longdon and on 5 Sep 1672 as a presbyterian teacher at his own house in Tatenhill. In 1673 he probably moved to Longdon where he was living on 3 Jul 1677 when Thomas Minors of Lichfield mercer wrote his will in which he bequeathed "And to Mr Thomas Bakewell of Langdon clerke sometimes Minister att Burton upon Trent the summe of Tenn pounds And to Mr [blank] Ford (who was formerly imprisoned together with the said Mr Bakewell of Stafford[sic]) the summe of Tenn pounds". Bakewell married about 1645 to a woman by whom he had 4 sons and 2 daughters. [NB: A man of the same name, Thomas Bakewell of London St Bride baker, was the author of A justification of infant baptism (1646).]

On 22 Jun 1648 Thomas Boylston of London clothier (perhaps son of John Boylston of Anslow) gave £800 to the London Company of Clothworkers to fund a lecture every Thursday morning at Burton-upon-Trent. By his will proved 1649 he ordered that the lecturer was to be appointed by the bailiff(s) of Burton-upon-Trent and some of the chief inhabitants "with the advice and approbation of three neighbouring Ministers hereafter named viz. my nephew John Boylston of Weston, Thomas Burdall of Walsall and Richard Bell Minister of Stafford". The lecturer's salary was to be £31/4/0. [?SOURCE] Boylston's Charity. Thomas Boylston, by his will, declared that he had in 1648 delivered to the Company 800l. for the maintenance of a lecture in the parish church of Burton-uponTrent, and to pay to a preacher for the same 31l. 4s., and to the clerk and sexton 16s. a year. This bequest is charged as a share of the purchase money of the King Street and Cheapside Estate. (See Heath's Almshouses.) The Company attribute 32l. out of the rents to this gift, and pay the amount annually to the lecturer at Burton-upon-Trent, who is now the vicar of the parish, upon a certificate that the lecture has been delivered. (1727) Pag. 628 Burton upon Trent: Mr THOMAS BAKEWELL Add, he was ejected from the Rectory of Rolleston in this County (valu'd at £120 per An in 1661) And yet I cannot find that Dr Walker has mention'd it as a Sequestration But in 1662 he was ejected from a Weekly Lecture at this Town of Burton the Stipend for which (which was £30 per Annum) was paid by the Company of Clothworkers in London Being silenc'd he rented an House in the same Parish where he preach'd after Bartholomew Day In about half a Year's Time he was cited before Bishop Hacket and upon his appearing it was charg'd upon him as a Thing highly Criminal that he should preach in his own hired House and admit others to hear him there For this (notwithstanding his former Ejectment) the Bishop in open Court suspended him ab Officio and gave Order to one of the Clerks to send a Letter of Complaint to the Justices and Deputy Lieutenants In a little Time a Warrant was issu'd out from the Magistrates and sent by the Bishops Apparitor to the Constable at Burton extra He came with the Constable upon the Lord's Day while Mr Bakewell was preaching to see the Warrant executed upon him The Constable not only took him but also Mr Thomas Ford (an ejected Minister who fometimes preach'd in his own House at Winsell but was then an Auditor at Burton) and carried them before Sir Edward B----- who presently told them that they must either be bound to their good Behaviour or go to Prison Mr Bakewell desir'd to know whether preaching in his own House would be reckon'd a Breach of good Behaviour The Justice answer'd that it was Whereupon Mr Bakewell replied he would give no Bond to tie himself from preaching and Mr Ford concurr'd with him and they were both sent to the Jail where they were detain'd ten Weeks before the first Act pass'd against Conventicles [17 May 1664] and were then releas'd without having any Thing impos'd upon them Returning home he was not discourag'd but held on Preaching When the Oxford Act [31 Oct 1665] came out Mr Bakewell was forc'd to leave his Family Wife and Children and go into a desart Place six Miles from his Habitation where he continu'd for several Months to spend his Pains among a poor People who were glad to have the Gospel preach'd to them But he was forc'd all the while to live at his own Charge and at the same Time maintain his Family from which he was separated out of that little wherewith GOD had blessed him At length he return'd home and continu'd Preaching in Burton till the Publishing of the King's Declaration for Liberty in 1672 [15 Mar 1672.3] Then he was earnestly desir'd to go to London [recte Longdon] to preach to a People who had been great Sufferers leaving Mr Ford to preach at Burton. There he continu'd in Peace as long as the Indulgence lasted But afterwards Warrants were sent to the Constables to search the Houses where the People us'd to meet and thereupon they met in Lanes and Common Grounds and Woods that they might worship GOD without Molestation But the Informers in a little Time follow'd them thither and executed upon them the Act against Conventicles And he and his People suffer'd such and met with great Hardships And yet he was one that was episcopally ordain'd He printed A Justification of Infant Baptism 1646 4to. [Calamy (1727) p775-7]

(1778) [BURTON-UPON-TRENT] BURTON upon Trent {Lecturer} Mr Thomas Bakewell. He was ejected from Rolleston (rector £120) in 1661. The stipend for this lecture at Burton (which was £30 per annum) was paid by the company of cloth-workers in London. Being silenced he rented an house in the same parish, where he preached after Bartholomew-day. In about half a year he was cited before Bishop Hacket and upon, his appearing, this was charged upon him as a thing highly criminal. For this (notwithstanding his former ejectment) the Bishop in open court suspended him ab officio, and gave order to one of the clerks to send a letter of complaint to the justices and Deputy Lieutenants. In a little time, a warrant was issued out from the magistrates, and sent by the Bishop's apparitor to the constable of Burton extra. He came, with the constable upon the Lord's-day, while Mr Bakewell was preaching, to see the warrant executed. The constabble not only took him, but also Mr Thomas Ford (an ejected minister, who sometimes preached in his own house at Winsell [?Winshill] but was then an auditor at Burton) and carried them before Sir Edward B----, who presently told them that they must either be bound to their good behaviour, or go to prison. Mr Bakewell desired to know, whether preaching in his own house would be reckoned a breach of good behaviour. The justice answered, that it was. Whereupon Mr Bakewell replied, he would give no bond to tie himself from preaching; Mr Ford concurred with him, and they were both sent to jail, where they were detained ten weeks, before the first act passed against conventicles [17 May 1664]; and were then released, without having any thing imposed upon them. Returning home, Mr B. was not discouraged, but held on preaching. When the Oxford-act [31 Oct 1665] came out, he was forced to leave his wife and children, and go into a desert place, 25[?] miles from his habitation, where he continued several months with a poor people who were glad to have the gospel preached to them, among whom he was forced to live at his own charge, and at the same time maintain his family out of the little he had of his own. At length he returned home, and continued preaching in Burton till the indulgence in 1672 [15 Mar 1672.3]. He was then earnestly desired to go to London [recte Longdon], to preach to a people who had been great sufferers, leaving Mr Ford to preach at Burton. There he continued in peace as long as the indulgence lasted; but afterwards warrants were sent to the constables, to search the houses where the people used to meet; and thereupon they met in lanes, and common grounds, and woods, that they might worship God without molestation; but the informers in a little time followed them thither, and executed upon them the act against conventicles; and he and his people suffered, much, though he had been episcopally ordained. Among other instances of cruelty, the huntsmen set their dogs upon them. Conformist's Fourth Plea page 56. WORKS: A Justification of Infant Baptism. (1924) Thomas Bakewell. Lecturer, Burton-on-Trent, 1661-2. Son of August, Staunton, Derbyshire. M.A., Lincoln, Oxford 1641 (matriculated Apr 17, 1635, age 16). vicar, St. Werburgh's, Derby, (1650)-57. rector, Rolleston, 1657-61, ejected. N.M. is mistaken in attributing to him a book entitled A Justification of Infant Baptism - this and other works were by another Thomas Bakewell, a baker in St. Bride's parish, London (Brit. Mus. Cat) - and also in saying B. went to London; it should be Longdon. (See below) [Matthews (1924) p85-8]

(1934) BAKEWELL, THOMAS. rector of Rolleston, Staffs. 1660. Adm. 13 May 1657: successor comp. 3 Oct. 1660. Afterwards held Thursday lectureship at Burton-on-Trent, set up by London Clothworkers, under bequest of Thos. Boilston. (L. 998. 31: Waters, 806: Col. 628, 775) Son of Augustine, of Stanton, Derbs. Lincoln, Oxf., mc. 17 April 1635, age 16: B.A. 1638: M.A. 1641. Episcopally ordained. V. of St. Werburgh's, Derby, 1647. Assistant to Commission for Counties of Derby and Nottingham 1654. 'Being silenc'd, he rented an House in the same Parish [Burton], where he preach'd after Bartholomew Day.' He and T. Ford (q.v.) [Thomas Ford presbyterian minister c1633-?1679) cited into Consistory Court, Lichfield, 22 Oct. 1663, for holding a conventicle at Burton: suspended from officiating in diocese, Ford excommunicated (Lichf. Records). The bishop handed the offenders over to a local justice, Sir Bryan Broughton, who wrote to Sir J. Williamson, Nov. 1663, that when before the bishop, 'they were so saucy with him that the old priest told him he hoped one day to stand upon even ground with him. To prevent their meeting so numerously we convened them before me and demanded securities of the two parsons for their better behaviour for the future which they both refused to do, for which contempt they are committed to-day to the common gaol' (C.S.P.D.). Jail delivery, Stafford Assizes, 9 March 1663-4, both committed till found security for good behaviour: discharged 30 Sept. 1664 (Ass. 2. i). Continued to preach. 'When the Oxford Act [31 Oct 1665] came out, he was forc'd to leave his Family . . . and go into a desart Place six Miles from his Habitation, where he continu'd for several Months to spend his Pains, among a poor People who were glad to have the Gospel preach'd to them.' 1669, preaching in his own and other houses at Burton. Licensed (P. and later C.) at Longdon (Calamy's 'London'), 13 May 1672: also at his house, Tatenhill. Beneficiary under will of Thos. Minors, of Lichfield, 13 July 1677 (P.C.C. 1677). Children bap. at St. Werburgh's, Derby Mary, 16 June 1648: Nicholas, 1654: Rebecca, 1655: at All Saints, Augustine, 1650. A justification of infant baptism by Thos. Bakewell, a baker, of St. Bride's parish, London, wrongly attributed to above by Calamy (B.M.C. and note by Thomason). [Calamy Revised (1934) p24]

He was the first Non-Conformist Minister to the Meeting House in Burton, which became the Congregational Church in High Street. He continued his ministry there until 1672, when he moved to London [recte Longdon]. He is said to have been buried at the back of the Chapel in High Street where the schoolroom now stands. $John Balcanquall B.D. (compliant minister of Tatenhill) c1588-1647 R012

Balcanquall, born about 1588 probably at Edinburgh, was likely a son or nephew of ●Walter Balcanquall of Edinburgh minister c1548-1616. He studied at Edinburgh. At Edinburgh he graduated M.A. on 27 Jul 1611 (B.D., Exeter College, Oxford, 2 Dec 1619). On 13 Jan 1612.3 after a request by James I to Sir John Petre he was appointed a Petrean fellow of Exeter College, Oxford and on (the next day) 14 Jan his M.A. was incorporated at Oxford. On 7 May 1613 he was elected a (full) fellow of Exeter College but resigned on 30 Jun 1618. On 19 Dec 1613 he was ordained deacon by Oxford. On 11 Mar 1617.8 after probable presentation by the Crown (James I) he was instituted rector of Tatenhill and (belatedly) on 21 Apr 1618 ordained priest by Lichfield. On 16 Sep 1628 he was nominated and on 19 Sep installed as a prebendary of Rochester, Kent. On 28 Dec 1638 he received a dispensation for plurality. This stated that he may "hold both livings for 2 years with a clause of permutation". On 9 Jan 1638.9 after presentation by the dean & chapter of Rochester he was, plurally, instituted vicar of Boxley, Kent but resigned in 1640. From 5 Feb 1643.4 his prebend was abolished but he continued as compliant minister of Tatenhill. Still in office he died, aged about 59, and was buried there on 15 Feb 1646.7. His will made on 1 Feb 1646.7 was proved under PCC on 19 May 1647. Balcanquall married first about 1619 to Mary by whom he had 1 son and 2 daughters. He married second on 18 Jun 1639 at Tatenhill to Dorothy Comberford 1614-1644 daughter of William Comberford of Comberford in Tamworth esquire c1537-a1626 and (his second wife) Ann by whom he had 1 son and 2 daughters. His daughter Elizabeth was the wife of James Mould c1620-.... who was a compliant assistant minister at Tatenhill by 1646. ●Walter Balcanquall D.D. (dean of Durham) c1586-1645 was likely John's brother or cousin.

... At Hereford he was claimed as a clerk by Bishop Orleton, who allegedly took him to London to answer in convocation for his misdeeds. A mob, claiming infringement of the city's liberties, dragged Baldock from Orleton's house, Monthalt, and lodged him in Newgate gaol where, miserably abused, he died on 28 May 1327. He was buried in the cemetery of the canons, St Paul's, London. [ODNB]

Thomas Baldwin (presbyterian minister of Clent) c1628-?1701 G4
Baldwin, born about 1628 in London, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Cambridge where on 17 May 1655 he was admitted as a sizar at Queen's College but did not graduate. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 6 Jun 1655 when he was in office as a presbyterian minister at Moseley (?parochial chapelry), Worcs. On 10 Jun 1657 after presentation by Oliver Cromwell (Lord Protector) (? and nomination by the Trustees for maintenance) he was approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers as presbyterian minister of Clent vicarage. While at Clent he sometimes received an augmentation of £10 to £30 to his annual salary and is said to have been a member of the Worcestershire Association. He certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry in 1658. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto vicar. About 1660 he writes in Clent parish register that all the children "have bin baptized as soone as borne as witnesseth him who baptized most of them ... Tho Baldwin, Vic." He was presented at the Stafford Quarter Sessions on 7 Jul 1661 for refusing to read the prayer book service ex prava et diabolica mente (i.e. from a perverse and diabolical mind). On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to The act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived. In 1669 he was a teacher of a conventicle held at the house of William Bell of Birmingham, Warwicks. On 5 Sep 1672 he was licensed as a presbyterian teacher at Rowley Regis. On 6 Jul 1689 a chapel at Birmingham, Warwicks (later known as Birmingham Old Meeting House) was licensed in the names of (its first minister) William Turton (presbyterian minister of Rowley Regis) c1629-1716 QV, Thomas Baldwin and William Fincher (presbyterian minister of Wednesbury) c1630-1691 QV. In the same year Baldwin's house at Birmingham was certified as a meeting place. The Common Fund survey of dissenting ministers taken about 1690 has under Staffordshire the entry "Ministers that have a Competent Supply - Mr Tho: Baldwin -

[ejected Minister] Of Clent - but the entry is scored out. In another entry Baldwin and Fincher are together recorded as ministers "Att Birmingham, of one Congregation well provided for each of them £30 per annum". Baldwin probably married (? on 2 Aug 1657 at Birmingham) to Elizabeth (? Sharplin) by whom he had 3 sons. After 1690 no definite record of Baldwin has been discovered. However he might be the man of this name who on 8 Oct 1701 as "Thomas Baldwyn of Birmingham Gent" made a will (to which he "makes his mark") proved under Lichfield on 1 Nov 1701. In his will he mentions his wife Sarah and their children and grandchildren ... also "my Studdye of Bookes [valued at £20] which I give and bequeath unto my sonne in Law Mr John Padgett". His personalty was valued at £372/8/10. This man was probably buried at Birmingham on 11 Oct 1701. [NOTE: Thomas Baldwin of Clent is often confused with a contemporary - Thomas Baldwin presbyterian minister of Chaddesley Corbett, Worcestershire (and later of Kidderminster, Worcs) c1628-1693 (who was born in Middlesex) - who in his will appoints a kinsman "Mr Thomas Baldwin of Birmingham" as an overseer. In 1693 Richard White B.D. preached a funeral sermon for Thomas Baldwin of Kidderminster, Worcs minister c1628-1693 which was printed with his name (in error) as Thomas Badland.]

(1803) WILLENHALL [Chap.] [fn] Mr. THOMAS BALDWIN Junior. He was probably the son of Mr. Thomas Baldwin ejected from Chaddesley, in Worcestershire. Though he might have been expelled from Willenhall Chapel at the restoration, the proper place of his ejectment seems to have been CLENT, in this county, from 'the following account of him given by Mr, Baxter, in his own Life, Part ii. p. 92. "At Clent was silenced Mr. Tho. Baldwin." [In the Index he is called Junior.] "A godly, calm, sober preacher, of a "blameless life" - He died pastor of a congregation at Worcester, and was succeded by Mr. Blackmore". [fn] Dr. Calamy has it, Mr. THOMAS BADLAND, whose funeral sermon was preached by Mr. White, a conforming clergyman at Kidderminster. But that could not be the same person with the above, as he died at Kidderminster, and was buried there. Nor was his name Badland; nor indeed does it appear that there was an ejected minister of this name, tho' Mr. WHITE, in the above funeral sermon (now before the editor) has it BADLAND in the title page : possibly owing to the name being commonly so pronounced, or to the person's chusing to so be so called, as it is known that some of the nonconformists changed their names for the greater safety. See the account of this Mr. BALDWIN, Senior, under the article CHADDESLEV in Worcestershire. [[Calamy III (1803) p 245-6]

(Shaw II p455) His name follows that of Tristram - see last note - when described as minister of Bridgnorth, so that the probable date is Nov 1655. An unnamed minister of Clent was granted by the trustees c1655 an augmentation of £10 pa (Shaw II p511) This sum was paid to Baldwin out of some Cannock property in Dec 1657 and out of some Colwich property in Apr 1659 (LMS 995 p661; 981 p21) Shortly after this date the augmentation is given as £30. (LMS 994 p142) One document states that Baldwin was admitted to this vicarage by the commissioners on the presentation of the Lord Protector on 10 Jun 1657 (sic) (LMS 998 p46), another that he was nominated by the trustees on 20 May 1658 (sic) (LMS 983 p103). He certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry in 1658 (LMS 998 p198), was ejected c1662, after which he lived at Birmingham (Calamy). Not mentioned by Auden. [1915 p66]

Andrew Tristram was succeeded at Clent by Thomas Baldwin who also does not appear in Nash's List of Vicars He was a young man some 28 years old and his name first appears in the register in 1657 certifying that a marriage had been performed by him in the parish church of Clent In 1656 the Act estab lishing civil marriages had been confirmed by Parlia ment but the clause which declared no other marriage to be valid was omitted so that a way was opened for marriages in the church which Baldwin seems prompt to have taken advantage of The births of several children of his are entered in the register and since the law required births and not baptisms to be entered the vicar evaded the difficulty by baptising all children as soon as they were born and he makes a note to this effect in 1660 after which date baptisms again are given Thomas Baldwin however found that he could not subscribe to the Act of Uniformity which came into force on St Bartholomew's Day August 24th in 1662 and was called the Bartholomew Act he resigned his living so becoming one of the ejected The last entry made by him in the register was on the 21st of July in that year as is evidenced by a change in the charac ter of the entries Calamy says of him that he was a man of a sanguine lively temper and a sweethumble affable behaviour one of very extensive charity ready to do good to the souls and bodies of those that came near him and to condescend to those of the lowest degree and that he was a solid judicious and established preacher He after leaving Clent ministered among the dissenters at Birmingham where he died Perhaps he was the son of Thomas Baldwin minister of Chaddesley Corbett who also was ejected by the same Act and settled afterwards at Kidder minster where he had been intimate with Baxter But he kept on good terms with the established Church as is shewn by the fact that when he died in February 1693 the vicar of Kidderminster Richard White preached his funeral sermon [Amphlett Clent p136]

CLENT {vicar} Mr Thomas Baldwin junior. Some time after his ejectment he exercised his ministry among the Dissenters at Birmingham, where he died. His name was long precious in both places. He was a man of a sanguine lively temper, and a sweet, humble, affable behaviour; one of a very extensive charity, ready to do good to the souls and bodies of them that came near him, and to condescend to those of the lowest degree. He was greatly mortified to the world, patiently suffering the loss of his substance. Never did any hear a repining expression drop from him upon that account; neither was he the more straitened towards the poor, when it was in the power of his hand to give. He was a judicious, solid, establishing preacher; much to be valued as a man, a Christian, and a minister. [393] LOST THIS REFERENCE

John BALL (1591-1639) was a cousin of the Rev John White 'The Patriarch of Dorchester' (1575-1648) and this and his own families background shaped his future. John White's mother was Isabel [c1550-c1601] the daughter of John BAWLE of Lichfield and she had two brothers Robert and Henry both of which entered the church. John Ball was the son of Robert Bawle and therefore well known to his aunt.

His grandfather John Bawle [Bawll or Balle] of Lichfield was a student of Christ Church Oxford in 1551 being awarded his BA on the 26 Jan 1554/5; his MA on the 20 Oct 1558; and his Bachelor of Canon Law (B.C.L.) on the 24 Jul 1564. He may have been the vicar of Chipping Sodbury in 1561, but was certainly made Canon and prebendary of Lichfield Cathedral on 12 February 1566.

His father Robert [Robertus] BAULE was educated at New College Oxford which he entered in 1569 and his uncle Henry followed in 1571.
Robert Bawle [c1552-1623] was awarded his Bachelor of Arts degree at New College on 10 June 1573 and his MA in 1577. When Thomas Barker the rector of Eastington in Gloucestershire left on 15 Feb 1581 Robert Bawle was appointed to the vacancy where he remained until his death in 1623. Easington is therefore where John Ball was born in 1591. Robert Bawle of Eastington was one of the witnesses to the Will of John White of Stanton St John (the Patriarch's father) who died before Sept 1618.

Henry Bawle [c1554-1603] of Lichfield was awarded a BA on 28 Feb 1575/6, an MA 27 Oct 1579, and a BD 4 July 1588. Some genealogical records suggest that he married a Mary Rogers c1575 in Lichfield but I have not located where this information comes from as it does not seem to link to a known marriage record. I have also been unable to locate his ordination or curacy but he was preceptor (i.e. a minor canon who administors the musical life of a cathedral) and a prebendary of Bursalis in 1582 at Chichester Cathedral. He was licensed to preach and appointed rector of Ulcombe in Kent on 2nd August the following year. He is again recorded as Preceptor of Chichester in 1587 when he became a prebendary of Owinge there. On 20 Jan 1593 he became a resident Canon at Chichister cathedral and was awaded a Doctor of Divinty on 4 July 1594. He was made an Archdeacon 14 Apr 1596 until his death. The Church of England Clergy database then suggests that he became rector of Tangmar in the deanery of Pagham in Sussex. His 'natural death' is recorded four times in the register between May and October 1603.

Birth and Education
John Ball's University records confirm that he came from Gloucestershire and that he was born in 1591. He was taught initially by his father, before following in his footsteps to New College in Oxford, which he entered on 13 October 1609. This of course was the same college that John White had been to, and I give background to the foundation of the College and its links with the Puritan movement in his short biography. John Ball was awarded his Bachelor of Arts degree on 4 June 1613 and his MA followed on 2 May 1617. Attending New College meant that he was not far from Stanton St John where his aunt Isabel lived and when John White 1550-1618 (The Patriarch's father) made his will on 30 September 1616, he acted as one of the three witnesses.
rector of St George's Church Langton Matravers (1618-1628)
John was appointed rector of Langton Matravers on 14 November 1618 and soon after arrival met and married a lady by the name of Sarah PITT. The wedding took place in her own parish church of St Mary's in Melcombe Regis on 13 January 1619/20.
The present church at Langton Matravers, which is dedicated to St.George, is possibly the 4th church to be built on the site. The west wall shows remains of a chapel built around 1290, and the tower is an addition of 1390. Unfortunately the former medieval church to which John Ball would have arrived in 1618 was taken down and reconstructed in 1829.

Rose-Troup in her book 'John White - Founder of Massachusetts' has the following to say about him:-
He was strongly influenced by Puritans of the severe school so that he was ordained by an Irish Bishop in order to avoid signing the Articles. He was keenly interested in the opinions of the exiles in Holland and New England but disapproved of the views of the Separatists. He disputed with Cotton and others and his 'Trial of the New Church Way in New England and Old' when sent to Winthrop roused a storm of anger, and a reply, very vigorous though unsatisfactory, was composed in Boston. His "Treatise on Faith," it will be seen, was used as a catechism by White in Dorchester. Ball "never utterly condemned any use of the Common Prayer Book, nor allowed Separatism because of some abuses", and therein White agreed with him.

In William Whiteway's diary there is a brief mention of him preaching to the Archdeacon on a visit to Dorchester on 29 March 1627. His "Treatise on Faith," was to be used from 1641 in the new hospital in Dorchester which was 'for setting to work the poor children of the Borough'. Apart from being taught spinning and how to remove "blacks" from knots of wool, they were to be instructed in religion according to John Balls catechism and they had to learn four verses every week.
rector of All Saints Dorchester (Dec. 1628 - May 1629)
John Ball was rector of Langton Matravers for 10 years but on 8 October 1627 another friend of his and John White's, the rector of all Saints Robert CHEEKE died. Apart from sharing their Puritan ideals Robert Cheeke had previously been Master of the 'Free School' and finding his replacement proved difficult. Samuel WHITFIELD who had acted as White's assistant for a short period was inducted into the church of All Saints on 11 Jan 1627/8 though he was only twenty seven years old, but he died in the following July. I suspect with some persuasion from John White, John Ball was 'instituted and inducted to the parsonage of All Saints on 22 Nov 1628' but he resigned it a few months later when on 7th May 1629 he was presented again to the Rectory of Langton Matravers by Sir Walter Erle . He remained there until his death.
Death
John BALL died on 4 June 1639 at Langton Matravers and his will was proved 29 April 1640. His place was taken by John White's nephew Josias White.

Ball now settled at Whitmore, a chapel of ease in the parish of Stoke-on-Trent, Staffordshire, where he served as the curate for the next thirty years. His stipend was only £20 per annum, and although he also kept a school, at which he was apparently successful, he remained poor. He bore this with great fortitude, despite lacking even a house of his own when he first moved to Whitmore. For "many years" ... he lived at Whitmore Hall as a guest of the patron of the living, Edward Mainwaring, until the latter built a small cottage for him in the village. On 4 August 1612, at Whitmore Chapel, Ball married Ellen Buckenhall, with whom he had six sons and a daughter.

George Barnsley M.A. (dependent curate of Whitmore) c1645-1724
Barnsley, born about 1645, was a son of George Barnsley of Hallam, Yorks. He was educated at Dronfield, Derbys. He studied at Cambridge where on 17 Feb 1660.1 he was admitted as a sizar at Magdalene College and matriculated in 1661. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1664.5 (M.A., 1668). By Apr 1665 after probable presentation by the rector of Stoke-upon-Trent then John Mainwaring c1605-1692 he appears to have been in office as dependent curate of Whitmore. In May 1665 he was ordained deacon and on 22 May 1665 licensed as a preacher (both) by Lichfield. In 1665 the dependent chapelry was valued at £5. In 1665 he did not certify the hearth tax for Whitmore constablewick nor was assessed there. On 3 Mar 1666.7 he was ordained priest by Lichfield. He resigned at Whitmore before 23 Sep 1670 when after presentation by Hester Honywood he was instituted rector of Markshall, Essex. He resigned here before 17 Jun 1674 when he was instituted rector of Sedlescombe, Sussex. On 8 Mar 1676.7 after presentation by Stephen Frewen gentleman he was (plurally) instituted rector of Northiam, Sussex where he resigned on 9 Mar 1692.3. On 15 May 1696 he was collated prebendary of Chichester Hova Villa (and installed 18 Sep). For a few months in 1707 he appears to have been replaced as rector of Sedlescombe. Still in office at Sedlescombe and as a prebendary he died, aged about 80, on 5 Dec 1724 and was buried on 10 Dec at Sedlescombe. An inscribed monument was placed in (or near) the church. His will made on 7 Sep 1723 was proved under PCC on 12 Feb 1724.5. Barnsley may not have married. In his will Barnsley bequeathed over £1,500 to various charitable causes and a number of books to start a library at Sedlescombe. "I bequeath unto the Society or Corporation for propagating the gospell in foreign parts £500 ... unto the Society or Corporation of the Sons of the Clergy for the reliefe of the Widows and Orphans of the poor Clergy £500 ... £500 for the education of poor children (whose parents are not of ability to pay for their learning) in the knowledge and practice of the Christian Religion as professed and taught in the Church of England in the best manner of the Charity Schools ... I give ... the following usefull Commentators viz bishop Patrick in Eleven Volumes, Nine Volumes of larger Criticks and Whitby on the New Testament for the beginning of a parochial library ...". The source of Barnsley's wealth is undiscovered.

Edward Barton B.A. (?compliant minister of Wednesbury) c1614-?1654
Barton, born about 1614, was a son of Edward Barton of Worcester e1584-.... He studied at Oxford where on 15 Jun 1632 he was a "commoner" at Balliol College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 22 Apr 1634. He was likely ordained deacon and priest before 22 Jul 1642 when he was appointed as a schoolmaster at Wednesbury and (likely), after presentation by the Crown, insituted vicar of Wednesbury. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he may have continued here as ?compliant minister. He was certainly in office here on 8 Jul 1646 when the Committee for plundered ministers granted him an augmentation of £50 to his annual salary of £20. Apparently a committed presbyterian, he signed the Staffordshire testimony of Jul 1648 as "Edward Barton Minister of the Gospel at Wodensbury". In Apr 1654 Barton complained that he had only received his augmentation for six months and begged for its continuance "as there were many poor in the parish and he had a wife and seven children to keep". Still in office Barton died, aged about 40, probably in Dec 1654 with burial requested "in the parish Church of Wednesbury". His will made on 8 Dec 1654 was proved under PCC on 29 Nov 1656. He bequeathed his son Isaac "All my Studdie of Bookes". Barton (probably) married about 1635 to Ann by whom he had 5 sons and 3 daughters. [NB: Edward Barton (rector of Grundisburgh, Suffolk) c1601-1645 was a contemporary clergyman].

(1915) oc. 1646-54 Edward Barton 12 - 12 Barton. On 8 Jul 1646 the committee for plundered ministers found that the value of this vicarage did not exceed £20 pa and that there were about 900 persons here, so it granted Barton £50 pa from the revenues of the dean and chapter of Wolverhampton in Bilston, Willenhall and Wednesfield (SPDI F1 p215; Bodl MS 323 p268) and made an order to pay all arrears of this augmentation on 26 Feb 1650.1 (Bodl MS 328 p395). In April 1654 Barton complained that he had only received this augmentation for one half-year and begged for its continuance as there were many poor in the parish and he had a wife and seven children to keep (Compounding p2485). He signed the testimony in 1648. ~~One of this name fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, M.A. 1625, B.D. 1632 (Venn).~~ [1915 p306-7]

Isaac Barton (vicar of Rushall) c1639-1678 H10
Barton, born about 1639, is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade - although it is possible that he was a graduate. On 19 or 21 Dec 1662 he was ordained (? deacon and) priest by Lichfield and also (in Dec) licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. On 22 Dec 1662 - or possibly before ordination on 11 Dec - after presentation by Edward Leigh of Rushall esquire ? 1602-1671 he was instituted vicar of Rushall. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Rushall & Goscote constablewick and was assessed on 3 hearths at Rushall. Still in office he died, aged about 39, and was buried here on 7 Jan 1677.8. His administration was granted under Lichfield on 29 Mar 1678. His personalty was valued at £16/9/7 and included "In the Studey i dore i chayre i disk i tabell 68 Bookes all £1/10/0". Barton married about 9 Jan 1662.3 probably at Walsall to Margaret Orme of Lichfield St Michael (b c1641) by whom he had 2 sons and 2 daughters.

William Barton M.A. (vicar of Mayfield) c1599-1678 [ODNB]
Barton, born about 1599, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Cambridge where during Lent 1618.9 he was a sizar at Trinity College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1621.2 (M.A., 1625). On 22 Dec 1622 he was ordained deacon and on 21 Sep 1623 ordained priest (both) by Peterborough. On 7 Mar 1630.1 after presentation by Rowland Heylin of London citizen and alderman c1562-1632 he was instituted as vicar of Mayfield but had left office by 19 Jun 1643 when it was reported "Mr. William Barton, late vicar of Mayfield, a man of godly life and able and orthodox in his ministry, has been forced to desert his flock and family by the plundering Cavaliers in Staffordshire.". By 30 May 1646 he was in office as compliant minister of London St John Zachary vicarage and in Sep 1646 (unsuccessfully) petitioned the Committee for plundered ministers for Clifton Campville rectory. He resigned St John Zachary before 21 Nov 1656 when he was appointed compliant minister of Leicester St Martin vicarage. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto vicar. Still in office Barton died, aged about 79, on 14 May 1678 and was buried on 15 May at St Martin. Barton married about 1631 to Elizabeth by whom he had 1 son and 1 daughter. Edward Barton (vicar of Welford, Northants) 1632-1695 was his son. Barton was a translator and hymnologist. His works include .... The psalms translated into english verse ... (1644); A view of the many errors and some gross absurdities in the old translations of the psalms in english metre (1654); A century of select hymns ... (1659); Four centuries of select hymns ... (1668); Six centuries of select hymns and spiritual songs ... with a catechism, the canticles and a catalogue of vertuous women (1688). This last posthumous work was edited by his son Edward.

(1915) (Mayfield) 7 Mar 1630.1 res. 1643 William Barton M. A. 5 - 5 Barton. M.A. 1625 Cambridge (Venn). A well-known writer of hymns, published a translation of the psalms in verse in 1644 and a Century of select hymns in 1659 (DNB). In Sep 1646 Barton was the minister of St John Zachary's, London, and petitioned the committee for plundered ministers for the rectory of Clifton Campville. (Add. MS 15670 p444; Roy. Comp., 2nd series, vol. xxviii p477) In 1648 he informed the commissioners for compounding that Francis the son of John Biddulph was a papist and delinquent (Compounding p1817) and in 1650 that William Orme of Hanch Hall, Longdon (see next note), was not worthy of the favour of parliament, for by the aid of his malignant tenants here he had kept in a wicked minister at Mayfield, who in Aug 1649 had preached against those who had any hand in the late King's death (Compounding p1684). Subsequently he became vicar of St Martin's, Leicester, where he died in 1678 (Simms). [1915 p191-2]

Barwick, born about 1604, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Cambridge where at Easter 1620 he was a sizar at Trinity College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1624.5 (M.A., Emmanuel College, 1634). In 1641 he was a schoolmaster at Brewood Grammar School. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman before about 1646/50 when, after probable presentation by the minister of Penkridge then Nathaniel Hinde M.A. ?1605-1673 QV (his contemporary at Emmanuel), he was in office as presbyterian minister of Stretton parochial chapelry. Here he was still in office in 1651.2. Barwick married perhaps about 1640 to Jane (d 1641) by whom he had 1 son.

William Basse (parochial curate of Marchington) e1599-?1643
Basse, born perhaps about 1599, is of unknown parentage. He was presumably ordained deacon (? and priest) before 1639 when he was in office as parochial curate of Marchington. Probably still in office he likely died, perhaps aged about 44, and was buried here on 20 Apr 1643. Basse may not have married.

Bather had a high reputation as a preacher, and published Sermons, Chiefly Practical (3 vols., 1827–40) and many miscellaneous discourses, including a funeral sermon on the death of Bishop Butler, his father-in-law, and fourteen charges delivered to the clergy of the archdeaconry of Shrewsbury. A posthumous work by him, Hints on the Art of Catechizing, was published by his widow in 1848 (3rd edn, 1852). A collection of Sermons on Old Testament Histories, selected from his parochial discourses, appeared in 1850, and a selection from his charges, On some Ministerial Duties: Catechizing, Preaching ..., was edited, with a preface, by Charles John Vaughan (1876). Bather may be regarded as an evangelical. In later life he was blind, and kept aloof from party strife, tending his parish. He died at Meole Brace on 3 October 1847. [ODNB]

Richard Bathoe (parochial curate of Patshull) ?1604-1663
Bathoe, (? christened in 1604 at Great Bolas , Salop), was likely son of Francis Bathoe of Great Bolas, Salop and Alice. He was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably ordained deacon (? and priest) before 1639 when he was in office as schoolmaster of Pattingham parish school. On (or shortly before) 20 Aug 1640 he was licensed as parochial curate of Patshull. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. On 9 Nov 1652 the Committee for plundered ministers granted (the minister here) an augmentation of £50 to his annual salary but it is not known to have been paid. In early Jun 1660 Bathoe was reinstated as parochial curate and on 21 Aug 1662 subscribed to the Act of uniformity. Still in office at Patshull (and probably at Pattingham) he died, aged about 59, and was buried on 9 May 1663 at Pattingham. No further record has been discovered. A namesake was Richard Batho B.A. (rector of Uggeshall, Suffolk) c1567-....

On 9 Nov 1652 the committee for plundered ministers granted an augmentation of £50 pa out of the tithes sequestered from Mr Giffard, recusant, to a minister here, when he should be selected and approved. (Bodl MS 328 p212) No mention of its payment is known and it is doubtful if Bathoe was ever disturbed, for baptisms took place here throughout the Commonwealth and Southall became curate on the death of Bathoe (Dioc. Daniel Bayley M.A. (rector of Stafford St Mary & Tixall) c1600-1676 H11
Bayley, born about 1600, was probably a son of Richard Bayley (later of Haughton) "gentleman" c1570-1629 and (his 1st wife). He studied at Cambridge where on 15 Jun 1618 he was admitted as a pensioner at Emmanuel College and matriculated that year. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1621.2 (M.A., 1626). On 23 May 1624 he was ordained deacon and the next day 24 May ordained priest (both) by Peterborough. On 11 Sep 1639 after presentation by the Crown he was instituted rector of Stafford St Mary. In Feb 1643.4 he refused to sign the Solemn league and covenant and was consequently ejected. On 20 Dec 1648 parliament appointed him compliant minister of Tixall rectory. In early Jun 1660 he continued here as de jure rector and, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), was confirmed in office. He was also, plurally, restored as rector of Stafford St Mary and thus displaced Noah Bryan c1635-c1672 QV. On 28 Sep 1660 he was collated and installed prebendary of Lichfield Gaia Major. On 2 Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of £1.He subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 22 Aug 1662. Before 1 Aug 1665 Bayley appointed Ralph Phillips e1636-1687 QV as stipendiary curate-in-charge of Tixall who that year certified the hearth tax for Tixall constablewick and was assessed on 4 hearths - and later succeded Bayley here. In 1665 Bayley himself certified the hearth tax for Burton & Rickerscote, Forebridge and Stafford Borough constablewicks and was assessed on 2 hearths at East Gate Ward, Stafford (having recently moved from a house with 4 hearths). By 21 May 1666 another man was placed in his office as prebendary perhaps on instruction by John Hacket (bishop of Lichfield, 1661/70) who "believed he [Bayley] was of vicious life". On 12 May 1674 after probable presentation by the prebendary of Lichfield Pipa Minor then Anthony Scattergood D.D. 1611-1687 he was, jointly, licensed parochial curate of Stafford St Chad. Still in office at Stafford St Chad, Stafford St Mary and Tixall he died, aged about 76, and was buried on 1 Aug 1676 at Stafford St Mary. Bayley married on 28 Aug 1627 at Haughton to (his step-sister) Philippa Bold - dau (? and heir) of Edward Bold of "Booden", Haughton "gentleman" 1548-1624 and Alice - by whom he had 6 sons and 2 daughters. (Alice Bold had married as her second husband on 16 Nov 1624 at Haughton to Daniel's father Richard Bayley). Bayley qua rector of Stafford St Mary was patron of the parochial chapelry of Marston (where he had probably presented Henry Tompson e1611-1666 QV about 1662). [NB: In 1595 the next turn to present at Haughton was granted by Sir Ralph Bourchier of Beningbrough, Yorks NR knight c1528-1598 to Philip Bold of London citizen and merchant c1518-1596. This turn passed to Edward Bold of "Booden", Haughton "gentleman" 1548-1624 who presented Thomas Fletcher c1594-1684 as rector of Haughton in 1620. Daniel Bayley believed in error that his wife Philippa (apparently Edward's heir) had inherited the advowson of Haughton. Daniel, Philippa and their heir apparent Bold wrongly mortgaged it in 1655 and sold it in 1666.]

John Baylie had formerly been a lecturer at St. Matthew's Church, Walsall, and was, controversially, appointed to Bloxwich by Bishop Ryder of Lichfield, who overruled the local principle of 'election by the congregation', an arrangement with Revd. James Holloway, D.D. having fallen through. Revd. Baylie became 'Perpetual Curate' at Bloxwich Chapel, and in 1842 was appointed the first titular vicar of Bloxwich, which living he held until 1865. John Bearblock (parochial curate of Bloxwich) 1639-1686 D12
Bearblock, born on 28 Sep 1639, was 1st son of Henry Bearblock of London St Botolph's Lane merchant taylor. He was educated at London Merchant Taylors School where he was admitted in 1651. He studied at Oxford where on 28 Jun 1659 he was a scholar at St John's College and matriculated but is not known to have graduated. In Sep 1663 he was ordained deacon by Lichfield. Probably later that year he was appointed (? by St John's College) as parochial curate of Bloxwich (? and thus master of Bloxwich endowed school). At Bloxwich in Dec 1664 he was ordained priest and licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Walsall Foreign constablewick (which included Bloxwich township) but was not assessed there. Still in office, he died, aged 47, and was buried here on 3 Mar 1685.6. His administration was granted under Lichfield on 10 May 1686. His personalty was valued at £6/14/10. Bearblock married about 22 Feb 1668.9 to Ann Drakeford by whom he may have had two children - perhaps 1 son and 1 daughter - who both died young.

Edward Beardmore (dependent curate of Keele) ?1619-1679 H13
Beardmore, (? christened on 3 Oct 1619 at Whitmore), was probably a son of Edward Beardmore of Whitmore "gentleman" and Isabella. He studied at Cambridge where on 9 Sep 1650 he was admitted as a pensioner at Jesus College but did not graduate. He was presumably qualified as a presbyterian clergyman about 1650 when after probable presentation by the rector of Stoke-upon-Trent then John Mainwaring c1605-1692 QV he was in office as presbyterian minister of Whitmore dependent chapelry. He was still in office in 1653 but had resigned or been removed before Jan 1661.2. In early Jun 1660 he may not have been in an office. On 20 & 21 Feb 1663.4 he was ordained deacon and priest by Lichfield and the next day 22 Feb licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. On 1 Aug 1665 after probable presentation by the vicar of Wolstanton then Isaac Keeling 1605-1679 QV he was in office as dependent curate of Keele. In 1665 he did not certify the hearth tax for Keele constablewick nor was assessed there but a man of his name was assessed on 2 hearths at Whitmore township. Perhaps still in office at Keele (but living at Newcastle) Beardmore died, aged about 60, and was buried on 31 Jan 1678.9 at Swynnerton. Beardmore may have married on 19 Nov 1650 at Whitmore to ?Grace Fenton (no known children). [NB: About 1661 a "Mr Gracecourt" is said to have been removed from Whitmore perhaps in error for Beardmore. About 1676/9 Richard Taylor B.A. e1639-1696 may have been stipendiary curate-in-charge at Keele.]

Despite the above meagre emoluments, Berdmore (brother of Richard of Whyston d. 1547 and Henry of Kingsley d. 1578) was able to leave comfortable sums to various nieces, great-nephews, etc., and in his will beautifully written in his own hand, proved 1577, "20s. to the poor of Kingsley", and "to Roger Copistack, Clarke, curate of Caldon, 3s.-4d., and a gowne and a tippit of taffetie and a paire of spectacles bound in silver", also "four grotes a yeare to be delt every Good Fridie after

$John Beardmore (compliant minister of Blithfield) c1572-1658 R015

Beardmore, born about 1573, is of unknown parentage but was probably a son of a Staffordshire "gentleman". He was only educated to literate grade. He was presumably ordained deacon before Aug 1594 when he was in office as parochial curate of Whitmore. On 27 Feb 1595.6 he was ordained ?priest by Lichfield. He was a stipendiary curate at Swynnerton from 1599 to 1604 (with a stipend of £13/11/8 or £10) and at Blithfield from Mar 1604.5. Here on 15 Jan 1610.1 after presentation by Walter Bagot of Blithfield esquire 1557-1623 he was instituted rector. He was inducted by Christopher Hunt (rector of Colton, Staffs) c1561-1651 QV on 26 Jan and read the Articles of religion at the church on 27 Jan 1610.1. About 1639 he probably appointed his son-in-law Thomas Pickin c1613-1653 QV as stipendiary curate-in-charge. On 5 Feb 1643.4 Beardmore probably continued as compliant minister and Pickin as compliant assistant minister-in-charge. Pickin probably resigned before 3 Sep 1645. By 3 Feb 1651.2 John Middleton c1616-1681 QV had been appointed (presumably by Beardmore) as compliant assistant minister-in-charge and only vacated the rectory after Beardmore's death. Whilst non-resident at Blithfield Beardmore appears to have lived at "Westcroft", Essington in Bushbury where he probably died, aged about 86, shortly before 2 Apr 1658. His will made 4 Mar 1654.5 was proved under PCC on 2 Apr 1658. Beardmore married on 14 Aug 1615 at Bushbury to Jane Everdon 1592-1671 first daughter of Edward Everdon of Bushbury gentleman 1564-.... by whom he had 2 sons and 1 daughter. His daughter Elizabeth was the wife of Thomas Pickin c1616-?1653 (above). It is probable that Beardmore was the son of a Staffordshire "gentleman" for he mentions property in Abbots Bromley in his will, his wife's personalty was about £100 and his two sons both styled themselves as "gentleman".

When he [Richard Cooke] resigned Blithfield in 1610, he was succeeded by John Beardmore, who, having been presented by Walter Bagot, Esq., was instituted Jan. 15th, 1610/1 [fn2 So states the Bishop's Certificate in First-fruits Department of Exchequer Records.], inducted Jan. 26th, and " read himself in" the following day. This he carefully recorded in the Parish Register in Latin memoranda, of which the translation is as follows :—

" Memorandum ; that I John Beardmore, Clerk, was inducted in the real actual and corporal possession of this Church and Rectory of Blithfield, and of its entire rights and belongings, according to the form of law, on the twenty-sixth day of January in the year of our Lord 1610, by Christopher Hunt, Clerk, and rector of Colton.
in the presence of (signed) Lewis Bagott. Humfrey Warner. &c. &c."
" Memorandum also, that on the Sunday next following viz. the twenty-seventh day of January, in the year of our Lord 1610, I the aforesaid John Beardmore, in the face of this Church of Blithfield, during Divine Service while the larger number of people was present to hear the same Divine Order, publicly, deliberately, and solemnly published, declared, and read the Articles of Religion (which were agreed upon in the Synod of London with the assent of the Archbishops Bishops and Clergy of both Provinces of Canterbury and York in the year of our Lord 1562, published with the King's authority and assent, for the removing of variety in opinions, and strengthening the true uniform Christian Religion" (Names of witnesses follow.)

This, however, was not the first appearance of Beardmore upon the scene, for he signs the Register of Burials of 1605 as " Minister " ; and from the handwriting of the Baptism entries it may be gathered that he became Cooke's Curate in March 1604/5, succeeding the Henry ----- already mentioned. It is probable that he was Curate of Whitmore Chapel, Stoke, in 1595, when he is described by the Puritans as being "no preacher and without a degree" [fn1 There was, however, another John Beardmore, who was curate at Kingsley in 1571.] He signs the Stoke Register as "Clerk" in 1595. Since 1599 he had been Curate of Swynnerton, but on the appointment of Stockell [recte Stocket] Lutwich to that Rectory, on Oct. 3rd 1604, his services there probably came to an end. It is not known what it was that terminated his connection with Blithfield, but it appears from the Register of 1639 that Thomas Picken married Elizabeth Beardmore on Nov. 4th of that year, and about this time became Curate. Picken baptized a daughter Nov. 22nd 1640, and remained in charge of the Parish till 1645. His wife was buried at Blithfield Nov. 24th 1640 and his daughter Elizabeth Feb. 1644/5. On Sep. 3rd 1645 he was instituted rector of Swynnerton, for which, benefice he paid " first-fruits " May 19th 1647 ; but a certain Puritan Minister, Joseph Sond [fn3. Brit. Mus. Add. MSS. 15671, folios 162 and 240. On July 24 1647 the " Commissioners for plundered ministers " enquired into a complaint made by Joseph Sound, who asserted that he had been settled into the Rectory of Swynnerton. They ordered that he should be confirmed in the possession of that Rectory, unless Picken could show cause to the contrary before November 9 1647. Apparently he did show such cause, for he was still incumbent of Swynnerton in 1651-2, and Sond became Curate of Newcastle, where he remained till April 24 1654, when Oliver Cromwell presented him to the Rectory of Swynnerton. (Lamb MSS. 997, p. 109.)] was in July 1647 endeavouring to oust him.

The following two extracts from an old Blithfield Tithe-Book are in John Beardmore's handwriting :—

A MEDICINE AGAINST SYNEWE SPREANS OR OTHER ACHES IN THE LYMES.

" Take a handful of ffether-few, a handful of wormwood, a handful of mugworth, a handful of camamile, half a handful of elder leaves, half a handful of dog-fennel, a little red fennel, put all these together, wash them cleane, but wringe them not, and being washed, chop them with a hackinge knyfe, as smale as you can. Then take half a pownd of fresh butter, with new had salt in it, and half a pownd of gaults grease, then sett the hearbes upon a soft charcole fyre, and put to them as much of the butter and grease as will only keep them moist in the boylinge, and so boylinge the hearbes sloly, put in still of butter and grease so much as shall be needful until the liquid substance be made stronge of the hearbes. Then take it of the fyre, and straine the moysture from the hearbes, and take of that moysture and anoynt the place grieved, and when you anoynt it stroake it upwards, having so donne take the hearbes and spread them on a lynen cloath, and bynd that pultisse upon the place where the partie feeleth most paine, let the partie goe to bed and kept there all night and ontill the next daye at hoone, and if the patient can endure longer it will doe well to lye until night, and the pultisse will do more good. Then take away the pultisse and anoynt the place everye night with the moysture, after having first warmed it in a sawser, and he shall fynd ease by the helpe of God."

The other entry is a form which he was probably in the habit of using when helping his parishioners to make their wills :—

" In the name and to the honoure of God Almighty 3 in one and one in three blessed for evermore. I etc. the weakest and unworthiest of all that take on them the profession of God's feare, and knowinge and wayghinge the common condicion of human frailty and not proposing to dye intestate beinge of sound mynde and perfect memorie (praised be God) doe advisedly and irrevocably make and ordayne this my last will and testament in manner and forme following : First of all I give and bequeath my sinful soul into the hands of Almighty God, that gave it and bought it with a pryce above all pryce, and sanctified it freely, though imperfectly, and will in due tyme gloryfie it in his everlasting kingdome. Item I give my body to the earth from whence it came, and to be buried in such seemly and convenient place and manner as my execs. shall think fit, in sure and certain hope of resurrection to life eternall at the last day. " And from niy worldly goods &c."

There is no record as to what spiritual ministrations (if any) were provided for Blithfield between 1645 and 1658 ; but it appears from the Parish Register that in the latter year Mr. John Middleton was acting as " Curate". He also occurs as "Minister" here, with " 10.19.02." [fn1 presumably, October 19th 1602] after his name, in a return of the names of ministers ordered on Nov. 28th 1651 by "the Keepers of the lib'tie of England, by authority of Parliament " and "sent to the Sheriff of Staffordshire for the use of the Barons of the Exchequer." The return was made on, or before, Feb. 3rd 1651/2. [fn2 Exchq. First Fruits, Return of Benefices, etc., Temp. Commonwealth, at P.R.O.]

On Aug. 4th 1658 Richard Harrison, M.A., was instituted rector ....

Henry Frederick Beckett (Chancellor of Bloemfontein, South Africa) c1816-1885
Whilst Curate at Elford, Mr. Beckett, who held a place among my oldest friends, was a frequent visitor at Aldridge, and took part in the services of the church. He was rarely absent from our church and school Anniversaries in years gone by — pleasant, happy, and we may hope, profitable days, when those educated in our schools found their way home from service or other occupations for special worship in their Parish Church, and a day's innocent recreation and merriment.

When, in 1866, he determined to devote the remainder of his life to missionary work in South Africa, and paid a parting visit to us on the Sunday after Christmas, preaching twice on the subject of the work which lay before him, we devoted to the furtherance of that work the proceeds of the offertory, which amounted to upwards of £18, and I well remember how highly he appreciated the kindness and liberality of the congregation.

They who remember him will be interested in reading the following summary of the life and labours of this devoted priest of the Holy Catholic Church, which I have extracted from a South African paper The Friend of the Free State and Bloomfontein Gazette of January 26, 1885. Such missionary labours are deserving of permanent record.
"The Church of England in this Diocese has sustained a severe loss in the death of Canon Beckett, who was taken to his rest on the afternoon of last Sunday. As one of the oldest clergymen of the Bloomfontein Church Mission, the Canon was well known and highly respected in this city in times past, and his memory will be long cherished in the district where his ministry was chiefly exercised. When he came to this country, in 1867, he brought the experience of an already lengthened ministerial career in important parts of England, especially at S. Saviour's, Leeds, where he took charge at a difficult crisis, and made valuable friends, who will mourn his loss. The Church here was very undeveloped when he undertook the work, which he ever since carried through with a rare devotion and self-denial; and the peculiar character of his work made severe demands on both his mental and bodily faculties. A new experiment, the establishment of a Missionary Brotherhood, was undertaken, with the view of meeting the difficulties of a country in which economy and united work are main elements of success. The Canon undertook the formation of the new community, and continued at its head until the arrival of Father Douglas, in 1879, when he resigned his charge, still remaining a member of the Society. The Brotherhood first resided at Springfield, near this town, afterwards at Thaba Nahu, where the Church Mission House, etc., were erected by their exertions, and finally settled at Modderpoort, on two farms, purchased for them in the conquered territory. The district at the time was unsettled, and the whole necessary work of building houses and offices, enclosing lands, etc., was begun under circumstances which involved much hardship to all concerned. Shortly after, Canon Beckett began the work of itinerating through the north-eastern districts of the State, where he continued for many years, collecting congregations for periodical services in the villages, and at conveniently-situated farmhouses. Those only who know what travelling and accommodation were in the early days, and how rough things were even in the small towns, will understand how much fatigue, and sometimes danger, such a ministry involved: but it brought him into contact with the growing populations, and one result has been the establishment of nourishing congregations in Harrismith, Bethlehem, Lady Brand, and Masera, with good churches and parsonages, and a complete system of itinerating. The Community Houses at Moddenpoort (now S. Augustine's), with a handsome chapel, were built during this period; extensive lands enclosed, and a garden made. The whole establishment has been largely developed since, but the foundation of the pleasant and welt-ordered house, stretching along the picturesque hill-side, well-known to many as a place of hospitable welcome and rest, is due to him. Canon Beckett graduated at Cambridge, B. A. 1840, M. A. 1844. He was ordained deacon by the Bishop of Ripon in 1840; priest by the Archbishop of York in 1841, so that he died in the forty-fifth year of his ministry; installed Canon of Cumbrae in 1852, and of the Cathedral of this diocese in 1867. He held the office of Chancellor of the Diocese for some years, and up to a few months before his death was Rural Dean of the North-eastern District. Increasing infirmities for some time withdrew him from active work, and for the last two or three years he was unable to leave S. Augustine's, though he continued, as long as strength permitted, to officiate and preach in the chapel. The last time he visited Bloomfontein was in January, 1880, when he attended the Diocesan Synod. Men like Canon Beckett, who carry out the tradition of English thoroughness, patience, and practical self-reliance, are a loss to any community. If for nothing else, the example of one who never let any undertaking he once began fail through lack of perseverance and energy, and was never discouraged by difficulty, is most valuable in the present day. A priest of the old type, a courteous and upright gentleman, he has left behind the memory of a blameless life and unselfish work. The Canon died in his sixty-ninth year. His remains were interred in the Cemetery of the Community."

In the same paper, March 15th, appeared an interesting account of his burial. The large number attending the service, whites and natives, about 400, testified in no slight degree to the love and esteem in which he was held. In the quiet little graveyard of S. Augustine's, he lies under the shadow of the Church he built, close to the Mission he erected, amid the trees he planted; he rests amid his labours.

$Henry Bee B.A. (presbyterian minister of Hanbury) c1630-1675 R016
Bee, born about 1630, was second son of Henry Bee of Stapenhill in Burton-upon-Trent, Derbys yeoman c1597-1671 and Margery. He studied at Cambridge where he is said to have matriculated in 1646 before he was admitted as a sizar at Trinity College on 14 May 1647. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1650.1. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman before 16 Nov 1652 when he was in office as presbyterian minister of Ruddington, Notts. Here he probably resigned before 10 May 1654 when after presentation by ●Oliver Cromwell qua Protector he was approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers as presbyterian minister of Hanbury vicarage. Here the Trustees for maintenance granted him an augmentation of £20 to his annual salary of (probably) £80. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto vicar. In Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of 10/0. On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived. In 1669 he was likely head of a conventicle held at his own house in Burton-upon-Trent and is recorded as teaching at Hanbury, Newborough and Hugglescote & Donnington, Leics. C*alamy* records in 1723 that Bee was " A good preacher ... He, with other ministers, was cast into Stafford jail for Nonconformity". On 5 Sep 1672 and then still living in Burton-upon-Trent (at Stapenhill) he was licensed as a congregational teacher. Bee died, aged about 45, and was buried on 10 Jun 1675 at Barton-under-Needwood. His administration was granted under Lichfield on 17 Jun 1675 to (a younger brother) Daniel Bee (vicar of Cardington, Salop) c1635-1720 who was also to oversee the education of Henry's children. His personalty was valued at £71/7/0 and included "It his Library £10". Bee married on 10 Apr 1655 at Uttoxeter to Alice Burton by whom he had 2 sons and 1 daughter. Henry Bee (rector of Troston, Suffolk) 1655-1714 was his older son who like his uncle Daniel was anglicanly ordained.

$John Beeby (?presbyterian minister of Kingstone) e1622-.... R017
Beeby, born perhaps about 1622, is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman shortly before 28 May 1652 when he was appointed ?presbyterian minister of Kingstone independent parochial chapelry. On that day the Committee for plundered ministers granted him an augmentation of £40 to his annual salary of about £10 pa. His first discovered successor - Thomas Orton c1639-?1701 QV - was not appointed until 1662 or 1663. [NB: John Beebee (presbyterian minister of Sheldon, Derbys) e1626-?1697 was a contemporary clergyman.]

(1915) 1652 John Beeby 10 - 10 Beeby. On 28 May 1652 the committee for plundered ministers granted him £40 pa from the rectory of Colton, sequestered from Lady Aston, recusant, as his income did not exceed £10 pa (Bodl MS 328 p148; SPDI F2 pt ii p505, 507). One of this name was minister at Tidswell till 1660 and afterwards at Sheldon, Derbs., till ejected in 1662 (Calamy) [1915 p138-9]

(1778) Mr. Beebee. He was a student at Oxf. when K. Charles I. was besieged there, and then left the university travelled on foot into the North to his father's house and there applied himself close to his studies. After some time he was ordained and sent into Scotland as chaplain to the regiment of Col. Knight [Sir Ralph Knight knight 1619?–1691 (knighted May/June 1660)] in Gen. Monk's [George Monck 1st Duke of Albemarle 1608-1670 (in Scotland 1654 on)] army where he continued several years. He was a strong man and had a loud voice a quick invention and a great memory and so was very well fitted for field-service. He was much employed in praying and preaching in his own regiment and sometimes before the General and the whole army which appeared to be much to the satisfaction both of the General and of Col. Knight.With them he came into England and they brought in the King [1660] who knighted the Col. who was also Justice of Peace. Mr Beebee used frequently to preach at his house after the Restoration but whether he continued in his family till the act of uniformity passed doth not appear. Not being satisfied to conform he after some time went into Shropshire and lived with a relation at Rowley Hall near Bridgnorth and practised physic preaching occasionally in the neighbouring parts and particularly at Guarnal in Sedgely parish in Staffordshire where he took his turn statedly with some others. He preached afterwards at Stourbridge and from thence was called to be pastor of a congregation at Cirencester in Gloucestershire where after some years he died. He used to take great pleasure in discoursing, with his familiar acquaintance, of the secret transactions in Gen. Monk's army in Scotland, and of the subtle contrivances of the General Col Knight, Mr Nic Monk a minister, his brother in law Mr T Clarges, and a few more, in order to the Restoration of Charles II. But the after disappointment made such an impression upon him, (as well as many others) that he could not wear it off to his dying day. [Calamy (1778) p638]
(1934) BEEBY or BEEBEE, John. vicar of Tideswell, Derbyshire. 1660. Presented 2 Dec. 1656: successor signed register 2 Dec. 1661. Beeby must have been absent for some time from living on account of his army service, for which see below. According to Calamy removed to Sheldon where ejected 1662. (L. 983 . 26: J. M. J. Fletcher, Vicars of Tideswell, 101: Cal. 204. Cont. 236, 1000) 'He was a Student at Oxford (not in Al. Oxon.) when King Charles I was besieg'd there, and then left the lJniversity and travell'd on Foot into the North, to his Father's House, and there applied himself close to his Studies. After some time he was ordain'd to the Ministry.' Perhaps C. at Kingston, Staffs., in May 1652 (S.P. 22. 2 505) . 'Sent into Scotland, as Chaplain to the Regiment of Colonel Knight, in the Army of General Monk . . . and continu'd there many Years. He had a strong Body and Lungs, and a loud Voice, a quick Invention, and a great Memory; and so was very well fitted for Field-service. He was much ernploy'd in praying and preaching in their own Regiment, and sometimes before the General, and the whole Army . . . which appeared to be much to the Satisfaction, both of the General, and of Colonel Knight. With them he came into England, and they brought in the King, who Knighted the Colonel, who was thence forward Sir Ralph Knight [of Langold, Yorks., see Miller, Doncaster, 128 ff.]. At his House, though he was Justice of Peace, Mr Beebe us'd frequently to preach after the Restoration.' Licensed (P.) at Tideswell, 1672. Kept a fast with O. Heywood (q.v.), at Firbeck, Yorks., April 1684 (Hunter, Heywood, 326). Before or after this removed into Shropshire, 'and liv'd with a Relation at Rowley hall, near Bridgnorth, and practis'd Physick, preaching occasionally in the neighbouring Parts, and particularly at Guarnal [i.e. Gornal], in Sedgely Parish in Staffordshire, where he took his Turn statedly with some others. He preach'd afterwards at Stourbridge, and from thence was call'd to be Pastor of a Congregation of Dissenters at Cirencester in Gloucestershire'; there in 1690. Admon. (P.C.C.) 7 Sept. 1697, to widow, Rebecca. Also admon., 27 Jan. 1700-1, to Joseph Beeby, uncle and guardian of John's only child, Joseph. Calamy notes (1727) that he 'had some Conversation with him above thirty Years ago', and that he 'us'd to take great Pleasure in discoursing ... of the secret Transactions in General Monk's Army'. W. Bagshaw (q.v.) pronounces him both at Tideswell and Cirencester 'industrious, apt to teach, and well esteemed, one thing was less satisfactory to his Brethren that he married his Brother's widow' (De Spiritualibus Pecci. 55) [Matthews (1934) p44-5]

$Thomas Beiston (parochial curate of Tettenhall) c1586-1652 R019
Beiston, born perhaps about 1586, is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade. He is probably the man of this name who was a reader at Woodcote, Salop on 26 Aug 1616 and at nearby Church Aston, Salop on 6 Sep 1616. He may be the man of this name who on 31 May 1618 was ordained priest by Gloucester at Gloucester. In 1620 he was licensed as parochial curate of Tettenhall. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. Here he sometimes received augmentations of £15 and £30 to his annual salary. On 4 Feb 1648.9 Richard Harrison c1611-1676 QV was appointed Beiston's compliant assistant minister (and later succeded him as minister). Still in office Beiston died, perhaps aged about 66, on 31 Dec 1652 and was buried there on 1 Jan 1652.3. An inscribed monument - a gravestone with a plate of brass - was placed in the middle aisle of the church which read "Here lyeth the body of Mr. Thomas Beiston, late curate of this church, who died the last of December, A. D. 1652: he died old, and full of days.". His will made on 20 Feb 1650.1 was proved under PCC on 23 Feb 1653.4. Beiston may not have married.

(1652, Tettenhall) Upon a grave-stone, in the middle aile of the church, is a plate of brass, whereon is this inscription: "Here lyeth the body of Mr. Thomas Beiston, late curate of this church, who died the last of December, A. D. 1652: he died old, and full of days." (This is now destroyed.) [Shaw (1801) p195] ... The Ashmolean Museum appears to have a rubbing of a brass to him at Tettenhall [MS I 1694] ... The curious memorial brass of the Rev. Thomas Beeston, late Curate of this church, has undergone some strange vicissitudes for, erected in 1652, it was used again in 1694 to serve as a memorial to "Hannah Wollaston, of the Hollese, Prescott." ... What induced Hannah Wollaston's husband to purloin this brass and use it as a memorial for his wife's grave, I have no means of finding out, but the fact remains that he did so. The brass was reported by the Rev. S. Shaw, on his visit to the church in 1797, as being "now lost." It was discovered again during the restoration of the church in 1883, and is now affixed to the east respond of the nave, near the lectern, where the two inscriptions can be clearly seen.

$Richard Bell B.A. (presbyterian minister of Stafford St Chad) 1615-1686 R020
Bell, christened on 9 Apr 1615 at Crosby Garrett, was a son of Humphrey Bell of Crosby Garrett, Westmorland c1574-.... He studied at Oxford where on 9 Nov 1632 he was a "commoner" at Queen's College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 30 Jan 1637.8. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman before about 1645 when he was active at Oldbury, ?Worcs. In his will he bequeathed £1 to the "poore of the Neighbourhood of Oldbury it being the first place where I exercised my Ministry". By 1648 he was in office as presbyterian minister of Stafford St Chad independent parochial chapelry. Here his salary may have been £25 pa. Apparently a committed presbyterian, he signed the Staffordshire testimony of Jul 1648 as "Richard Bell Minister of Gods Word in Stafford". He was probably still in office in the winter of 1651.2 but later in 1652 having refused the Engagment was removed by ●Henry Danvers c1619-c1687 then Governor of Stafford. On 4 Jul 1654, after recommendation by ●Sir Francis Nethersole of Polesworth, Warwicks knight 1587-1659, he was admitted presbyterian minister of Polesworth vicarage, Warwicks. On 24 Oct 1657 he was an Assistant Commissioner for the ejection of scandalous ministers in Warwickshire. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto vicar. On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived. Calamy records in 1713: "... after this last Ejectment, he had no place left him to preach at, with Satisfaction to his Conscience. And therefore his Mouth being stop'd here, he quietly set up his Staff, and spent his Time in profitable Conversation with Mr. Samuel Hildersham, who, with others, found a Refuge ... at Erdington near Bromicham [Birmingham]." On 8 May 1672 he was licensed as a presbyterian teacher in the houses of Edward Eaves, George Fowler and Elizabeth Deakin (or Deale) at Walsall and on 10 May 1672 (then styled "[of] Stafford") at "A house neer the Colledge in Manchester". On 17 Sep 1686 when he wrote his will Bell was living at Aldridge (just east of Walsall) and died, aged 71, soon after. His will made on 17 Sep 1686 was proved under Lichfield on 8 Oct 1686. In his will he bequeathed to his wife "such English books in my studdy as she hath a mind to chuse". His personalty was valued at £336/0/4. This included a library valued at £80. Bell married first perhaps about 1645 to ?---? Cross (no known children). He married second perhaps about 1665 to Elizabeth (no known children). (1713) Pollesworth : Mr. Bell. He was a Man whose Zeal and Solidity rais'd him up Enemies, among Men of unsteddy Principles. He was formerly of Stafford; but Col. D ---- could not be at ease 'till he had driven him from thence. He was turn'd out there, for not taking the Engagement. In those Days when pious Ministers were Persecuted in one City, they could flee to another, and have Peace with liberty of Preaching. When Mr. Bell was thus cast off, Sir Francis Nethersole got him to be Pastor of Pollsworth, which was the place where he resided. And all the World will own Sir Francis knew and valu'd a Scholar. Mr. Baxter, (in a Letter to Dr. Good, which is inserted in his Apology for the Nonconformists Ministry) says of this Mr. Bell, that he needed no other Testimonial of his Loyalty, than that he was Pastor to this Sir Francis, who wrote so much against the Parliament, and was their Prisoner at Kenelworth Castle almost all the Wars. But after this last Ejectment, he had no place left him to preach at, with Satisfaction to his Conscience. And therefore his Mouth being stop'd here, he quietly set up his Staff, and spent his Time in profitable Conversation with Mr. Samuel Hildersham, who, with others, found a Refuge in that Neighbourhood, at Erdington near Bromicham. [Calamy (1713.2) p743]
(1778) POLESWORTH, [V. £30] Mr. Bell. His zeal and solidity raised him up enemies, among men of unsteady principles. He was formerly of Stafford, but Col. D --- could not rest till he had driven him from thence, viz. for not taking the Engagement. Sir F. Nethersole got him to be pastor of Polesworth, where he himself resided. Mr. Baxter says of Mr. Bell, that he needed no other testimonial of his loyalty, than that he was pastor to this Sir Francis; and this is equally a proof of his learning also. After this last ejectment he remained silent, and spent his time in profitable conversation with Mr. S. Hildersham, who, with others, found a refuge at Erdington, near Birmingham.

(1803) POLESWORTH [V. £30] Mr. Bell. His zeal and loyalty raised him up enemies, among men of unsteady principles. He was formerly of Stafford, but Col. D---- could not rest till he had driven him away, for not taking the Engagement. Sir F. Nethersole got him to be pastor of Polesworth, where he himself resided. Mr. Baxter says of Mr. Bell, "That he heeded no other testimonial of his loyalty, than that he was pastor to Sir Francis; and this is equally a proof of his learning also." After this last ejectment he remained silent, and spent much of his time in profitable conversation with Mr. S. Hildersham, who, with others, found a refuge at Erdington, near Birmingham. (1915) oc. 1648-52 Richard Bailey 6 - 6 Bailey, Bell. Possibly educated at Cambridge (Venn). Signed testimony in 1648. On 1 Jul 1646 the committee for plundered ministers stated that the salary of the minister here was only £25 pa and ordered some augmentation to be made to it (Bodl MS 323 p267). This does not seem to have been done, for in Feb 1657.8 the mayor and inhabitants of Stafford say that this minister has but £16 pa and beg that it may be augmented by £30 pa (SPD CLXX, 19, 62). The trustees granted an augmentation of £40, but the name of the recipient is not known (LMS 981 p22, and 994 p142). [1915 p239]

Thomas Bentley (parochial curate of Rocester) 1619-1647
Bentley, christened on 2 Mar 1618.9 at Dilhorne, was 1st son of Thomas Bentley of Whitehurst in Dilhorne ?yeoman c1588-1625 and Margaret (Pyott). He studied at Oxford where on 8 Dec 1637 he was a "commoner" at New Inn Hall and matriculated but is not known to have graduated. By 25 Mar 1640 - only just aged 21 and not known to have been ordained - he was apparently in office as parochial curate of Rocester and signed the parish register as "Curat". From 5 Feb 1643.4 he probably continued here as compliant minister. In 1645 an entry in the parish register reads "Thomas Benteley entred minist'r ye 1st June". In his will, written on 16 Jan 1645.6, Bentley is styled "of Stubwood of the parish of Rocester (minister ibid)". Still in office he died, aged about 28, and was buried "of Marlepitt" on 15 Mar 1646.7 at Ellastone. His will made on 16 Jan 1645.6 was proved under Lichfield on 19 Oct 1649. His personalty was valued at £19 and included "Item all his bookes £1/6/8". Bentley married on 23 May 1639 at Ellastone to Elizabeth Hill dau of John Hill (then vicar of Ellastone) e1581-.... QV and (his 1st wife) Elizabeth by whom he had 1 son and 1 daughter. His father-in-law John Hill had succeded him in office by 16 May 1647.

James Beresford, LL.D., was one of the sixteen sons of Thomas Beresford, of Fenny Bentley. He was a distinguished scholar of his time, and was in early life tutor to the children of Sir John Leake, of Sutton Scarsdale. He was also eminent as a pluralist. In 1484 he was instituted vicar of Chesterfield, which preferment he held till his death. In 1497 he was made rector of Matlock, which he resigned in favour of Wirksworth vicarage in 1504. He was one of the learned canons promoted by Bishop Halse in 1507, holding the prebend of Prees at Lichfield Cathedral up to his decease. In 1512 he founded a chantry in his native church of Fenny Bentley; he founded two scholarships and two fellowships at S. John's, Cambridge; he also contributed largely to the repairs of his parish churches of Chesterfield and Wirksworth, and of the cathedral at Lichfield, where he was buried in July, 1520. See further accounts of him under the various Derbyshire churches here mentioned. [COX IV 453]

Samule Beresford was the son of Thomas Beresford or Basforde, carpenter, and his wife Sarah, and was baptised at St Alkmund's, Shrewsbury, Shropshire, on 21 June 1629. Beresford attended Queens' College, Cambridge, where he graduated BA and MA in 1652 and 1655 respectively. Ordained in 1652, he originally assisted his uncle Thomas Blake, pastor at Tamworth, Staffordshire, where on 12 May 1652 he married Penelope Wagstaffe (d.1683), the daughter of John Wagstaffe, husbandman, of Fazeley. Briefy vicar of Aston in Warwickshire in 1656, he transferred to the parish of St Werburgh's, Derby the following year and continued there until his ejection in 1662. A reluctant nonconformist, he continued to preach (as a Presbyterian) to congregations in Shrewsbury, Shifnal and later in Staffordshire. According to Calamy, he was 'a skilful Physician; tho' in giving his Advice he confin'd himself to particular Friends'. His medical interests may have been stimulated by his brother-in-law Gerald Wagstaffe who practised as a surgeon at Tamworth until his death in 1683. The latter named Beresford as joint executor of his will in that year. By the 1670s, he was living at the house of Sir Thomas Wilbraham of Weston under Lizard, Staffordshire where he died and was buried on 11 October 1697.
In a lengthy will, Beresford, who died childless, made provision for his second wife Elizabeth (otherwise unidentified) and left various properties at Shrewsbury and Worfield, Shropshire, to her and various kinfolk. He also left an annuity of £10 pa and a copy of the 'London annotations on the Bible in two volumes in English' to his 'good friend' Joshua Simonds, apothecary, of Shrewsbury.

At this time, and until 1782, the Rev. Edward Best was vicar of Wednesbury and incumbent of Bilston, a Christian gentleman and county justice, who 'scorned to arouse the brutal passions of his parishioners against' Wesley (Meth. Rec. March 21, 1901)] I rejoiced to find so great a change. Since he has known the pardoning love of God he has been swiftly going on from faith to faith, and growing not in knowledge only, but in love. John Betts (parochial curate of Edingale) e1615-1677
Betts, born perhaps about 1615, is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade. (He may be the "John Bett" who was likely ordained deacon before 8 Oct 1639 when he was appointed master of Bucknall parish school.) On 19 Aug 1662 Betts was in office as parochial curate of Edingale when he subscribed to the Act of Uniformity. (Here his last known predecessor was appointed on 1 Jan 1646.7 but it is not known how long he served). At Edingale Betts' successor was appointed on 4 Feb 1662.3. Betts may then have been appointed stipendiary curate-in-charge of Kings Bromley where he certified the hearth tax in 1665. Here Brutus Ottey c1605-1666 was parochial curate from 1662 until his death in Feb 1665.6. On 21 Jun 1666 Betts was licensed as parochial curate of Kings Bromley. Still in office he died, aged perhaps about 62, and was buried here on 8 Aug 1677.

The Revd Rod Biddle, rector of Newport with Longford, Chetwynd and Forton died yesterday after a short illness, he was 61. Rod Biddle spent his entire ministry in the Diocese of Lichfield; having served a three-year Curacy at Penn from 1985; before moving to St George's Shrewsbury, firstly as Priest in Charge then as Incumbent. During this time he also served as Priest in Charge of Bicton, Montford with Shrawardine and Fitz; and was Rural Dean of Shrewsbury from 1991 to 1997. He also held chaplaincies with the Prison Service at HMP Shrewsbury and also with the Shrewsbury Fire and Rescue Service, West Mercia Police, the British Legion and the Newport Navy Club and the Severn Hospice. He became rector of Newport with Longford, Chetwynd and Forton in February 1998. Before becoming a priest, Rod Biddle worked as a design engineer working on engines for military aircraft with Rolls Royce before moving into the textile industry and machines for making socks. He said that making socks was far more complicated than aircraft engines! The Bishop of Shrewsbury, the Rt Revd Alan Smith, said: "Rod Biddle was a greatly loved pastor and priest who served all of his ordained ministry in the Lichfield Diocese. Many people in and around Shrewsbury and Newport will have appreciated his care and ministry. "For six years he was Rural Dean of Shrewsbury. As well as his parish work, he was involved in chaplaincy at Shrewsbury Prison and at the Severn Hospice, where he died. He also exercised a valued ministry amongst the police and fire service. Our prayers are with his wife, Ann, and their family. He will be sorely missed. [INTERNET]

$Walter Biddulph B.D. (compliant minister of Rolleston) c1587-?1657 R023
Biddulph, born about 1587 in Staffordshire, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Oxford where on 24 May 1605 he was a "commoner" at Trinity College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 18 Feb 1608.9 (M.A., 26 Jun 1611) (B.D., 14 Dec 1620). He was presumably ordained deacon and priest before 15 Sep 1615 when after presentation (for this turn) by Thomas Hall assignee of the Duchy of Lancaster he was instituted rector of Rolleston. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister but, presumably as a committed anglican, was removed before Jan 1651.2. Biddulph died, aged about 70, probably in 1657. His will made on 1 Aug 1657 was proved under Lichfield on 22 Jun 1660. In his will he requests "to bee buried by Torch-light or candle light in the night in the Chancell of Rolleston". Biddulph married first about 1615 to Jane (d 1618) by whom he had 1 son and 1 daughter. He married second perhaps about 1620 to Mary Clarke (no known children).

Francis Birch M.A. (parochial curate of Harlaston) 1605-1670 H14

Birch, christened on 28 Apr 1605 at Shenstone, was 2nd son of John Birch of Little Aston in Shenstone yeoman c1568-?1641. He studied at Oxford where on 8 Jul 1625 he was a student at Oriel College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 30 Oct 1628 (M.A., 3 Jul 1632).On 30 May 1629 he was ordained deacon by Oxford and in Mar 1631 ordained priest by Lichfield. On 25 May 1635 he was licensed as a preacher by Sir Nathaniel Brent knight D.C.L. c1574-1652 (probably pro Oxford university). On 27 Jan 1636.7 he was appointed as parochial curate of West Bromwich but was in office only a few weeks before being replaced on 9 Mar. On 5 Feb 1643.4 he may not have been in an office. On 1 Jan 1646.7 he was appointed compliant minister of Edingale parochial chapelry but it is undiscovered how long he served. (He was succeded in office by 19 Aug 1662). By 1651.2 he was probably in office as compliant minister of Barton-under-Needwood parochial chapelry probably after appointment by the patron, the minister of Tatenhill rectory, then Henry Burford compliant minister c1590-.... QV. In early Jun 1660 he may not have been in an office. By about Jan 1661.2 after probable presentation by the rector of Clifton Campville then Henry Gilbert c1608-1664 he was in office as parochial curate of Harlaston and paid a clerical subsidy of 6/8. He subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 28 Jul 1662. Probably in 1661.2 he was also appointed head schoolmaster of Barton-under-Needwood Grammar School. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Harlaston constablewick but was not assessed there probably because he was living at his school which was assessed on 6 hearths. Still probably in both offices he died, aged 65, and was buried on 9 Sep 1670 at Barton-under-Needwood. His will made on 14 Jun 1670 was proved under Lichfield on 5 Oct 1670. Birch may not have married. [NB: After graduation Birch's main occupation may have been that of schoolmaster (of which no record has been discovered before 1661), if so, his clerical career may have been subsidiary.]

$Thomas Birch (compliant minister of Sheen) e1604-.... R024
Birch, born perhaps about 1612, was probably a son of Melchizedek Birch of Sheen c1582-.... He was probably only educated to literate grade. In 1635 he was a lay reader at Sheen. On 25 Sep 1636 he was ordained deacon by Lichfield and that year appointed parochial curate of Sheen. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister and was probably still in office on 25 Apr 1646 when a son was christened. His next known successor was probably licensed in 1663. Birch married about 1629 to a woman by whom he had 2 sons and 1 daughter.

$John Bisby M.A. (compliant minister of Tipton) c1603-?1648 R025

Bisby, born about 1603 in Bedfordshire, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Cambridge where at Easter 1621 he was a sizar at Queen's College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1624.5 (M.A., 1627). On 15 Jul 1628 his M.A. was incorporated at Oxford. On 24 Sep 1626 he was ordained deacon and on 9 Mar 1627.8 ordained priest at Peterborough (both) by Peterborough. On 25 Aug 1634 after presentation (for this turn) by William Barker M.D. he was instituted prebendary of Lichfield Pipa Minor (and installed 27 Aug). Probably late in 1635 after presentation by himself qua prebendary of Lichfield Pipa Minor he was licensed parochial curate of Tipton. From 5 Feb 1643.4 his prebend was abolished but he continued at Tipton as compliant minister. Here he likely resigned about Jul 1647 and by Jan 1647.8 was in office as compliant minister of Edstaston parochial chapelry, Salop. Apparently a committed presbyterian, he signed the Shropshire testimony of 1648 as "John Bisby, pastor of Edstaston". He may have lived at Whixall a short distance north. Probably still in office he likely died, aged about 45, shortly after 30 Oct 1648. His will made on 30 Oct 1648 was proved under PCC on 16 Nov 1650. In his will he bequeathed his son Nathaniel "[£40] towarde his education in learneing and keepeing him at Cambridge together with my studdy of books". Bisby married first about 1632 to Margaret Hoo (b 1610) daughter of Anthony Hoo of Bradley in Bilston gentleman c1572-1614 and Margaret Wilkes daughter and coheir of Richard Wilkes of Bilston, Staffs by whom he had 3 sons. He married second about 1643 Elizabeth by whom he probably had 1 son and 2 daughters. Nathaniel Bisby D.D. (rector of Long Melford, Suffolk) 1635-1695 was his second son.

$Thomas Bladon (presbyterian minister of Alrewas) c1631-1703 R026
Bladon, born about 1631, was a son of Thomas Bladon of Newton [?Solney], Derbys. He was educated at Repton School, Derbys. He was only educated to literate grade. He studied at Cambridge where on 7 Feb 1654.5 he was admitted as a sizar at Magdalene College and matriculated the same year but did not graduate. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 2 Mar 1655.6 when he entered office as presbyterian minister of Barton-under-Needwood and recorded the event in the parish register "Thomas Bladen auspicatur apud Barton sub need=wood Martij 2do Anno Dom. 1655". After nomination on 20 May 1658 by the Trustees for maintenance he was approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers as presbyterian minister of Alrewas. Here he received an augmentation of £24 that had been paid to his predecessor. About Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of 10/0. On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived. In 1669 he was preaching at Walsall and in Dec 1672, as of Birmingham, was licensed as a presbyterian teacher. He is probably the man of this name who was appointed as a schoolmaster at Whittington on 16 Oct 1683 where he was living when he made his will on 18 Jan 1693.4. The Common Fund survey of dissenting ministers taken about 1690 has under Staffordshire the entry " Ministers that have a Competent Supply - Mr Tho: Bladen - [ejected Minister] Of Alrewas - able to goe abroad every Lords day 4. 5. or 6 miles for 9/0 or 7/0 pr day and horse hire paid out of it" . Later he moved to Tamworth where he officiated at a baptism at Tamworth Presbyterian meeting on 14 Nov 1702. Here he died, aged about 72, and was buried on 13 Jan 1702.3. His will made on 18 Jan 1693.4 was proved under Lichfield on 15 Jan 1702.3 and 6 Dec 1704. In his will Bladon appointed as executors his "couzens" [? his nephew and niece] Thomas Rotheram and Hannah Rotheram (later wife of John Kenrick) who in 1704 were respectively defendant and plaintiff in a court case regarding his will. Birch may not have married. In his will he mentions other "couzens" [?nieces] Catherine, Ursula and Dionisia Harvey daughters and coheirs of Nicholas Harvey of Whittington gentleman c1618-1698. Ursula Harvey had married on 18 Sep 1673 at Whittington to Thomas Pretty (rector of Winchfield, Hants) c1650-1726. Calamy writes in 1727 "He was a very valuable Man for his Piety and practical Preaching. He had a great Aversion to Disputations; but when he was necessitated to any Thing of that Kind, was quick and sharp and full. He liv'd many Years at Birmingham, and preached at many Places thereabouts. I am inform'd he died at Tamworth." Bladon is said to have been the author of two sermons (nos XIII and XIV) published in England's remembrancer: Being a collection of farewel-sermons preached by divers non-conformists in the country (1663). A later writer (1802) says "Tho' long, they are not tedious; but are judicious, practical, and very appropriate". Both sermons were based on Acts xx 32 - 'And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified."

(1803) ALDERWAS [V. £47/18/8] MR. THOMAS BLADON. A very valuable man for his piety and practical preaching. He had a great aversion to disputes, but when he was obliged to engage in them he did it to great advantage. He lived many years in Birmingham, and preached at various adjacent places. He died at Tamworth. There are two farewell sermons of his in England's Remembrancer, or Country Collection, on Acts xx. 32, § No. XIII. and XIV. Tho' long, they are not tedious; but are judicious, practical, and very appropriate. The first of them is thus introduced.
" Every society shall have a separation, and every communion shall receive a dissolution. The dearest friends and sweetest relations, as of husband and wife, of parents and children, of ministers and people, whom nature, providence and election, hath joined together, and this strengthened with the strongest cement of love and affection; shall sooner or later, either by satan's rage, the malice of wicked men, or the stroke of death, be parted asunder. God's people are called strangers and pilgrims; they have no continued abiding till they come to heaven, that place of durable uninterrupted rest. And God's ministers have no assurance of their unchangeable residence among their beloved people. Of Paul's many journeys from one nation and church to another we have abundant mention in this history of the Acts; and in this chapter, of four. The last was to Miletus, from whence he sends to Ephesus, and calls together the elders of the church there, and takes his farewell of them."
Having descanted on the several parts of it, he says,
"The words of the text are a part of Paul's farewell to the beloved Ephesians, and must now be the subject of my valediction to you. Paul spake them as a departing man, but a living minister and apostle. I speak them as a living man, but a dying minister."
Having discussed the several points proposed, he closes with some excellent directions to his people respecting their conduct in his absence from them. The following is selected as an answer to those who perpetually stigmatize the Nonconformists of that day, as enemies to government.
"Live in subjection to the supreme power and authority of the nation. We are branded for rebels, fomenters of divisions, labouring to fire the nation with civil discord, and engage it in another war; but our practice and our doctrine shall witness the contrary to the world. And therefore I charge you, before God's holy angels, and God himself, the great judge of the world, that ye be subject to the higher powers. Be actively obedient, so far as you may keep peace and a good conscience within; and when you cannot obey actively, obey passively. Fear not Joseph's prison, nor Jeremiah's dungeon, nor Daniel's Lion's-den, for a good conscience: praying for all in authority, that under them we may lead a quiet and peaceable Life, in all godliness and honesty. Labour, I beseech you, by your quiet and peaceable lives, to vindicate the innocency of your ministers, and their doctrine, from those black-mouthed blasphemies and reproaches which envy and malice and ignorance hath cast upon them. And doubtless God, in his due time, will revenge this dishonour done to his servants, whilst they have studied nothing else, and nothing more than the gaining of souls, in a faithful discharge of their ministry."

Thomas Blake M.A. (parochial curate of Tamworth) c1596-1657
Blake, born about 1596 in Staffordshire, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Oxford where on 25 Oct 1616 he was a "commoner" at Christ Church and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 5 May 1620 (M.A., 21 Feb 1622.3). He was (presumably) ordained deacon and on 24 Dec 1620 ordained priest by Lichfield at Eccleshall. By 3 Aug 1627 apparently after appointment by Tamworth Corporation qua guardians of Tamworth school he was in office as parochial curate of Tamworth when he was licensed to preach by Lichfield. On 12 Nov 1629 he was also appointed by Sir John Repington of Amington in Tamworth knight 1608-1660 vicar-preacher of Tamworth "for his life". From 5 Feb 1643.4 he probably continued here as compliant minister. About Mar 1643.4 his first book The birth-priviledge ... was published with a dedication to the bailiff, burgesses and inhabitants of Tamworth. That month he appears to have left Tamworth and in May 1644 a successor Theophilus Lord c1617-1651 QV was appointed when it was recorded that "the former man [Blake] ... his goeing away about 2 months before". His second book Infants baptisme, freed from antichristianisme ... (1645) said to have been published on 29 Apr was dedicated to Lady Ruth Scudamore latterly widow of Henry Leigh of Rushall esquire c1569-1630. Probably in 1645 Blake was appointed compliant minister of Shrewsbury St Alkmund vicarage. Blake's third book said to have been published on 7 Aug 1646 was Mr. Blakes answer, to Mr. Tombes his letter ... with a preface signed by Edmund Calamy and Richard Vines. About 1647 "Thomas Blake of Alkmund's" was the third minister named as a member of Shrewsbury classis. Apparently a committed presbyterian, Blake signed the Shropshire testimony of 1648 as "Thomas Blake, minister of Alkmonds, Salop". On 2 Jan 1649.50 parliament ordered that ministers take the Oath of Engagement (in support of the Commonwealth of England) before 20 Feb 1649.50 or forfeit their office. In Mar 1649.50 it was reported "From Shrewsbury, That the Ministers preach much against the present Government, and to encourage the People to Sedition, and to rise for their King. That at the Day of the publick Fast kept in one of their Churches, there was another mock Fast kept in the other two Churches by agreement of the Ministers, and two Sermons preached in them purposely to disturb the Fast injoined by Authority." Blake and a fellow minister Samuel Fisher c1617-1681 did not support the Engagement but remained in Shrewsbury partly to support victims of the plague which had broken out earlier in the year. Fisher wrote in 1655 of "Some thoughts, which the author used to flatter and allure his soul to be well-pleased with death, when he with reverend Mr Blake, stayed in Shrewsbury (in July and August 1650) in the time of gods last visitation of that place by the pestilence) to execute their pastoral office amongst their people that did abide there in that doleful time where they were under the continual expectation of arrest." Later they moved from Shrewsbury. A contemporary recorded "The two chief and ablest ministers in Shrewsbury, viz. Mr. Thomas Blake, minister of St. Chadds [recte St Alkmunds], and Mr. Fisher, of St. Mary's, removed to Myddle [Shropshire], and dwelt both in Mr. Gittin's house att the higher well: they preached often at Myddle. ... Mr. Blake was a tall spare man, his hair sandy brown; he was somewhat aged, a moderate, sober, grave, pious man". Blake also stayed at West Felton, Shropshire with another minister Samuel Hildersam and his wife Mary to whom Blake dedicated his next book Vindiciae foederis. Blake wrote "No time can wear out the memory of those favours which I have received from your hands ... a free invitation to me, and those that had dependance upon me, to your house, ... In your house I had not only leisure to make a good progresse in this Work, but singular accommodation from your accomplisht Library." The minister at Tamworth, Theophilus Lord c1617-1651 QV, died in Jan 1650.1. Blake may have been reapppointed as compliant minister of Tamworth by 4 Nov 1652 when he wrote "from his study in Tamworth" the introduction to (his fourth book) Vindiciae foederis ... said to have been published on 29 Jan 1652.3. He was an assistant commissioner for Staffordshire on the Commission for the ejection of ignorant, scandalous, insufficient or negligent ministers and schoolmasters (formed on 28 Aug 1654). In 1655 he certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry. Blake's 5th book The covenant sealed. Or, a treatise of the sacrament ... is said to have been published on 7 Jul 1655. On 6 Nov 1655 the Trustees for maintenance ordered that he should have a salary of £2o as minister and £40 as lecturer. His last book concerning Mr. Humphrey's second vindication of a ... free-admission to the lords-supper ... is said to have been published on 30 Sep 1656. Still in office Blake died, aged 61, and was buried here on 11 Jun 1657. His funeral sermon was preached by Anthony Burgess (rector of Sutton Coldfield, Warwicks) c1606-1664 and a funeral oration was delivered by Samuel Shaw (head schoolmaster of Tamworth) 1636-1696 both of which were later published. His will made on 11 Jan 1655.6 (codicil) 5 Jun 1657 was proved under PCC on 20 Nov 1657. Blake writes in his will "... to my nephew Mr William Rocke now minister of Mathfield [William Rock (?presbyterian minister of Mayfield, Staffs) 1620-1694 QV] my Junius and Tremelius Bible togther with anie of the ... booke or curmans works that he shall chose out of my studie ... to wife All my English divinite Bookes ... I give all the rest of my Bookes togther with all my manuscripts to my nephew Samuel Beresford now minister of Bremingham Aston [Samuel Beresford M.A. (presbyterian assistant minister of Tamworth) 1629-1697 QV]. Blake married on 27 Apr 1631 at Tamworth to Jane Wagstaff of Drayton Basset (no known children).

(1649) About the year 1649 [i.e. 1649.50], it pleased God to visit this town [Shrewsbury] with the plague. It broke out about the latter end of July, but was concealed by the townsmen till after Lammas fair, and on the next day after the fair they fled out of town in whole sholes, so that there was no market there till Candlemas following [Feb 1649.50]. Howbeit, there was a small market kept on the old heath, for things necessary for provisions, and so at Monford Bridge, and in other places. There was frequent collections made in parish churches for the relief of the poor of the town. The free-school was removed to the school-house in Greensell; Mr. Challoner was then master of the head school, a learned and facetious man. The two chief and ablest ministers in Shrewsbury, viz. Mr. Thomas Blake, minister of St. Chadds[sic], and Mr. Fisher, of St. Mary's, removed to Myddle, and dwelt both in Mr. Gittin's house att the higher well : they preached often at Myddle. Mr. Fisher was a man of middle stature and age, a fat plump body, a round visage and black hair. Mr. Blake was a tall spare man, his hair sandy brown; he was somewhat aged, a moderate, sober, grave, pious man : he wrote a learned treatise of the covenants, wherein he took some modest exceptions against some things Mr. Baxter mentioned in his book of Justification. [Richard Gough The antiquityes and memoyres of the parish of Myddle (1700)]

(1845) To this clergyman, was also given by the guardians of the School, the office of the curates, so that he became both vicar and perpetual curate, and resided in the College-house. He was a divine of some celebrity, and an active partisan of the puritans, in the civil war. He died in June, 1657. [Charles Ferrers R. Palmer The history of the town and castle of Tamworth in the counties of Stafford and Warwick Tamworth (1845) p234].
(1871) THOMAS BLAKE was born in Staffordshire about the year 1597. He entered Christ Church in the University of Oxford in 1616 but whether in condition of a student or servitor Anthony a Wood did not know, took the degrees of B.A. May 5th 1620 and M.A. Feb. 21st 1622-3, and afterwards "had some petit employment in the church bestowed on him." He was appointed to the Vicarage here Nov. 12th 1629 by Sir John Repington, and the Guardians of the School gave him the office of the two curates so that he became both vicar and perpetual curate and resided in the College House. In the Parish Register is the entry: " Aprill, 1631: 27. Mar. Thomas Blake, Minister of Tam, & Jane Wagstaff of Drayton basset." It does not appear that he had any issue. This clergyman became one of the most celebrated Puritan divines of his day, and wrote some pamphlets and works which stirred up much controversy and brought many into the polemical lists against him, amongst whom were Richard Baxter, Blackwood, Tombes, and Humphries. About the end of March 1644 he quitted Tamworth but without giving up the living here and became pastor of St. Alkmund's in Shrewsbury. When the Presbyterian party began to be dominant he adhered to it, subscribed the Covenant in 1648 amongst the Ministers of Shropshire, and soon showed himself a zealous brother of the cause. Whilst Mr. Blake was away, Theophilus Lord, M.A. who had been called to be preacher here in Sept. 1643 by the Parliamentary Governor of the town and by the Corporstion, took the whole duty of Minister in May following by desire of the Committee of Safety for Warwickshire, and continued till his death. He was buried here Jan. 13th 1649-50. Mr. Blake now returned from Shrewsbury. Being a constant advocate of the Puritan cause he was nominated by the Lord Protector Oliver Cromwell to be one of the assistants to the commissioners of Staffordshire for the ejecting of such whom they called ignorant and scandalous ministers and schoolmasters. During the rest of his life he continued in his pastoral duties here and in the use of his pen, and died in June 1657 when he was about sixty years old. He was buried in this Church on the 11th: at his funeral (which many ministers and others of the neighbourhood attended) a sermon was delivered from the pulpit and on the occasion of his death an oration was made which were afterwards published under the following title: Paul's last Farewel, or a Sermon preached at the Funerall of that Godly and Learned Minister of Jesus Christ, Mr. Thomas Blake. By Anthony Burgese, Pastor of the Church of Sutton-Coldfield in Warwick- shire. With a Funeral Oration made at Mr. Blakes death by Samuel Shaw, then Schoolmaster of the Free-School at Tamworth. (1915) 12 Nov 1629 bur. 11 Jun 1657 Thomas Blake M.A. 23 - 23 Blake. M.A. 1623 Christ Church, Oxford; married 27 Apr 1631 Jane Wagstaff of Drayton Bassett. In 1643 the committee of safety for co. Warw. appointed Theoph. Lord (see note 29) to be the preacher here, though he was forbidden to do anything else than preach. However, in May 1644 Lord took over the whole duty of a minister here and Blake apparently went to St Akmund's, Shrewsbury, from 1645-50. In May and Jun 1646 the committee for plundered ministers found that there was but a £20 stipend for the preacher here and £8 each for two curates, so it made a grant of £20 pa to the minister here from a prebend of this church sequestered from Sir Robert Fisher, the farmer thereof, and a further grant of £30 pa from another prebend sequestered from Sir John Reppington, delinquent. It made another grant of £40 pa for a coadjutor to the minister, who was to preach a weekly lecture in the church (SPDI F1 p74; F2 pt i p92, 99, 147, 223; Bodl MS 323 p266, 267). In 1654 Blake was appointed assistant to the commissioners for the removal of scandalous ministers and in 1655 he is found certifying the fitness of candidates for the ministry. (LMS 996 p163) On 6 Nov 1655 the trustees ordered that he should have £2o as minister and £40 as lecturer. (LMS 970 p65, 67) He was a prolific author. No time can wear out the memory of those favours which I have received from your hands; You were of the first that gave me a visit, when few durst adventure themselves under the same roof, being by the good providence of God, necessitated to leave a place sorely afflicted with the Pestilence; and labouring under a Feaver, wherewith presently on my departure God pleased to afflict me: and were eye-witnesses of the mean accommodations, which in those straits could be provided for me and my reverend brother, with both our wives and families, all cast upon the same condition at that time; & you made it appear that your eyes affected your hearts, in giving a free invitation to me , and those that had dependance upon me, to your house, assoon as with security we durst adventure over any mans threshold, where for many moneths we had free and liberal entertainment. If Paul in an Epistle did remember the like from Onesephorus (with special observation, that he was not ashamed of his chaine) my heart must needs have checked me, if having opportunity of Epistling according to received custom, you should have been forgotten. I shall not be ashamed of the language of beggers, if they have learnt it from such a hand; The Lord grant unto you, that ye may finde mercy from the Lord in that day. In your house I had not only leisure to make a good progresse in this Work, but singular accommodation from your accomplisht Library. By 1832 he was running a printing business in London, and following a bankruptcy in 1841 I believe that he moved to Bristol. By 1851 he has moved to Scotland and is at an Episcopalian church in Pittenweem, Fife, Scotland, but I am not sure in what capacity. He then moves to Perth, Scotland where he is an episcopalian. He later moved to Derbyshire and then Sloley, Norfolk. In his final years he moved back to Frome, Somerset where he died. [INTERNET]

Peter of Blois found the canons vicious, intent on keeping their prebends in the possession of their families, and so linked by marriage as to present a united resistance to his attempts at reform. He therefore resigned, probably in 1202, and persuaded Archbishop Hubert Walter, with King John's approval, to dissolve the college and replace it with a community of Cistercian monks. [VCH]

[10 chn]

Thomas George Bonney was born July 27th, 1833, at Rugeley, Staffordshire. His family is of Huguenot origin, and thus affords yet another instance of the remarkable intellectual enrichment of our country which resulted from the religious persecutions in France. His father, the Rev. Thomas Bonney, son of the Rev. George Bonney, vicar of Sandon, and sometime Fellow of Jesus College, Cambridge, was a man of wide and varied interests, and a hard worker, in spite of feeble health; he was master of the Grammar School, Rugeley, and for many years 'perpetual curate' of Pipe Ridware, a very small parish about five miles from Rugeley. The church was rebuilt through his efforts, and he took great interest in primary education, acting for some time informally as Inspector of Schools in the Diocese. He married a daughter of Edward Smith, a Staffordshire man of independent means, and died in 1853, leaving a widow and ten children, of whom Professor Bonney, then just entering upon his second year at Cambridge, was the eldest. The family inherited some property, but the income it afforded was small for the education of so many. [ODNB]

John Bonsall (parochial curate of Sheen) ?1631-1683 H15

Bonsall, (? christened on 1 Sep 1631 at Hartington), was probably a son of William Bonsall of Hartington, Derbys yeoman c1590-.... and Elizabeth. He was only educated to literate grade. He was presumably ordained deacon by 28 Jul 1663 when he was probably licensed parochial curate and appointed reader of Sheen. By 1 Aug 1665 he was also schoolmaster of Sheen parish school and that day was "noted as excommunicated". In 1665 he did not certify the hearth tax for Sheen township and was not assessed there. Still in office he died, aged about 52, and was buried here on 22 Mar 1682.3. Bonsall married perhaps about 1668 to Margaret by whom he had 2 sons and 2 daughters.

William Bott (? compliant minister of Caverswall) c1617-1701 GA105
Bott, born about 1617, was a son of Richard Bott of Withington (in Leigh), Staffs. He studied at Oxford where on 10 Apr 1635 he was a commoner at Hart Hall and matriculated. He graduated B.A. on 13 Jul 1639. He was (presumably) ordained deacon and on 25 Sep 1642 ordained priest by Lichfield. On 10 Apr 1642 he was inducted as rector of Fenny Bentley, Derbys. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister but, then serving in the royal army, was sequestered by the Derbyshire parliamentary committee. In 1650 he was reported to be minister of Tissington, Derbys but "a man disaffected" and one of his daughters was buried here in Aug 1652. In the period 1655/60 he may have been sometime compliant minister of Caverswall. By An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660) he was apparently restored as rector of Fenny Bentley and subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 12 Aug 1662. Still in office at Fenny Bentley he died, aged about 54, and was buried there on 27 Nov 1701. His will made on 5 Jun 1700 was proved under Lichfield on 24 Apr 1702. An inventory included "Item In the Studdy Bookes £1". Bott married first about 1643 to Elizabeth Buxton (d 1652) dau of Edward Buxton gentleman by whom he had 5 daughters. He married second (? on 23 Apr 1661) to Elizabeth Griffin (d 1703) dau of Bartholomew Griffin (rector of Fenny Bentley, Derbys) ...-1638 (no known children). It is recorded that Bott "spent at least £50 on the repairing and adorning of this church [Fenny Bentley], according to a vow made by him when in adversity".

(Fenny Bentley) It appears from voluminous Latin entries, that William Bott was inducted to this rectory on April 10th, 1642, but that owing to the Commonwealth, "rebellions factissima," he was dispossessed of the living until the Restoration. He married for his second wife, Elizabeth, the daughter of Bartholomew Griffin, his predecessor in the rectory. He further records that he spent at least £50 on the repairing and adorning of this church, according to a vow made by him when in adversity. (See a paper on the registers of this church, by Mr. Sleigh, Reliquary, vol. vii., p. 104.) [COX II 469]

$John Bould B.A. (presbyterian minister of Alrewas) c1623-1657
Bould, born about 1623 at Swarkestone, Derbys, was likely a younger son of John Bould (rector of Swarkestone, Derbys) c1582-?1650. He studied at Cambridge where on 8 Feb 1639.40 he was admitted as a sizar at Jesus College and matriculated that year. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1643.4. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by about Sep 1646 when he was in office as presbyterian minister of Alrewas vicarage. Both the parishioners of the parish and their former minister Richard Martin e1579-.... had approved his appointment.
Here he sometimes received an augmentation of £24 to his annual salary of £26/13/4. On 12 Apr 1647 he took the Solemn league and covenant at London St Mary at Hill. On 20 Apr 1647 he was classically ordained as a presbyterian clergyman by the London Fourth Classis. Apparently a committed presbyterian, he signed the Staffordshire testimony of Jul 1648 as "John Bould Pastor of Alrewas." Bould conducted three marriages at Hints between 28 Dec 1653 and 8 Feb 1653.4 and may then briefly have been presbyterian minister of Hints. Still in office at Alrewas Bould died, aged about 34, on 11 Dec 1657 and was buried there on 12 Dec. After his death his augmentation was paid to his executors until 25 Mar 1658 because his wife Elizabeth had looked after the parish during that period. Bould married about 1647 to Elizabeth by whom he had 2 sons. Samuel Bold M.A. (prebendary of Lichfield Curborough) c1614-1677 was likely an older brother.

Bourne, born about 1618, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Cambridge where in 1636 he was a sizar at Trinity College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1639. On 22 Dec 1639 he was ordained deacon by Peterborough at Peterborough. Perhaps in late 1640 (? after presentation by the prebendary of Lichfield Weeford then John Mainwaring D.D. (rector of Stoke-upon-Trent) c1605-1692 QV) he may have been licensed as parochial curate of Weeford. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he may have continued here as compliant minister. Here he left office before 1651.2 when he was compliant minister of Wilnecote chapel-of-ease, Warwicks.

Hamlet Bourne M.A. (vicar of Bushbury) c1595-....
Bourne, born about 1595, is of unknown parentage. He was educated at Wolverhampton Grammar School and studied at Oxford where on 22 May 1612 he was a commoner at Queen's College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 5 Jul 1616 (M.A., St Edmund Hall, 7 Jul 1619). In Mar 1617 he was ordained deacon and on 12 Mar 1620 ordained priest (both) by Oxford. By 1620 he was in office as a stipendiary curate at Darlaston. On 17 Sep 1631 after possible presentation by Jonas Grosvenor of Bushbury esquire c1554-1637 he was instituted vicar of Bushbury. He may have been presented again by the Crown on 9 Jul 1633. He was still in office in 1639. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he may have continued here as compliant minister and is said to have paid 3/9 in support of the royalist garrison at Dudley Castle in May 1644. A successor William Chandler was ordered to be insituted on 4 Aug 1646.
No further record has been discovered. Bourne may not have married.

Richard Bourne M.A. (compliant minister of Cannock) 1612-1687 H16
Bourne, christened on 5 Sep 1612 at Norton-in-the-Moors, was a son of Thomas Bourne of Norton-in-the-Moors "gentleman" c1582-.... and Margaret. He studied at Oxford where on 21 Jun 1633 he was a "commoner" at Exeter College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 5 May 1636 (M.A., 5 Feb 1638.9). He was presumably ordained deacon and priest by 1 Jan 1640.1 when after probable presentation by the vicar of Wolstanton then Francis Capps c1580-1643 QV he was likely in office as parochial curate of Newchapel. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he probably continued here as compliant minister but may have resigned before 17 Jun 1646 when he was probably in office as compliant minister of Cannock. Apparently a committed presbyterian, he signed the Staffordshire testimony of Jul 1648 as "Richard Bourne Minister of Gods Word at Cannocke". Here he sometimes received an augmentation of £50 to his salary (? of £50 pa). It is said that, whilst at Cannock, Bourne had preached a sermon and was leaving his pulpit when a deranged parliamentary trooper shot him in the thigh and "affirmed that Mr. Bourn had a Devil; because, said he, nothing but the Devil could have told him of those Sins, which I have been Guilty of ...". In early Jun 1660 he continued here as de facto parochial curate and, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), was confirmed in office. On 6 Sep 1660 he was installed prebendary of Lichfield Ufton Decani. He subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 11 Aug 1662. At Cannock he probably resigned before 10 Oct 1662 when after presentation by Sir Thomas Wilbraham of Woodhey in Faddiley, Cheshire 3rd baronet c1625-1692 he was instituted vicar of Walsall. In Oct 1663 he was licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Walsall Borough constablewick and was assessed on 3 hearths at Walsall Foreign constablewick. About Jun 1682 he resigned his prebend in favour of his son Thomas. Still in office at Walsall he died, aged 75, and was buried there on 18 Apr 1687. His will made on 3 Sep 1686 was proved under Lichfield on 5 Apr 1687. His personalty was valued at £161. Bourne married in 1641 to Jane Burton of Norton-in-the-Moors by whom he had 1 son and 1 daughter. Bourne qua vicar of Walsall was patron of the parochial chapelry of Bloxwich (where he had probably presented John Bearblock QV about 1664). Thomas Bourne B.A. (prebendary of Lichfield Ufton Decani) c1648-1688 was his son.

(1714) BOURN , -----; Minister of Canock in Staffordshire. He was shot in the Thigh as he came out of Pulpit, by one Bullock a Parliament-Trooper; who affirmed that Mr. Bourn had a Devil; because, said he, nothing but the Devil could have told him of those Sins, which I have been Guilty of, and which, it seems, Mr Bourn had happened at that time to Preach against. It was with much Difficulty that the People prevented him from Murthering Mr Bourn at that time. This Bullock was afterwards Clapt up in Stafford-Jayl ,where Mr Bourn several times went to him; and Endeavoured by all the means he could think of, to make him Sensible of his Fault, and bring him to a better Mind; but the Fellow continued Obstinate, and declared bimself fully Resolved to Murther him, if ever he should have it in his Power [Walker (1714) p413]

Formerly minister of Thursfield chapel c1641, married c1641, at Burslem, Jane Burton of Norton (Burslem PR), signed testimony as minister here in 1648, vicar of Walsall 1662-87 prebendary of Ufton decanni 1660-82 ? On 17 Jun 1646 the committee for plundered ministers granted to an unnamed curate here probably Bourne an augmentation of £50 pa out of this impropriate rectory, which had been demised by the dean and chapter of Lichfield to Mr Coleman papist and delinquent. (Bodl MS 323 p267) On 14 Apr 1654 the trustees ordered that he should be "established "here and receive an augmentation amount not named after he had received approbation from the commissioners. (Lamb. MS 975 p343) On 3 May 1654 Bourne, "former curate," was established here by the commissioners and authorized to preach the gospel, etc, at a salary of £100 (LMS 973 p675) On 11 Oct 1655 the trustees made him a grant sum not named which they ordered to be continued on 16 Dec 1657. (LMS 995 p11). Circa 1658.9 he was in receipt of an augmentation of £80 (LMS 981 p20; 994 p142) [1915 p49-50]

The Late Bishop Of Lichfield.— The remains of the late Bishop of Lichfield having been removed from Clifton Hotwells to Eccleshall, the body lay in state at the Castle on Monday and Tuesday evenings, the 23rd and 24th of October, under the management and regulation of the house steward. On Wednesday the 25th, the funeral took place; the shops in the town were all closed, and the blinds of the windows of the inhabitants were down. The coffin-plate, which was surmounted by a mitre, bore the following inscription:— The Right Reverend James Bowstead, D.D., Lord Bishop of Lichfield, died llth of October, 1843, aged 42 years. Bowyer, christened on 22 May 1605 at Madeley, was third son of George Bowyer of Madeley "gentleman" 1571-1633 and (his second wife) Catherine. He was only educated to literate grade. He studied at Oxford where on 30 Apr 1624 he was a "commoner" at Exeter College and matriculated but did not graduate. On 21 Dec 1628 he was ordained deacon and on 19 Dec 1629 ordained priest (both) by Lichfield. On 24 Apr 1634 after presentation by Thomas Rudyard of Rudyard in Leek esquire c1583-1638 he was instituted vicar of Leek. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. Apparently a committed presbyterian, he signed the Staffordshire testimony of Jul 1648 as "Francis Bowyer Minister of Leek". Still in office he died, aged 43, and was buried there on 4 Nov 1648. His will made on 11 Jun 1640 was proved under Lichfield on 17 May 1649. In his will he wrote "I give & bequeath to my Brother John ... all my bookes except 40s worth which I give to my beloved wiffe whereof I give her power to make her choice amongst all my bookes ... I give & bequeath such Tythes as I purchased att ?Endon ... to my beloved wiffe to enioy them for & during her life & after her decease ... to my said Brother John". His personalty was valued at £173/18/10 and included "Item his Liberrary £20". Bowyer married in Jan 1635.6 at Leek t0 Catherine Wood (no known children). John Bowyer (vicar of Biddulph) c1599-1658 QV was an older half-brother.

Bowyer, born about 1599 (perhaps in Cheshire), was second son of George Bowyer of Madeley "gentleman" 1571-1633 and (his first wife) Ann (Grosvenor). He studied at Oxford where on 9 May 1617 he was a "commoner" at Exeter College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 19 Oct 1620 (M.A., 22 Apr 1624). On 12 Mar 1620 he was ordained deacon by Oxford and on 2 Nov 1620 licensed as a stipendiary curate at Tredington, Worcs. On 27 May 1621 he was ordained priest by Oxford. On 21 Oct 1622 he was collated by Lichfield vicar of Biddulph. On 22 Nov 1633 he was presented by the Crown as rector of Stoke-upon-Trent but was not instituted. From 5 Feb

1643.4 he continued at Biddulph as compliant minister. On 28 May 1647 the Committee for plundered ministers granted him an augmentation of £50 (from the sequestered rectory of Eccleshall) to his annual salary but no record of its payment is discovered. Apparently a committed presbyterian he signed the Staffordshire testimony of Jul 1648 as "John Bowyer Minister of Biddulph". On 10 Oct 1654 a successor was in office. Whilst living at "Grange House" in Biddulph he died, aged about 59, and was buried there on 2 Sep 1658. (In 1665 his widow was assessed on 5 hearths at Biddulph). He apparently died intestate. Bowyer married about 1645 to Elizabeth Bowyer 1611-1672 daughter of Sir William Bowyer of Knypersley in Biddulph knight c1588-1641 and widow of Francis Trentham of Rocester esquire 1620-1644 by whom he had 2 sons and 1 daughter. Bowyer's step-daughter Elizabeth Trentham (b 1640) married before Apr 1657 to Brien Cokayne 2nd Viscount Cullen. Francis Bowyer (vicar of Leek) 1605-1648 QV was John's younger half-brother and in his will made on 11 Jun 1640 wrote "I give & bequeath to my Brother John Bowyer ... all my bookes except 40s worth which I give to my beloved wiffe... (Stoke-upon-Trent) There seems to have been a good deal of trouble about his institution, for on 20 Nov 1633 the Crown presented John Bowyer to this rectory [Keeper, 48] and an action was subsequently brought against Mainwaring and Roger Brereton, the patron, in the Court of High Commissions for simony. On 11 Feb 1635.6 the charge against Mainwaring was finally dismissed, but Brereton was held to have been very faulty in exposing the advowson to open sale and was fined £100 and costs £80 and also had to make a canonical purgation by the oaths of 6 compurgators, gentlemen of his own rank and dwelling within 6 miles of Stoke, to purge himself from any simonical bargains with Mainwaring. Thomas Bowyer (presbyterian minister of Charnes) ?1630-.... C6

Bowyer, (? christened on 21 Aug 1630 at Biddulph), was probably seventh son of Sir William Bowyer of Knypersley in Biddulph Knight c1588-1641 and Hester Skeffington dau of Sir William Skeffington of Fisherwick in Lichfield 1st Baronet c1557-1635. He studied at Cambridge where on 4 Jun 1649 he was admitted sizar at Jesus College and matriculated that year. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1652 (M.A., 1660). He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman when - after presentation on 10 Nov 1657 by (? his sister) Catherine Bowyer 4th dau of Sir William Bowyer of Knypersley in Biddulph Knight c1588-1641 and widow of John Yonge of Charnes in Eccleshall 1620-a1656 - he was, on 12 Feb 1657.8. admitted by the Commissioners as presbyterian minister of Charnes in Eccleshall. ~~In 1659 he received an augmentation of £20 to his salary.~~

About 25 Mar 1659 he received an augmentation of £X from the Trustees for ministers' maintenance (out of their tenths fund).

Shortly afterwards he may have been appointed a minister of parochial curate out of the county (perhaps at Woore, Salop). On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived.

He was presumably ordained deacon (? and priest) by 1575 when after probable presentation by the prebendary of Alrewas then Thomas Bickley c1518-1596 he was licensed as parochial curate of Edingale. A 1604 survey states "Edingale, a prebend. Impro. to the Church of Lichfield. Curate Mr Boydell. Stipend £4. No preacher." Still in office he died, aged about 92, and was buried here on 8 May 1673. The service was conducted by Richard Martin (vicar of Alrewas) e1579-.... who wrote in the parish register "Georgius Boydell grandaevus [i.e. aged] curate hujus Capellae Sepult's est octavo die Maij 1643 per me Ricdii Martin Vicarii de Alrewas". Boydell married first perhaps about 1592 to Ann (d 1613) by whom he had 3 sons and 2 daughters. He married second on 28 Nov 1614 at Edingale to Margaret Spencer by whom he had 1 daughter.

[INTERNET] Church registers also began around this time (pre-Reformation registers were kept – inconsistently – by the cathedral chapter). The registers date from 1575, when the Revd 47 George Boydell, who seems to have been the incumbent for a quite astonishing 68 years, started them. His spidery writing is clearly evident in the first register (a stiff parchment sheet) through this period. His entries finish just before that of his own burial ...

chn: Septimus Boylston (at Cambridge) 1686

Sares Boylston B.A. (parochial curate of Rowley Regis) 1639-1716
Boylston, christened on 8 Sep 1639 at Ribbesford, was a son of Thomas Boylston of Ribbesford, Worcs c1609-.... and Ann. He studied at Oxford where on 6 Feb 1653.4 he was received as a servitor at Wadham College and matriculated on 20 Jun 1654. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 2 Jul 1659. On 21 Dec 1662 he was ordained deacon by Hereford. By 1663 he was in office as parochial curate of Rowley Regis. On 21 May 1665 he was ordained priest by Worcester pro Hereford. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Rowley Regis constablewick but was not assessed there. He presumably resigned here before 13 Dec 1665 when he was licensed by Winchester as parochial curate of Hales, Hants where he was still in office on 10 Sep 1668. He probably resigned later that year when he was a preacher at (his birthplace) Ribbesford. On 4 Nov 1672 after presentation by Charles Cornwallis of London gentleman c1619-1675 he was instituted rector of Rock, Worcs in succession to his father-in-law Edward Partington.
Still in office he died, aged 77, and was buried here (perhaps as requested "in the grave which I caused to be digged in the chancel of Rock for my dear daughter Frances") on 17 Jan 1715.6. His will made on 8 Sep 1712 was proved under PCC on 5 Mar 1715.6. Boylston bequeathed to his son Edward "all my Books and Writings of what nature and kind soever". Boylston married on 4 Feb 1667.8 Rock, Worcs to Ann Partington (b 1642) daughter of Edward Partington M.A. (rector of Rock, Worcs) c1610-1672 and Mary Newce dau and eventual coheir of John Newce of Willesden, Middx gentleman c1588-?1633 by whom he had 3 sons and 3 daughters. [NB: John Newce - grandfather of Boylston's wife Ann Partington - had been patron of Rock and the advowson passed to his two daughters (as coheirs of their brother). They were Mary, mother of Ann, and Edith wife of Charles Cornwallis (above). In 1675 Boylston is said to have bought the advowson which appears to have passed to his son-in-law John Meysey of Shakenhurst, Worcs.]

When Robert Hill's Wall estate was sold in 1813 what was called Moat Bank House and 94a were bought by the tenant Samuel Bradburne, the owner of the Pipe Hill House estate. Samuel (d. by 1834) left Moat Bank to his second son, the Revd. Thomas Bradburne. He was succeeded in 1859 by his nephew John Bradburne, who died in or shortly before 1879, when the house and 11a were offered for sale along with Pipe Place Farm. [VCH]

Hugh Braddocke (parochial curate of Lichfield St Chad) e1620-1670 H17
Braddocke, born perhaps about 1620, is of unknown parentage. On 1 Sep 1661 he was appointed lay vicar choral of the prebend of Lichfield Freeford. Probably as a literate in Jul 1663 he was ordained deacon and priest by Lichfield. Perhaps later that year after probable presentation by the vicar of Lichfield St Mary then Richard Harrison (rector of Blithfield) c1611-1676 QV he was licensed parochial curate of Lichfield St Chad. On 13 Feb 1664 having resigned at Freeford he was appointed vicar choral of the prebend of Lichfield Alrewas. In 1665 he was living in Lichfield Close where he was assessed on 2 hearths. Still in both offices he died, perhaps aged about 50, and was buried on 17 Feb 1669.70 at Lichfield St Chad. His will made on 12 Jan 1669.70 was proved under Lichfield on 8 Jan 1670.1. His personalty was valued at £31/13/8 and included "2 ould Service Books 1 old Bible with some other Bookes 5/0". Braddock married perhaps about 1650 Elizabeth by whom he probably had 1 daughter.

Alexander Brassington B.A. (presbyterian minister of Draycott-in-the-Moors) 1630-....
Brassington, christened on 21 Mar 1629.30 at Caverswall, was son of George Brassington of Caverswall. He studied at Oxford where on 9 Apr 1647 he was "a commoner" at Oriel College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 12 Oct 1650. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 5 Mar 1655.6 when he was appointed presbyterian minister of Draycott-in-the-Moors and was replaced in office on 29 Jul 1657. No further record has been discovered.

William Brereton B.A. (parochial curate of Gnosall) c1608-1643
Brereton, born about 1608, was a son of William Brereton of Cheshire. He studied at Oxford where on 20 Oct 1626 he was a student at Brasenose College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 18 Jan 1629.30. On 18 Mar 1631.2 he was ordained deacon by Lichfield and the same day licensed as parochial curate of Gnosall. About 1638 he was styled "William Brueton of Noschall - minister of the gospel", when he testified to the honest life and conversation of a local preacher Humphrey Vincent ?1595-.... Still in office he died, aged about 35, on 16 Feb 1642.3 and was buried "under the chancell table" at Gnosall on 18 Feb. Brereton may not have married.

(?Monk, Beauvale, Notts) 1460

(Skegby, Notts) The reason of this inquisition was that Roger Bryde, having lands in Skegby, died, and these lands passed, in 1435, into the hands of his three sons, John, John, and Robert. On 13th February 1460, the elder of these two Johns died at Skegby, so that his brothers, John and Robert, became sole owners of the lands. But the elder John left a young son, named after his grandfather, Roger, and this Roger accused John the younger, his uncle, of having illtreated his father, his mother, and himself, and of having caused his father's death. Now this John Bryde, junior, Roger's uncle, was Archdeacon of Derby, and was so perturbed by these accusations against himself, that he caused this inquisition to be held at Skegby in order to prove their libellous nature. In the finding of the jury, it is recorded that John Bryde was an inmate of the house of the Cistercian Order at Beauvale both before and after the death of his brother, John Bryde, senior, and that, far from having illtreated his brother's family, he had always befriended them, and had paid for the education of his nephew, Roger (who made the accusations), at a grammar school. Laurence Brierley (parochial curate of Armitage) c1604-1681 Brierley, born perhaps about 1604, is of unknown parentage. Although sometimes styled M.A. he was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably ordained deacon and priest before 30 Jun 1634 when after presentation by Thomas Milner clerk he was instituted as vicar of Willington, Derbys. By 1651.2 he was in office as compliant minister of Wychnor dependent ~~parochial curacy~~. On 28 Mar 1661 he was appointed parochial curate of Armitage, in Jan 1661.2 paid a clerical subsidy of 5/0, subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 22 Jul 1662 and was appointed reader there on 23 Oct 1662. In Jun 1663 he was instituted vicar of Tideswell, Derbys. On 16 Aug 1676 qua vicar he appointed John Morewood as curate of Wormhill, Derbys. Still in office at Tideswell he died, perhaps aged about 77, and was buried there on 9 Jan 1680.1. An inscribed monument placed in the church read "Exuviae Lau: Brierly vic. hujus Ecclesiae v. id: Jan: 1680. Nescitis horam." Brierley may not have married. William Bagshaw (presbyterian minister of Glossop, Derbys) 1628-1702 wrote "... (Mr. Bryarly) was stricken in years when he entred on that Charge [Tideswell], and yet continued years in it. One with whom I have discoursed to Edification; setting aside the Points wherein we differ'd, and I took it to be an honour to him that he was no Arminian, and that he was for the due Observance (and Sanctification) of the Christan Sabbath."

- (appointed) 23 Oct 1662
(vicar, Tideswell, Derbys)
- (instituted) 13 Jun 1663 [below] OR 19 Jun 1663 [CCEd]

He was followed by LAURENCE BRIERLEY, M.A., who was instituted 13th June, 1663. Bagshaw in the notices which he gives of the vicars of Tideswell does not seem to have been aware of the few months vicariate of Isaac Simpson, but states that Mr. Brierley when at an advanced age followed Mr. Beebee. This is what he tells us of him "After him followed one who was stricken in years when he entered on that charge (Mr. Bryarly), and yet continued years in it. One with whom I have discoursed to edification, setting aside the points wherein we differed, and I took it to be an honour to him that he was no Arminian and that he was for the due observance and (sanctification) of the Christian Sabbath!"[De Spiritualibus Pecci p55, see original below]. At this time, and indeed until it was separated off in 1859, Wormhill was a chapelry in the parish of Tideswell. In the Wormhill Registers is this quaint entry "Nicholas Bagshaw clerke and Schoole master for want of a better. 1674". Brierley seems to have reported his appointment of a curate to serve at Wormhill to the authorities at Lichfield, for amongst the Cathedral MSS. is the following "Know all by these p'sents that I Laurence Bryerly vicar of Tyddeswell in the County of Derby have elected nominated and chosen and by these presents doe elect nominate and choos John Morewood to serve the cure at Wormhill. Witness my hand thereunto the 16 day of August Anno Dni 1676. per me Laurentium Brierly Vicarium de Tiddeswell." [Lichfield MSS T12]. Seeing that Laurence Brierley was "stricken in years" when he was appointed vicar of Tideswell, and that he continued to hold that office for eighteen years, he must have attained a great age when he died on January 9th, 1680.1. His burial is thus recorded in the Register "1680. Jan. 9, Sepult. erat Lawrencius Brierley de Tid., vicarius. et A.M." Visitors to Tideswell will have noticed in the "Cathedral of the Peak," suspended against the north wall of the chancel, a small brass, on one side of which is engraved a portion of an inscription to Bishop Pursglove, whilst on the other are the words "Exuviae Lau: Brierly vic. hujus Ecclesiae v. id: Jan: 1680. Nescitis horam." [DAJ 1917 p104-5]

After him followed one who (Mr. Bryarly) was stricken in years when he entred on that Charge, and yet continued years in it. One with whom I have discoursed to Edification; setting aside the Points wherein we differ'd, and I took it to be an honour to him that he was no Arminian, and that he was for the due Observance (and Sanctification) of the Christan Sabbath. Thomas Broad M.A. (rector of Swynnerton) 1632-1703 H18
Broad, christened on 1 Apr 1632 at Stoke-upon-Trent, was 1st son and heir of Richard Broad of Little Fenton in Stoke-upon-Trent "gentleman" c1595-1670 and Margaret. He studied at Cambridge where on 14 Mar 1647.8 he was admitted as a pensioner at Jesus College, matriculated and in 1649 was a scholar. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1651.2 (M.A., 1655). On 17 Jun 1661 his M.A. was incorporated at Oxford. On 12 Jul 1662 he was in office as vicar of Alton when he subscribed to the Act of uniformity but was only ordained deacon and priest by Lichfield on (the next day) 13 Jul 1662. He probably resigned here before 26 Aug 1662 when after presentation by John Colclough of Burslem gentleman c1624-1666 he was instituted rector of Swynnerton and inducted on 2 Sep. On 26 Nov 1663 he was licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. In 1665 the rectory was valued at £60. In 1665 he did not certify the hearth tax for Swynnerton but was assessed on 6 hearths. Still in office he died, aged 71, and was buried here on 10 Jun 1703. His administration was granted under Lichfield on 15 Jun 1703. Broad married on 24 Mar 1658.9 to Sarah Bagnall (b 1637) daughter of

Robert Bagnall of Longton "gentleman" c1595-.... and Margaret by whom he had 4 sons and 4 daughters. Richard Broad B.A. 1660-.... his first son and heir was ordained a deacon on 23 Sep 1682. [NB: Thomas Broad (rector of Aylton, Herefs) c1636-1709 was a contemporary clergyman.]

Bromesgrove, born in Tean in Checkley and christened on 8 Jul 1628 at Checkley, was a son of Walter Bromesgrove M.A. (stipendiary curate of Cheadle) ?1603-?1679. He studied at Cambridge where on 4 Jul 1644 he was a student at Christ's College and matriculated but is not known to have graduated. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 1652 when he was in office as presbyterian minister of Abbots Bromley and was still there in 1655. On 31 Dec 1658 after nomination by the Trustees for maintenance (about 22 Dec) he was approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers as presbyterian minister of Weston-upon-Trent independent parochial chapelry. He may have received an augmentation to his salary of £30. He was still in office on 11 Jan 1659.60. On 9 Aug 1660 he was ordained deacon and priest by Thomas Fuller (bishop of Ardfert and Aghadoe) 1593–1667 pro Lichfield. If he continued in office after 13 Sep 1660 then, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers, he may have continued here as de facto parochial curate. (By 26 Sep 1662 a succesor was in office). On 7 Aug 1662 - then in office as stipendiary curate of Youlgrave, Derbys - he subscribed to the Act of uniformiy. On 15 Jan 1662.3 after presentation by William Cavendish 3rd Earl of Devonshire 1617-1684 he was instituted vicar of Youlgrave. The next day he was also appointed schoolmaster. Still in office he died, aged 36, and was buried on 29 May 1664 at Youlgrave. Bromesgrove married about 1651 to Mary by whom he had 3 sons and 1 daughter.

When John Bromwich, Head Master of Bridgnorth School and father of nine children, applied for ordination, there was considerable fear that Beauclerk [Bishop of Hereford], always something of a stickler, would refuse him on the grounds that he was not a graduate; Bromwich's referee, Charles Tucker, rector of Hopesay, was able to assure the bishop that Bromwich was equal, if not the superior, of any in the diocese and that the Archdeacon of Lichfield would vouch for this. Bromwich was ordained a month later on 14 March 1756. [Midland History 1983 110]

REV. THOMAS BROMWICH. Dec. 20. [1837] At Lichfield, having nearly accomplished his 84th year, the Rev. Thomas Bromwich, late rector of Wimmington, co. Bedford. He was the sixth son of the Rev. and very learned John l'Anson Bromwich, the fifth vicar of Worfield, co. Salop since the reformation, by Mary his wife and daughter of John Raban of Over Penn, co. Stafford, gent, and Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Thomas and Dorothy Nock, and grandaughter of the Rev. John Raban, clerk, vicar of Penn, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of John Gough of Oldfallings, near to Wolverhampton, esq. of the family of the late very reverend John Chapel Woodhouse, D.D. Dean of Lichfield; and he was the last survivor of the nine children of his father. He was born at his father's house in Pattingham, co. Stafford, and baptized at that church on l0th March 1754, being the youngest of the four sons, all educated by their father. He was for some time curate to Dr. Percy, Bishop of Dromore, at Easton Mauduit, Northamptonshire, and by the Rev. William Edwards, the nephew of the lady of Dr. Percy, was presented to the small rectory of Wimmington, on which he did not reside, and which he resigned some years before his death. On leaving Northamptonshire, he for a short period assisted his elder brother Henry in the service of the church at Worfield ; then residing with his two sisters Mary and Esther, who superintended a ladies' boarding-school at Wyken. He afterwards resided in Bridgenorth with his sister Esther, and was the preceptor of a respectable day school there, from whence he removed with his nieces to

Much Wenlock, and last of all became curate to Dr. Forrester at Broseley, in which curacy he continued, till he unhappily lost the use of one side. In this much to be deplored state, he survived several years, and at length removed to Lichfield. Mr. Bromwich was descended from two wealthy families, the Bromwiches of Hillmorton, co. Warwick, and the I'Ansons of Asbby Legers, co. Northampton His remote ancestor John Bromwich resided at Hillmorton in 1422, whose descendant, John Bromwich, married Anne, daughter of John Nanfan of Birch Morton, co. Worcester, (of a very eminent and respectable family), by Maud his wife, daughter of Sir Richard Cornwall of Berrington in Eye, co. Hereford, being eighth in descent from this last John. His father was held in great esteem by Bishop Percy, who ----- instructed by him to a perfect knowledge in the Hebrew language. Mr. Bromwich used to observe with much pleasantry, that it was a heavenly language and spoke by those in the other world. Through the kindness and interference of this learned prelate, the father obtained from Sherrington Davenport, esq. of Davenport-house, the vicarage of Worfield, which he and his second son Henry held, till the death of the latter on 21st Sept. 1789 The subject of this detail a very few years before his decease became possessed after a long protracted contingency, of a real estate, which had been settled by his great maternal uncle John Emmerton, esq. of Thrumstone, co. Notts., in a fit of ill humour, upon more distant relatives, the last of whom, a female of the name of Bateman, died at the advanced age of between 90 and 100, unmarried, thus depriving his nearest relatives of the property during a very long series of years. Lancelot Bromwich B.A. (rector of Enville) 1627-1681 H19
Bromwich, christened on 30 Dec 1627 at Bewdley, was son and heir of Francis Bromwich of Bewdley, Worcs gentleman ?1605-?1667 and Jane (Lee). He studied at Oxford where on 20 Oct 1646 he was a student at Magdalen Hall and matriculated. At Oxford he was created B.A. on 15 Apr 1648. He was presumably qualified as a presbyterian clergyman by late 1656 when as "Preacher at Enfield" he was a member of the Worcestershire Association. At Enville he was presbyterian assistant minister-in-charge in loco Anthony Fowke 1596-1658 QV. After Fowke's death in Nov 1658 after presentation by (? his father) Francis Bromwich he was appointed as presbyterian minister of Enville and approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers on 12 Jan 1658.9. During that month he paid first fruits. In early Jun 1660 he continued here as de facto rector. In Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of £3. On 5 Mar 1661.2 he was ordained deacon and priest and the next day licensed as a preacher (all) by Lichfield. On 14 Aug 1662 he subscribed to the Act of uniformity . In 1665 the rectory was valued at £100. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Enville constablewick and was assessed on 7 hearths. Still in office he died, aged 54, on 28 Jun 1681 and was buried here on 29 Jun. An inscribed monument was placed in the church (below). His will made on 25 Jun 1681 was proved under PCC on 24 Nov 1681. His personalty was valued at £4,608/8/8 - over six times the next highest cohort rectorial personalty. Bromwich married about 1653 to Alice Cox c1632-1689 dau of John Cox of Clent "gentleman" 1579-1644 by whom he had 4 sons and 5 daughters. None of the sons survived childhood and most of Bromwich's very large real and personal estate eventually passed to the heirs of his only two married daughters - Dorothy wife of Sir Francis Charlton of Ludford, Herefs 2nd Baronet 1651-1729 and Elizabeth wife of Roger Pope of "Diamond Hall", Bridgnorth, Salop 1668-1706.

Thomas Brookes (presbyterian minister of Hints) e1620-c1669 G7 Brookes, born perhaps about 1620, is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 29 Sep 1658 when after nomination by the Trustees for maintenance he was approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers as presbyterian minister of Hints parochial chapelry. On 1 May 1659 he was "established" and granted an augmentation (previously paid to his predecessor) of £50 to his annual salary. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto parochial curate. On 5 Mar 1661 he issued a a licence to "eat flesh in time of sickness" to Elizabeth wife of Richard Floyer of Hints esquire 1603-1679. On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived. Subsequently he moved to Birmingham, Warwicks with his wife and children. He died, aged perhaps about 49, about 1669. Brookes married, perhaps about 1655, to a woman by whom he had children (perhaps 1 son and 1 daughter). Calamy records in 1727 (naming him as William):

> "After his Ejectment he was very poor, and had nothing to maintain his Wife and Children, who were [in] Danger of wanting Bread: He therefore went to Birmingham, from whence he took a Turn at appointed Times, to preach at certain Places where Help was wanted, and would sometimes continue abroad for Weeks at a Time, and then return home with Supplys for his Family ... He was of no great personal Presence, and had a weak Constitution; he had no taking Delivery and so was not popular: But he was a very holy, humble, heavenly Man. His Preaching was solid and practical, his Converse serious and grave, his Patience in Sufferings and his Dependance upon God in Wants and Necessities exemplary, and his Thankfulness great to God and Man. He liv'd by Faith, and was most delightfully employ'd in preparing himself and others for Heaven."

On 1 May 1659 he was "established" and granted an augmentation of £50 that had been paid to his predecessors.
In Jun 1660 he likely continued in office as parochial curate.

C1.1662 Licence to eat flesh in time of sickness ... On 5 Mar 1661.2 Hints parish register records the issue of a licence to "eat flesh in time of sickness". The statute mentioned might be the act of parliament of {5 Elizabeth c5} (1562/3) which contains the clause below.
"Provided also that all persons which by reason or notorious sickness, shall be enforced for recovery of health to eat flesh for the time of their sickness, shall be sufficiently licenced by the Bishop of the Diocess, or by the Parson, vicar or Curate of the Parish were such person shall be sick, or of one of the next Parish adjoyning, if the said Parson, vicar, or Curate of his or their own Parish be willfull, or if there be no Curate within the same Parish. Which licence shall be made in writing signed with the hand of the Bishop of the Diocess, or of the Parson, vicar, or Curate, and not endure longer than the time of the sickness. And that if the sickness shall continue above the space of eight dayes after such licence granted, then the licence shall be registred in the Church book, with the knowledge of one of the Churchwardens, and the party licenced shall give to the Curate four pence for the entry thereof, and that licence to endure no longer, but only the time of his, her, or their sickness."
(5 Mar 1661.2, Hints PR) Since it doth evidently appear unto me Thomas Brookes curate of this parish of Hints that Elizabeth Flyer wife of Richard Flyer Esq. hath need of licence to eat flesh by reason of her sickness which is notorious, I do therefore by the authority to me given by the statute on that behalf made, give licence to her the said Elizabeth to eat flesh during the time of her said sickness, - and permits to have it made redy and dressed in ye said Flyer's house at Hints for her. Witness my hand the 5th day of March 1662. [Printed parish register has 1661]

FILONGLEY [V. £30] Mr. William Brooks. A serious and honest man, who said he would rather beg his bread than conform against his conscience, and his wife was of the same mind, tho' they had seven young children. However, Providence took care of them, so that they brought up their family well. [CALAMY 1802 3 346]

Thomas Browne "M.A." (?presbyterian minister of Ilam) c1621-1693
Browne, born about 1621, is of unknown parentage. [? OR - Browne, born about 1621 in Yorks, is of unknown parentage. He was educated at Giggleswick, Yorks West Riding. He studied at Cambridge where on 28 Apr 1637 he was admitted a sizar at Peterhouse College and matriculated that year. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1640.1.] Browne was sometimes styled M.A. On 6 Mar 1651 he may have been secretly ordained deacon & priest by Oxford pro Lichfield. He was presumably otherwise qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 11 Jul 1656 when after presentation by the guardians of John Port of Ilam esquire c1652-1719 he was appointed by the Triers ?presbyterian minister of Ilam vicarage. In Jun 1660 he likely continued in office as de facto vicar but probably resigned before 22 Nov 1660 when after presentation by the dean of Lincoln then Michael Honywood he was instituted vicar of Ashbourne, Derbys. On 11 Jan 1660.1 after presentation by the Crown he was installed prebendary of Lichfield Gaia Minor and on 5 Oct 1661 applied unsuccessfully to reside. On 20 May 1661 (then or later receiving an archbishop's dispensation for plurality) after (a second) presentation by the dean of Lincoln then Michael Honywood he was plurally instituted vicar of Wirksworth. On 12 May 1662 he was collated prebendary of Lichfield Stotfold. By Nov 1665 he may have become a canon residentiary. On 30 Jun 1666 John Hacket (bishop of Lichfield) mentions in a letter "Mr. Brown my commisioner [in Derbyshire]".After presention (dated 25 Apr 1661) by Arthur Jones of Chastleton, Oxon, patron by assignation of Sir William Juxon of Little Compton, Glos baronet executor of the will of William Juxon (archbishop of Canterbury) by grant of John Hacket (bishop of Lichfield) - Browne was instituted archdeacon of Derby on 23 Aug 1666. In 1689 Browne refused to take the Oath of allegiance to William and Mary and as a nonjuror either resigned from (1 Aug) or was deprived of (1 Feb 1689.90) all his offices. On 25 Sep 1693 when he wrote his will Brown was living at Whitemoor in Duffield, Derbys where he probably died, aged about 72, but was buried on 2 Oct 1693 at Wirksworth. His will made on 25 Sep 1693 was proved under Lichfield on 25 Oct 1693. His personalty was valued at £876/10/0 which included "money upon bond £800". In his will he wrote "unto my nephew William Browne now vicar of Wirksworth [I leave] all my library or Books". Browne married about 1646 to a woman by whom he had 1 son and 2 daughters. His nephew William Browne B.A. (vicar of Wirksworth, Derbys) c1652-1705 was a son of John Browne of Settle, Yorks West Riding c1619-.... and was educated at Giggleswick school.

Mr Brown the Sequestred Minister of Ilam in Staffordshire is in some of my Intelligences called Mr Arch-deacon Brown but whether he is so termed there because he was then Arch-deacon or whether because he might Survive and be made Arch-deacon afterwards doth not appear If he was Arch-deacon at that Time this must have been his Arch-deaconry because the others are full and indeed it seems probable to me that it was so and that he died before or soon after the Restoration because December 9 1660 I find Mr John Riland admitted to this Arch-deaconry. Signed a petition, 31 July 1643, as preacher to the garrison in Warwick Castle (C.J. iii. 187). Signed Testimony 1648. Assistant to Warwickshire Commission 1654, A commissioner for collection of cler, subsidy in Warwickshire 1661. An informer, 1664, writes of collections made in London to 'stave off with gifts, those who for poverty are likely to conform, as Dr. Bryan of Coventry' (C.S.P.D.). Letter of Ralph Hope, of Coventry, to Sir Jos. Williamson, il Aug. 1667, Bryan 'has resolv'd to dis-pence with that oath that entitles him to returne to inhabit amongst us againe, and is accordingly come to towne to the heart breaking of many of his disciples, the wings of whose charity I suppose began to flagg, flying such a distance, which I take as one Reason of his returne . . . observ'd of him all along at Coleshill [his residence since he left Coventry] that he has been ... a constant frequenter of the [Anglican] service, nor has he ever been said to have held, or frequented meetings since interdicted' (C.S.P.D.). 1669, preaching to a few at Coleshill. Letter of Hope to Williamson, 28 Feb. 1669-70, Bryan's book, Dwelling with God, is 'making a great noise, the sixth sermon offends his people as defending the liturgy' (ib.). Licensed (P.) at Coventry 16 May 1672. Buried at Trinity 7 March 1675-6. Funeral sermon by Nath. Wanley, V. of Trinity. Baxter wrote of Bryan that he 'had so great a fitness to teach and educate Youth, that there have gone out of his House more worthy Ministers into the Church of God, than out of many Colledges in the University in that time' (R.B. iii. 93). Commission 1654. 'Hehad been twice in Prison with Mr, Tallents and others, before the Year 66, tho' nothing was laid to their Charge. But in the Year 85 he, with great Difficulty escap'd, when Mr. Tallents [q.v.] and others were confin'd. When the Five Mile Act was executed in 66, he refusing the Oath, remov'd with his Family to Shafnal [i.e. Shifnal], and came by Night to Shrewsbury (sometimes not without great Hazard) that he might administer Gospel-Ordinances to the People who own'd him for their Pastor there. Returning afterwards with his Family to Salop, upon King Charles's Indulgence in 72, [Licensed (P.) 13 May 1672] he with his Colleague Mr, Tallents, and other Ministers, enjoy'd uninterrupted Liberty of Preaching in the House of that worthy and religious Gentlewoman Mrs. Hunt [widow of Col. Thos. Hunt, M.P. for Shrewsbury in Long Parliament, d. 1669]. In the Year 83 new Troubles arose. Two Maidservants , thro' Promises and Threats, were drawn to give Information against him and others for Preaching. He only was seiz'd and brought before the Judge, and fin'd in 40 /. Afterwards he, with Mr. Tallents and others, were put into the Crown-Office; his Goods were in great Danger, and he was forc'd immediately to leave the Town: But upon King James's General Pardon, he su'd out his Discharge from that Court. When Liberty was given in 87, he and Mr. Tallents reassum'd their former Work, and continu'd till his Death made the Separation.' He, Tallents, and others, presented James II with a purse of gold (£100) when he visited Shrewsbury 1686 (H.M.G. 10. iv. 376). 'About Five Years before his Death he had a sore stroke of the Palsie, which produc'd a continu'd Weakness in his Right-side, and disabled his Right-hand. . . . About Seven or Eight Weeks before his Death, he told Mr. Tallents, he was preparing his own Funeral Sermon, on 2 Tim. 4. 7. upon which he preach'd several Sermons; and the last on the Lord's Day in the Morning before his Death ... on the Thursday following.' Died 31 Aug., buried at St. Chad's, 4 Sept. 1699. Will 20 Feb. 1693-4: p. 3 Oct. 1699 (B'ham.), Property at Leicester. Son John: daughter Katherine, wife of John Cowper, of Wolverhampton, mercer. Nathaniel Bryan M.A. (presbyterian minister of Stafford St Mary) c1629-1657
Bryan, born about 1629, was 2nd son of John Bryan M.A. (rector of Barford, Warwicks) c1606-1676 [ODNB]. He was educated at Coventry. He studied at Cambridge where on 23 Sep 1645 he was admitted as a sizar at Peterhouse and presumably matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1649.50 (M.A., 1653). He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 1653 when he was in office as presbyterian minister (and register) of Stafford St Mary. Still in office he died, aged about 28, in Feb 1656.7. He was succeded in office by his brother Noah Bryan c1635-1672 QV. Bryan married on 15 Nov 1655 at Stafford St Mary to Rachel Fowler (b 1625) dau of Richard Fowler (rector of Barthomley, Cheshire) c1589-1649 and Catherine Ashton dau of Thomas Ashton of London haberdasher (no known children). Bryan's father John Bryan c1606-1676 was rector of Barford, Warwicks 1632 until 1644 and then compliant minister of Coventry Holy Trinity from May 1644 until his deprivation in 1662. John Bryan M.A. (presbyterian minister of Shrewsbury Holy Cross) c1628-1699, Samuel Bryan M.A. (presbyterian minister of Allesley, Warwicks) c1633-1682 and Noah Bryan M.A. (presbyterian minister of Stafford St Mary) c1635-c1672 were his brothers.

Noah Bryan M.A. (presbyterian minister of Stafford St Mary) c1635-c1672 G8

Bryan, born about 1635, was 4th son of John Bryan M.A. (rector of Barford, Warwicks) c1606-1676 [ODNB]. He was educated at Coventry. He studied at Cambridge where he was admitted as a pensioner at Peterhouse on 23 Apr 1650 - presumably matriculated - and in 1652 was a scholar. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. 1653 (M.A., 1657). The same year his M.A. was incorporated at Oxford. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by about 22 Feb 1656.7 when after presentation by Oliver Cromwell qua Protector he was approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers as presbyterian minister of Stafford St Mary rectory and sworn in the next day. Here he succeded his brother Nathaniel Bryan c1629-1657 QV both as minister and register. In Feb 1657.8 the mayor and inhabitants of Stafford petitioned the Protector for an augmentation of £40 to Bryan's annual salary of £24 which the Trustees for the maintenance of preaching ministers granted or confirmed by their order dated 20 Jan 1658.9. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto rector. About Sep 1660 he was displaced from office by the former rector Daniel Bayley c1600-1676 QV. On 13 Feb 1662.3 he was ordained deacon and priest by Exeter. Calamy records in 1713 "When he left Stafford he became Chaplain to the Earl of Donegal [Arthur Chichester 1st Earl of Donegal 1606-1675], and went with him into Ireland .... He was an excellent Preacher, and a very holy Man, as appears by his Diary." Bryan is said to have signed a letter from Dublin ministers to London ministers on a question of church discipline on 8 July 1669. He probably died, aged about 37, about 1672 in Ireland. He may not have married. His brother Samuel Bryan c1633-1682 (who was still living in England on 5 Sep 1672) also served as Chaplain to the Earl of Donegal (likely immediately succeding his brother) and is mentioned in the Donegal's will "Item I leave and bequeath to Mr Samuell Bryan my household chaplain as a testimony of my sincere love to him fifty pounds ster: over and above his years salary for four years to comence within two months after my death." It is said of Chichester and his third wife - in the period after 1660 - "The countess was an active patron of protestant dissent, in Ulster, Dublin, and later London, and the family drew its chaplains from the ranks of English presbyterianism. The earl's tolerance of presbyterian expansion was particularly evident in Belfast." Bryan's father John Bryan c1606-1676 was rector of Barford, Warwicks 1632 until 1644 and then compliant minister of Coventry Holy Trinity from May 1644 until his deprivation in 1662. John Bryan M.A. (presbyterian minister of Shrewsbury Holy Cross) c1628-1699, Nathaniel Bryan M.A. (presbyterian minister of Stafford St Mary) c1629-1657 and Samuel Bryan M.A. (presbyterian minister of Allesley, Warwicks) c1633-1682 were his brothers.

Buckberry, (? christened on 4 Mar 1594.5 Dowsby, Lincs), was probably a son of John Buckbury of Dowsby, Lincs e1559-.... He studied at Cambridge where at Easter 1613 he was a sizar at Corpus Christ College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1615.6 (M.A., 1619). On 22 Sep 1616 he was ordained deacon and on 19 Sep 1619 ordained priest (both) by Peterborough. On 21 Jan 1629.30 after presentation by the Crown he was instituted rector of Drayton Bassett and on 31 Jan read The 39 articles of religion in the church. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. Still in office he died, aged about 54, and was buried here on 29 Nov. Buckberry married on 2 May 1633 at Drayton Bassett to Ann Moore by whom he had ?2 daughters. His widow Ann and two other family members were buried at Haslingfield, Cambs. His daughter Lettice was the first wife of (his successor) Timothy Fox (presbyterian minister of Drayton Bassett) 1628-1710 QV. John Dymoke (rector of Haltham-on-Bain, Lincs) c1595-?1648 may have been his brother-in-law.

(Longnor) In 1830 the newly appointed curate, William Buckwell, lived just outside the village, probably at Townend where in 1831 Sir George Crewe rebuilt a house for him. -----. The appointment of William Buckwell as resident curate in 1830 brought a change. Described by Sir George Crewe as pious and worthy, Buckwell put the church's fabric into good order and encouraged Sir George to establish dependent chapels in Fawfieldhead and Hollinsclough. [VCH]

Richard Buller (parochial curate of Adbaston) c1610-1678 D20
Buller, born about 1610, was a son of John Buller (vicar of High Offley) c1574-..... He studied at Oxford where on 18 Jun 1630 as a student at Pembroke College he matriculated but is not known to have graduated. He was presumably anglicanly ordained deacon and priest at some time after 1632 when after probable presentation by the prebendary of Brewood he was appointed parochial curate of Adbaston. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. On 12 July 1647 the Committee for plundered ministers granted him an augmentation of £10/10/0 to his annual salary "out of the rent reserved for the dean from this impropriate rectory, in addition to the £14 which was accustomed to be paid by the farmer thereof and the parsonage house, churchyard, etc, worth £2/10/0 pa". Still in office as minister in early Jun 1660 he was then reinstated as parochial curate and, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), was confirmed in office. He subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 14 Aug 1662. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Adbaston constablewick and was assessed on 2 hearths at Adbaston township. Still in office he died, aged about 68, and was buried here on 30 May 1678. Buller married on 25 Jul 1648 at Adbaston to Mary Purifery (d 1674) (no known children).

Henry Burford M.A. (compliant minister of Tatenhill) c1590-....
Burford, born about 1590, was a son of Francis Burford B.A. (vicar of Cliffe Pypard, Wilts) c1558-1614. He studied at Oxford where about 1613 he was a student at St John's College. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 29 Oct 1616 (M.A., 17 Jun 1619). Earlier on 22 Apr 1614 he had been ordained deacon and priest by Oxford and on 10 Jun 1614, after probable presentation by Richard Hunton of Bushton, had a dispensation to become vicar of Cliffe Pypard in succession to his father Francis. On 2 Oct 1622 he was appointed a preacher throughout the diocese of Salisbury. Burford is said to have still been in office in 1638. It is not known if on 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. He definitely resigned before 4 May 1649 when a successor was appointed. Most likely he had already resigned before 1 Mar 1646.7 when he was "appointed" by parliament as compliant minister of Tatenhill rectory. In 1651 he was involved in a court case regarding Tatenhill "parsonage". As minister of Tatenhill rectory Burford was the patron of the parochial curacies of Barton-under-Needwood and Wychnor. At Barton-under-Needwood he probably appointed two presbyterian ministers - Thomas Bladon c1631-1703 QV about 2 Mar 1655.6 and Henry Byard c1616-1677 QV about 23 Aug 1658. An inquisition held on 23 Aug 1658 found that Burford had an annual salary of £215 out of which he was to pay £50 to Henry Byard (presbyterian minister of Barton-under-Needwood) c1616-1677 and £10 to "Mr Baton" (minister of Wychnor). In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto rector. It would appear that Burford coercively resigned here before 1 Sep 1660 when his successor Robert Wild D.D. c1616-1679 QV, after presentation by the Crown, was inducted as rector of Tatenhill. It is said that Wild "allowed him £20 to keep him alive as he was reduced to poverty and much impotency". (On 24 Aug 1662 Wild did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived.) Burford married about 10 Jun 1617 to Elizabeth Hills (d 1655) dau of Christopher Hills of Lydiard Tregoze, Wilts gentleman by whom he had 1 son.

John Burtinshaw (vicar of Caverswall) ?1638-1671 H21
Burtinshaw, born about 1638, was probably the son of Thomas Burtinshaw of Manchester, Lancs who studied at Cambridge and was on 5 Mar 1656.7 admitted as a sizar at Emmanuel College and matriculated but is not known to have graduated. About Jan 1661.2 Burtinshaw was ordained deacon and priest by Lichfield and after presentation by George Parker of "Park Hall", Weston Coyney in Caverswall esquire c1592-1675 was instituted vicar of Caverswall and paid a subsidy of 10/2. He subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 28 Jul 1662. On 22 Oct 1663 he was licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Caverswall constablewick and was assessed on 1 hearth at Forsbrook in Dilhorne. Still in office he died, aged about 33, and was buried here on 18 Mar 1670.1. His will made on 26 Jan 1670.1 was proved under Lichfield on 8 Apr 1671. His personalty was valued at £108/19/0 and included " his library of bookes and Presse wherein hys bookes are". Burtinshaw married first about 1662 to Mary ?Hulme (d 1664) by whom he had 1 son. He married second about 1666 Joyce ?Wood (d 1713) by whom he probably had 3 daughters.

George Burton (?presbyterian minister of Marchington) e1605-....
Burton, born perhaps about 1605, is of unknown parentage. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 1651.2 when after possible appointment by Zachary Burton (presbyterian minister of Hanbury) 1627-1654 QV qua patron of Marchington he was in office as ? presbyterian minister of Marchington parochial chapelry. Here a successor was acting minister in Mar 1652.3. Zachary was the son of Elias Burton of Somerby, Leics c1597-.... perhaps suggesting that George was George Burton of Somerby, Leics e1605-.... who married on 4 Jun 1635 at Somerby to Jane Reeve by whom he had 2 sons - one named Elias.

BOLAS (Great) [R.] Mr. Edward Bury. Of Oxford university. Born in Worcestershire, 1616. By the advice of Dr. Grew and Mr. Bryan he spent several years at the great school at Coventry, under the care of the famous Mr. White, and was afterwards ordained upon good testimonials of his qualifications; so that Walker's reflection upon him appears groundless. At five years old he was adopted by an uncle as heir to a good estate ; but such was the profaneness of the family, that when God had touched his heart, he desired to be removed ; professing he could live no longer where he could have no more advantages for his soul. Hereupon both his father and uncle were so disgusted, that he utterly lost their favour, and all expectations from them. " Thus (saith he) in the morning of my age, I began my sufferings ; chusing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than enjoy the profits or pleasures of the world, which are but for a season. He was afterwards kindly received by another uncle, in whose family religion flourished. He was earnest in the pursuit of learning; spent some years at Oxford; removed thence into a private family, where he was chaplain; following his studies with unwearied diligence, and became assistant to the aged minister of the place ; whence after some time, he removed to the rectory of Great Bolas, where he continued his useful labours for many years, and lived in peace with all his neighbours, till being suspected of desiring the king's restoration, his house was searched, his goods plundered, and his life threatened and much endangered. When the king returned, and the Act of uniformity passed, he carefully studied his duty, and thus recorded the result of his thoughts: "I solemnly profess, in the presence of the great God, before whom I must shortly give an account of my words and actions, that in my most impartial judgment, after all the light that I can get by reading, praying, thinking, and discoursing with above twenty judicious and solid divines of both persuasions, I look upon it my duty not to conform ; and whatever becomes either of myself or family, as I cannot force my judgment, so I will not dare to force my conscience." Many years after that, he professess, " That he never read or heard, or suffered any thing that caused in him any one repenting thought of his Nonconformity." And again, says he, " I did and do believe, as I shall answer before the searcher of all hearts, that if I had conformed upon the terms enjoined, I had sinned against God ; and I do solemnly profess, if ever I can be convinced of the contrary, I will conform still." Tho' he was forced from his pulpit, he was loth to leave his beloved people: and being devoted to the ministry, he durst not quit it. He built himself a house in the parish, with a design of continuing his endeavours to do good there; and how apparent soever the danger was, he never neglected any opportunity of service that offered. The Oxford-act afterwards drove him from his house, and put him to his shifts; for tho' he had a father and a mother and ten brothers and brothers-in-law, who had families, yet he could not reside with any one of them, because their habitations all came within the compass of that act. But when the times were more quiet, and the king gave liberty to his dissenting subjects, he procured licences for himself, and for his house, and with great zeal and fervency began to preach again. He attended with his family on the public ministry in the morning, and preached at home in the afternoon, without any salary or the prospect spect of emolument from any of his hearers. He would often say, "I shall heartily rejoice if it will please God to give me my liberty to preach for nothing to my dying clay." He looked upon his work to be God's ; and the less reward he had from men, the more he hoped for at last from the Lord his Master. June 14, 1681, being earnestly desired to assist in prayer at a private fast, at a time of exceeding drought, he complied, and another person preached. But the meeting-house being broke up by some neighbouring justices, it was positively sworn that HE preached, and he was fined so/. On his refusing to pay it, they distrained upon him, and took away his houshold goods, and books, and even the bed he lay upon. The sale of them was published in the parish-church, and in three market towns : but not one person coming to buy them, they were returned, upon this promise, that they should be given up when required by lawful authority. He was afterwards extremely harassed, and suffered great loss in his estate, by the prosecution of malicious people at sessions, assizes, and in the crown-office. At last he was again forced from his family upon the Oxford-act, and wandered from house to house, and from county to county. But in the midst of all his troubles and losses, he was persuaded that God would return, with interest, what he had lost for the sake of Christ and his conscience ; which at last he acknowledged had been fully done ; partly by the death of relations, and partly by comfortably disposing of his children.—Some years before he died it pleased God to deprive him of his sight ; but tho' this was a peculiar affliction to one who took such pleasure in reading, yet he was never heard to speak one repining word, but was often praising God that so great a mercy as his eyesight had been continued so long. His last affliction was a mortification in one foot, which he bore with invincible patience, saying in the midst of his utmost torment, " I am not afraid to die." After many wearisome nights and days, he breathed out his soul to God, May 5, 1700, aged 84. He was a holy, studious, and learned man ; had great zeal for God, and was desirous to draw all men to him. Mr. Samuel Bury, pastor of a congregation at Bristol, was his son. WORKS. Thomas Bury M.A. (rector of Norbury) ?1608-1649

Bury, (? christened on 11 Jan 1607.8 at Mountsorrell), was probably a son of Robert Berrie of Mountsorrell, Leics ?yeoman c1578-.... He studied at Cambridge where at Easter 1626 he was a sizar at Trinity College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1629.30. He was appointed head schoolmaster of Stone Grammar School on 17 Apr 1630. On 24 Sep 1631 he was ordained deacon by Lichfield and likely soon after ordained priest.
On 20 Nov 1638 after presentation by John Skrymsher of Norbury esquire 1600-1667 he was instituted rector of Norbury and inducted on 2 Dec. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. The order book of the Staffordshire parliamentary committee notes that on 21 Feb 1643.4 "Forasmuch as Mr. Berie parson of Norbury hath given forth in his sermon divers scandalous speeches against the Parliament. It is therefore ordered that Captaine Henry Stone shall forthwith bring the said Mr. Berie before the Committee at Stafford to answer his misdemeanors, and that the said Capt. Stone shall also seize upon the horses and cattle of the said Mr. Beryes for the state service.". And on 27 Mar 1644 "Ordered that Mr. Berry parson of Norbury for preachinge malicious doctrine agenst the Parliament callinge them usurpers etc. be comitted to prison". Still in office at Norbury (and probably at Stone) Bury died, aged about 41, and was buried here, described in the register as "rector huius parochia, vir tam in Theologia quam in medicina ecregue eruditus", on 22 May 1649 perhaps as requested "on the north side of the holie table in the chancel ... with such rites and ceremonies as becomes a protestant minister of the church of England and a good subject". His will made on 26 Mar 1649 was proved under Lichfield on 9 Nov 1650 and again under PCC on 17 Nov 1657. In his will he wrote "my Library be kept for my only sonne ... Tho Bury" (who died in Oct 1649). Bury married on 18 Dec 1644 at Norbury to Ann Watkiss by whom he had 1 son and 1 daughter.

The effigy lies under an arched recess in the north wall of the chancel and is badly worn. No features are visible but the tonsure can be seen. He lies with his head resting upon a cushion. The amice is still visible and below the chasuble is seen the dalmatic and alb, while the feet rest upon a rounded projection from the end of the slab." This is presumably the effigy of Hugh de Byshbury, which was outside the church until the late eighteenth century. [INTERNET]

John Butler M.A. (presbyterian minister of Lichfield St Mary) c1621-1671 G10
Butler, born about 1621, was a son of William Butler of Oddington, Glos. He studied at Oxford where on 15 Dec 1637 he was a student at St Edmund Hall and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 1 Jul 1641 (M.A., University College) 20 Oct 1648. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 6 Aug 1651 when he was in office as presbyterian joint minister of Lichfield with an annual salary of £150 (together with William Langley 1618-1689 QV). Langley accused Butler of not being ordained (although it is unclear if he meant as an anglican or as a presbyterian), of wanting to become (sole) minister of Lichfield St Chad (Stowe) and of being instrumental in his - Langley's - ejection. Writing about 1654 in The persecuted minister (1656) Langley states:

> ... Had you been as carefull to have been ordained, as you were covetous of means, you might not have wanted Ordination. The Committee for the Universities, and the Trustees and Committee for plundred Ministers had your name given them as a Minister, and a Certificate to that purpose; for they never sealed any in any place but such of whom they received testimony that they were Ministers of the Gospel. I wonder by whose means and sollicitations those Testimonies and Certificates were procured, who was guilty of these deliberate untruths. Did the Minister subscribe ignorantly? the sin of misinformation was yours; if knowingly, then both equally guilty: how can you free your self from aequivocation and jugling in this kinde? Upon these Certificates you were assigned to a publick Charge, and had the allowance of £150 per annum, preached, baptized, and married. ... that nothing would content you but a distinct Charge contrary to the order of settlement which enjoyned a joynt charge of the City and Parishes thereunto belonging, had we continued as one, would have been a strong motive to have perswaded the City to follow our example; but you must needs row to the North [The church of St Chad (or Stowe) lay about half a mile north-east of the church of St Mary], and leave me alone in the South. At your first coming to Stowe you owned the people as your flock; you had not been there above two moneths, ... I am constrained to adde one thing, and were there nothing else, that bespeaks you most unworthy, that you had privately a hand in my bitter persecution for the accomplishing of your self-ends.

However a letter by an unnamed Lichfield resident records:

> Sir, WHEN I first came to live in Litchfield, which was in May 1655, Mr Butler was the sole settled Minister of St Mary's, (a pious good Man) and so continu'd peaceably, well beloved and highly approv'd of by the Generality of the Peo[ple] untill after the Restoration; when he was ejected by Mr Harrison, who then was Minister of a Place commonly call'd Blitchfield in Staffordshire which he afterwards enjoy'd with St Mary's and other Dignities. As to Mr Langley I never knew him nor his Book. I have heard that before my Time, he preach'd at St Mary's, and Mr Butler at St Chad's alias Stow Church in the City: And when Mr Langley was remov'd from St Mary's, Mr Butler became Minister thereof. The Occasion of Mr Langley's Removal I know nothing of. Yours, &c.

At Lichfield, on the ejection of Langley probably in early 1654, Butler continued as (sole) minister. On 28 Aug 1654 he was appointed an Assistant Commissioner for the ejection of scandalous ministers in Staffordshire. He frequently certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry in 1658.9. In early Jun 1660 he may have continued here as de facto vicar but, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), was displaced from office when Richard Harrison c1611-1676 QV was "restored" here. Calamy records in 1727 "he rarely preach'd after his being silenc'd, unless sometimes in his own House". Butler subsequently moved to Bedfordshire. He died, aged about 50, in May 1671 perhaps in Bedfordshire but was buried on 25 May at Lichfield St Mary. His will made on 5 May 1671 was proved under PCC on 13 Jul 1671. Butler married first about 1650 to a woman by whom he had 2 sons and probably other children. He married (apparently) second perhaps about 1658 to Elizabeth (no known children). Lilly Butler D.D. (canon of Canterbury) 1651-1717 was one of his sons. On 3 Jul 1677 Thomas Minors of Lichfield mercer 1609-1677, a wealthy presbyterian, wrote his will and bequeathed "unto Lilly Butler clerke sonne of my late much honoured Friend Mr John Butler of Lichfield deceased ... one messuage in Edyall neare Lichfield ... [to] Mrs Elizabeth Butler heretofore of Lichfield now of north=hill in the county of Bedford widow £20". Minors had also paid for Lilly's university education.

(1656) " I shall conclude this with an expression of Mr Butlers to Mr Crafton [fn2], That at that time he came to Lichfield there was no Ordination in London. I blush and admire at your frivolous excuses and groundlesse assertions: was there no Ordination in London from June 1651, at which time you were motioned to Lichfield till May following 1652. Had you been as carefull to have been ordained, as you were covetous of means, you might not have wanted Ordination. The Committee for the Universities, and the Trustees and Committee for plundred Ministers had your name given them as a Minister, and a Certificate to that purpose; for they never sealed any in any place but such of whom they received testimony that they were Ministers of the Gospel. I wonder by whose means and sollicitations those Testimonies and Certificates were procured, who was guilty of these deliberate untruths. Did the Minister subscribe ignorantly? the sin of misinformation was yours; if knowingly, then both equally guilty: how can you free your self from aequivocation and jugling in this kinde? Upon these Certificates you were assigned to a publick Charge, and had the allowance of £150 per annum, preached, baptized, and married. Are these light and sleight things? Have you not cause to be humbled, and lay aside your vain and frivolous excuses; to cozen your brethren, to delude a Committee? Oh admirable policy ! to abuse a city with pretence of what you were not, proudly to usurp the Ministerial Office, are of small account or reckoning with you; yet this is not all: it is a true observation, Vix bono peraguntur exitu, quae malo sunt inchoata principio. Things ill begun, are not commonly well ended. You have abundantly manifested this, not onely by your schisme, which hath caused a wide breach in a peaceable City, though I used all possible means to prevent it: being truly sensible of those sad effects and consequences that ensue upon the division of Ministers, that nothing would content you but a distinct Charge contrary to the order of settlement which enjoyned a joynt charge of the City and Parishes thereunto belonging, had we continued as one, would have been a strong motive to have perswaded the City to follow our example; but you must needs row to the North [The church of St Chad, or, Stowe lay about half a mile north-east of the church of St Mary], and leave me alone in the South. At your first coming to Stowe you owned the people as your flock; you had not been there above two moneths, but your friends sent to a member of the Councel of State (doubtlesse not unknown to you) to bring you to that place and people you had before denied; you have now your longed expectation, though to my unspeakable trouble. And let the City judge whether I ever in the least troubled or disquieted you in your place. I shall pass by your scornfull language to Mr. Cr. in which you discovered a great deal of pride and malice. I am constrained to adde one thing, and were there nothing else, that bespeaks you most unworthy, that you had privately a hand in my bitter persecution for the accomplishing of your self-ends. All is well so long as you fare well and rule the rost; you took a politick course how to be assured to feed your self, before you fed your flock: and to haue maintenance, before you were a Minister: what a preposterous thing is this, neither lawfull by Mans or GODS Laws, that such should have Church-means that were not Church-men, or set apart to the Ministery? It is justly to be feared, now you are arrived at the pitch of your desires, you will involve the poor City in much confusion, and disorder; for, Schismaticks are men of unquiet and turbulent spirits, and your actions bespeak you a proud, seditious, and self-ended Man: and now forsooth you are [28 Aug 1654] got to be a Commissioner for ejecting of scandalous Ministers: it is a brave world, when vice rebukes sin; hopes of a glorious Reformation " [William Langley The persecuted minister ... (1656) p96-8]

(1778) [LICHFIELD ST MARY) LITCHFIELD St Mary's. [vicar] Mr John Butler M.A. Of Edmuns Hall [St Edmund Hall], Oxford. Born at Oddington in Gloucestershire. Dr W represents a disagreement with this gentleman, as the chief occasion of the sequestration of Mr William Langley, his co-partner, who (it should seem) discovered Mr Butler not to be in orders. The Dr adds in the margin, "possibly he had been thrust in upon Mr Langley." Whereas Mr Butler took his degrees at Oxford, and so was very likely to be in orders, at the time of his settlement in Litchfield. Mr Langley was not his {immediate} predecessor there, but Mr Harrison, so that it was not possible for him to be thrust in upon Mr Langley there, "how common soever this was in those times." Mr Butler rarely preached after being silenced, unless sometimes in his own house. A gentleman in Litchfield, who was in good circumstances, was very kind to him and his family; set up one of his sons in a trade, and sent another to the university, where he was at the charge of his education; and when he died, left him £12 a year. Mr Butler died about 1670, aged about 50. He was an holy good man. Dr Lilly Butler, of Aldermanbury, was his son. Who being applied to for a true account of his father, declared Dr W's account false, and referring to it, said, "See the effects of bigotry!" At Dr Butler's motion, a friend wrote to a worthy person of Litchfield about the matter, {whose answer confirms the above account.} [Dr W appears to be John Walker author of "Sufferings ..." (1911) XXX [Turner (1911) p]
(1915) 74 Langley and Butler succeeded Tallent and Cleyton as joint ministers of Lichfield with the same salary [£150 each]. The committee (for the reformation of the universities?) first ordered them to receive it on 6 Aug 1651, having received a good certificate of their piety and fitness. (SionMS p494, 496) Further orders to pay this salary to them are recorded in LMS 976 p324, 518. On 3 March 1653.4 the trustees suspended Langley's salary in consequence of an order to that effect made by the Lord Protector and the Council of State at Whitehall (LMS 966 p2; 975 p353; SPDI LXVII 17, no. 24), and despite his petition in 1655 (S. PDom. Inter, xcvn, 109, nos. 324, 325) no further augmentation seems to have been paid to him. In 1658 the trustees made a further enquiry about him, and on 1 Jun 1658 directed that as he had been approved by the commissioners their order of 3 Mar 1653.4 should not prevent his preaching elsewhere than in Lichfield, if the trustees should find him duly qualified according to Act of Parliament. (SPDI CLXXXI, 53, no. 19, and 66, no. 12) Walker says that he was sequestered because he preached on Christmas day and administered the sacrament according to the Common Prayer Book. He was previously at Ellastone QV, and Cheadle QV For an account of his life and writings see Simms. For his successor here see St Chad's, Lichfield, Langley is said to have become minister at Wellington (Salop) and vicar of Stoke-upon-Tern (Salop) in 1666 (Foster). 75 Butler. (See note 74) Son of William Butler of Oddington, Glos; born c1621; B.A. 1641 Edmund Hall, Oxford; M.A. 1648 University College, Oxford (Foster); appointed an assistant to the commissioners for the removal of scandalous ministers 1654; frequently certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry 1658.9 (LMS 999); in receipt of the £150 augmentation till his ejectment in 1662 (LMS 981 p20; 994 p142, etc). [NOTE: Lamb MS appear to extend only until Mar 1659.60]. Langley discovered that he was not in orders and thereupon refused to work with him (Walker). See Calamy.
(1924) John Butler. vicar, St. Mary's, Lichfield, 1651-60. Son of William Butler, Oddington, Glos. M.A., Univ., Oxford. 1648 (matriculated from St. Edmund Hall, Dec 15, 1637, age 16). Assistant minister to the commissioners for removal of scandalous ministers in Staffordshire, 1654. [Matthews (1924) p85-8]
(1934) BUTLER, JOHN. vicar of St. Mary's, Lichfield. 1660. Held the living after ejection of Wm. Langley 3 March 1653-4. The seqd. vicar, Ric. Harrison, restored. After his ejection Langley, in The Persecuted Minister (1656), asserted that Butler 'minister of Stowe [C. of St. Chad's at Stowe, Lichfield, in Oct. 1651] ... took upon him a publick charge of Souls at Lichfield, the boldnesse to Marry, and to Baptize Infants, had the maintenance of 150 lib. per annum allowed him upon a false Certificate that he was a Minister of the Gospel, and yet was not set apart to this holy Function'. Refers to a letter of 15 Sept. 1652 written by certain persons in defence of Butler. Walker repeats the accusation. Butler's son, Dr. Lilly Butler, Canon of Canterbury, being asked by a friend of Calamy's as to its truth, not only declared the charge false, 'but referring particularly to it used this Expression; See the Effects of Bigotry! At D. Butler's Motion, my Friend wrote to a worthy Person an Inhabitant of Lichfield, about the Matter, and received this Answer, Sir, "WHEN I first came to live in Litchfield, which was in May 1655, Mr. Butler was the sole settled Minister of St Mary's, (a pious good Man) and so continu'd peaceably, well beloved, and highly approv'd of by the Generality of the People untill after the Restoration; when he was ejected by Mr. Harrison, who then was Minister of a Place commonly call'd Blitchfield [i.e. Blithfield], in Staffordshire, which he afterwards enjoy'd with St Mary's and other Dignities. 'As to Mr. Langley, I never knew him nor his Book. I have heard that before my Time, he preach'd at St Mary's, and Mr. Butler at St Chad's alias Stow Church in the City: And when Mr. Langley was remov'd from St Mary's, Mr. Butler became Minister thereof. The Occasion of Mr. Langley's Removal, I know nothing of. Yours, &c."' [SHC 1915 171: Walker, ii. 299: L. 976. 324: Persecuted Minister, 79, 82: Cal. 627,774] --- Born at Oddington, Glos. St. Edmund Hall, Oxf., mc. 15 Dec. 1637, age 16: B.A. 1641: M.A., from University, 1648. 'Rarely preach'd after his being silenc'd, unless sometimes in his own House.' Befriended by Thos. Minors, a prominent Nonconformist layman in Lichfield, who set up one of his sons in trade, and sent the other, Lilly, to Oxford. By will (P.C.C. 1677) Minors left 'all his interest' in lands at Edial to Lilly Butler, 'son of my late much-honoured friend Mr. John Butler', and £20 to Butler's widow, then living at Northill, Beds. Buried at St. Mary's, Lichfield, 25 May 1671. Will, as of the county of Bedford, clk., 5 May 1671: P.C.C. 13 July 1671. Wife Elizabeth. Witnesses J. Swynfen (M.P. for Tamworth, see D.N.B.) and Dorothy Minors (wife of Thomas). [Calamy Rev (1934) p94]

Thomas Buxton (presbyterian minister of Tettenhall) 1625-?1685 G11
Buxton, christened on 4 Sep 1625 at Kirk Ireton, was 4th son of German Buxton of Kirk Ireton, Derbys yeoman c1585-1654 and Millicent Buxton dau of John Buxton of Carsington, Derbys gentleman. He was educated at Wirksworth, Derbys. He studied at Cambridge where on 29 Sep 1645 he was admitted as a pensioner at St John's College and matriculated that year but did not graduate. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 25 Jul 1655 when after presentation by Oliver Cromwell (Lord Protector) he was approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers as presbyterian minister of Tettenhall independent parochial chapelry. However on 23 Oct 1655 the Committee for plundered ministers withheld an augmentation to his annual salary on the petition of the former minister Richard Harrison c1611-1676 QV. On 1 Dec 1656 he was also appointed register. About 1659 he received an augmentation of £73 to his annual salary. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto parochial curate. On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived. From 1665 to 1672 he lived at Tamworth where in 1665 he was assessed on 4 hearths for a house he shared with "Mr Overton" (perhaps his father-in-law). In 1669 he was a teacher of a conventicle held at Shuttington, Warwicks "in the parish church, there being no min[iste]r residing upon it ... all the resorters to it are from Newton Regis". On 16 Apr 1672 he was licensed as a congregational teacher at his own house at Tamworth and on 9 May 1672 he and Abel Collyer were licensed as congregational teachers at Coventry, Warwicks. Buxton died, probably aged about 60, and was buried on 2 Mar 1684.5 at Bradbourne, Derbys (where his paternal grandfather had lived). Buxton married 7 Mar 1652.3 at Elvaston, Derbys to Grace Overton (?1629-?1675) probably dau of George Overton of Tamworth by whom he had 1 son and 2 daughters. Edward Buxton (rector of Nottingham St Peter) c1638-1680 was a younger brother.

Henry Byard M.A. (presbyterian minister of Barton-under-Needwood) c1616-1677 G12
Byard, born about 1616, was a younger son of Henry Byard of Bretby, Derbys husbandman c1582-1657. He studied at Oxford where on 27 Oct 1637 he was a student at Magdalen College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 3 Dec 1638 (M.A., 8 Jul 1641). He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by Apr 1645 when he was in office as presbyterian minister of Wheldrake, Yorks East Riding. On 15 Jan 1646.7 the Committee for plundered ministers ordered him to be sequestered for non-payment of fifths but he pleaded a fault in the order and may still have been in office here on 14 Jan 1657.8 when he was an Assistant Commissioner for the ejection of scandalous ministers in Yorkshire East Riding. By 23 Aug 1658 probably after appointment by the patron, the minister of Tatenhill rectory, then Henry Burford compliant minister c1590-.... QV he was in office as presbyterian minister of Barton-under-Needwood dependent parochial chapelry where his annual salary of £50 was paid for by Burford. In Jun 1660 he likely continued in office as de facto parochial curate. He was apparently ordained deacon and priest by Ardfert pro York on 14 Aug 1660 but does not appear to have subscribed to the Act of uniformity and was thus probably to be deprived on 24 Aug 1662. On 24 Sep 1662 his office was vacant. His successor at Barton, Godfrey Ward e1639-1696, was in office by 8 Mar 1662.3. However he was probably still living here on 9 Apr 1663 when one of his daughters was baptised here. He is said to have subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 5 Feb 1662.3[?] when he was appointed vicar of Wistow, Yorks West Riding. By 1667 he was living there and still in office, died there, aged about 61, on 25 Aug 1677. He was apparently buried at Wistow where an inscribed monument was erected. His will made on 21 Aug 1677 was proved under York on 9 Oct 1677. Byard married first about 1658 to Elizabeth (?Quincia) (d 1675) by whom he had 4 sons and 4 daughters. He married second on 27 Jul 1676 at Fishlake, Yorks West Riding to Hannah Garth (no known children). Two of Byard's children were christened with unusual biblical names. The boy's name Onesiphorus (1671) is mentioned in 2 Timothy ii 16 and iv 19 whilst the girl's name Zerbiah (or Zerviah) (1673) is probably Zibiah mentioned in 2 Kings (xii 1) and 2 Chronicles (xxiv 1). [NB: Henry Byard of London presbyterian minister e1637-1666 was a contemporary clergyman.]

In August 1645, the Committee for Plundered Ministers, who were frequently invoked as a court of appeal, ordered that "whosoever shall neglect to pay the fifth part of the profits of such living as he enjoyeth by sequestration, contrary to any order in that behalfe, and shall not upon summons show good cause for his nonpayment thereof shall be sequestered 1 ," and there are several instances, recorded in their minutes, in which they insisted upon payment being made 2 . In the case of the living of Weldrake in Yorkshire, for example, acting in the spirit of the foregoing decree they threatened to eject the " intruding " minister, one Henry Bayard, unless he paid the "fifth" to his predecessor's wife within a fortnight 3 . The same policy prevailed even after the Committee for Plundered Ministers had been dissolved, for in the instructions issued to the Major-Generals in 1656, it was laid down "that where a fifth has been allowed to wives and children of sequestered ministers, and is detained, they shall cause it to be paid, unless they find just cause to the contrary 4 . $Thomas Byrdall M.A. (compliant minister of Walsall) 1607-1662

Byrdall, christened on 4 Oct 1607 at Exeter St Kerrian, was a son of William Byrdall of Exeter, Devon "gentleman" c1571-.... and Ann. He studied at Oxford where on 16 Jul 1625 he was admitted as a "commoner" at Exeter College but did not matriculate. Next he studied at Cambridge where in 1626 he was admitted pensioner at Emmanuel College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1628.9 (M.A., 1632). He was presumably ordained deacon (? and priest) before 10 May 1633 when he was licensed as a curate and preacher by London at Walden, Essex. On 3 May 1636 he was a stipendiary curate at Walsall when he was licensed as a preacher and was still in office in 1639. About 30 Apr 1642 the vicar of Walsall Richard Hunt 1594-1662 QV probably resigned. Perhaps shortly after Byrdall after presentation by Sir Richard Wilbraham of Woodhey in Faddiley, Cheshire 1st baronet c1580-1643 was (probably) instituted vicar of Walsall and from 5 Feb 1643.4 continued here as compliant minister. On 19 Mar 1643.4 he was certainly in office as minister when he paid first fruits. (It is said that he was minister of London St Olave's Jewry in 1645). On 12 Aug 1646 (when he was said to have 1,000 communicants) the Committee for plundered ministers granted him an augmentation of up to £50 to his annual salary of £30. Apparently a committed presbyterian, he signed the Staffordshire testimony of Jul 1648 as "Thomas Burdall Minister of Gods Word at Walsall". On 28 Aug 1654 he was appointed an Assistant Commissioner for the ejection of scandalous ministers in Staffordshire. He certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry. In Jun 1660 he was reinstated in office as vicar (or continued as de facto vicar). In Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of £1/4/0. Still in office he died, aged 55, in Apr 1662 and was buried on 30 Apr at Walsall. His funeral sermon was preached by Anthony Burgess minister of Sutton Coldfield, Warwicks. His will made on 11 Apr 1662 was proved under Lichfield on 10 Jul 1662. His personalty was valued at £414/7/0 and included "Item his Bookes £50". Byrdall married about 1640 to Ellen Broughton daughter of Edward Broughton of Longdon esquire c1580-c1621 and widow of William Persehouse of Hurst Hill in Sedgley gentleman 1603-a1639 by whom he had 3 sons and 1 daughter. Aaron Byrdall B.A. (vicar of Knowstone, Devon) 1620-.... was a younger brother]. In 1713 Calamy lists "Mr Burdall" as ejected at Walsall and describes him as "A very Learned, Able and Godly Divine, of more than ordinary Parts". However in 1727 (calling him Byrdal) he adds "He died a very little before the Act of Uniformity took Place. But he had so far declar'd his Mind. that he might well be number'd with the silenc'd Ministers." Byrdall was the author of two theological works: A glimpse of god: Or, a treatise proving that there is a god ... (1665) and The profit of godliness set forth in five sermons on 1 Tim. 4.8. ... (1666) both dedicated to (his patron) Sir Richard Wilbraham and his wife Elizabeth.

(11 Apr 1662) Thomas Byrdall of Walsall cleric ... sonne William B. and dau Ellen B. a messuage in Assington Devon held on lease ... after the decease of of my mother Anne B. widd: ... friend Henry Stone of Walsall esquire ... younger sons Thomas and Aaron B. (under 21) ... wife Ellen B. [executor] Inventory (5 Jun 1662) "Item his Bookes £50" ... Total £414/7/0 includes £150 for the lease and £100 in debts.
(1800) Before I conclude this subject, permit me to take a little notice of the Rev. Thomas Byrdall, M. A. in whose time "the organs.were demolished." It appears that he was presented to the living, before the troubles, by Sir Richard Wilbraham, the lord of the manor; and that he retained it, through all the changes of the times, to his death, which was in April 1662 ; (he was then aged about 55). In order to keep his living, I suppose, he accepted of the Covenant with one hand, and threw away his book of Common Prayer with the other. Whether, after the King's Restoration, he used the Liturgy in Walsall church, it is now hard to say, as it appears there was no compulsion till August 24, 1662 ; but in Mr. Samuel Palmer's *' Nonconformists Memorial" he is reckoned as one of the Non Cons. I am in possession of two volumes of his works, edited 1665, by William Gearing, and dedicated to Sir Thomas Wilbraham and his lady. The one is called " The Profit of Godliness," &c, containing 18 sermons; and the other is tilled "A Glimpse of God," &c. ; a funeral discourse is prefixed, delivered by Anthony Burgess, minister of Sutton Coldfield, Abatingfor Mr. Bytdall's compliances with the time in which he lived, it appears that he was a learned, orthodox, and good minister; and, although he was buried at Walsall, I find no monument or memorial of him (except on the tables I before mentioned) in this church. Yours, &c. J. G. [Gentleman's magazine. February 1800 p124]

(1801) His name is mentioned in a table of benefactions set up in 1654. He married Helen, widow of William Persehouse, of Hurst Hill. He was the author of two books," A Glympse of God," published 1665, and dedicated to Sir Thomas Wilbraham and Lady Elizabeth, his wife; the preface is by a Clergyman named W. Gearing. This gentleman states that Mr. Byrdall was presented to the living by Sir Richard Wilbraham, 1st Baronet. The second book was a volume of Eighteen Sermons, preached in Walsall Church, and published in 1666. It is dedicated as the former, and is prefaced by a Funeral Discourse, by Anthony Burgess, Minister of Sutton Coldfield, in which the age of the deceased is supposed to be 55. Shaw assumes that Mr. Byrdall was inducted to the living before the religious troubles of the time, and that, when in 1643 the Act was passed, which substituted the "Directory for Public Worship" for the "Book of Common Prayer," he assented to the change. This statement appears to rest solely upon supposition, and he seems also to have died on April 30th, 1662, just before the passing of the Act of Uniformity. In a volume entitled " A Testimony of the Ministers in the Co. of Stafford to the Trueth of Jesus Christ, and to the Solemn League and Covenant, &c., London, 1648," it gives "Thomas Burdall, Minister of God's Word at Walsall; Francis Stone, Schoolmaster at Walsall." He was reputed a popular preacher, a scholar, and a man of most estimable virtue. [Shaw (1801) p77]
(1915) 19 Mar 1643.4 ff. ob. 30 Apr 1662 Thomas Byrdall M.A. 8 - 8 Byrdall, Burdall. Probably M.A. Emmanuel College, Cambridge (Venn). Signed testimony 1648; appointed assistant to the commissioners for the removal of scandalous ministers 1654; certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry (LMS 996 p163); paid subsidy of £1/4/0 in Jan 1661.2; published sermons, etc (Simms). On 12 Aug 1646 the committee for plundered ministers granted him an augmentation not exceeding £50 pa from the tithes of Wednesfield, Hatherton, Featherstone and Bentley sequestered from Col. Leveson papist and delinquent, as the vicarage here was but worth £30 pa and there were 1,000 communicants (Bodl MS 323 p268). c1659 this? augmentation is given as £30 (LMS 994 p142). [SHC 298 303]

►Theodosius Camilla {de Camilla} e1229-1295
d 1295
(Magister)
(Dean, Wolverhampton, Staffs) 1269-d

Theodosius de Camilla, was, ... prominent in the royal service. He seems rarely, if ever, to have been in Wolverhampton. His financial interests, however, were well served by his bailiffs, notably Andrew de Genoa, one of the canons, who was also his proctor. ... His right of collation was used to endow at least three of his relatives, and like him they enjoyed their prebends largely in absentia. ... [his] non-residence continued to give offence. In 1282 the archbishop excommunicated him, deprived him of two of his churches, and even maintained that he had no right to Wolverhampton, as it was properly in the patronage of Canterbury. Camilla, who had influential friends, was not easily defeated. In 1286 he secured a handsome money compensation for the two churches and continued to hold the deanery until his death in 1295 without apparently changing his habits. [VCH]

Thomas Cantrell (vicar of Dilhorne) c1591-1652
Cantrell, born about 1591, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Oxford where he was a student at Gloucester Hall. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 19 Feb 1611.2 (M.A., 5 Jul 1614). On 11 Apr 1615 he was ordained deacon by Lichfield and by 26 Aug 1616 was in office as master of Dilhorne Grammar School. He was presumably ordained priest before 17 May 1617 when - after presentation by Thomas Glasier gentleman and Simon Jasson of Edial in Lichfield gentleman c1590-1653 pro the dean & chapter of Lichfield - he was instituted vicar of Dilhorne. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. On 15 Dec 1646 the Committee for plundered ministers received complaints against him which it referred for examination to the Staffordshire parliamentary committee who on 6 Oct 1647 - after several adjournments - ordered his sequestration for drunkenness and disaffection to parliament. By 1650 he was compliant minister of Elton parochial chapelry, Derbys where he was "reputed scandalous & insufficient". When he made his will Cantrell was living at Dilhorne and there he probably died, aged about 61, in early 1652. His will made on 6 Feb 1651.2 was proved under PCC on 27 Oct 1652. Cantrell married perhaps about 1621 to Isabel (no known children). Nicholas Cantrell M.A. (rector of Little Kimble, Bucks) c1596-...., who had also been a student at Gloucester Hall, was his younger brother and the executor of his will.

Francis Capps (vicar of Wolstanton) c1580-1643

Capps, born about 1580, is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably ordained deacon (? and priest) before 30 May 1614 when he was in office as a preacher at Congleton, Cheshire. On 1 Jul 1615 he was a preacher at nearby Astbury. On 3 Nov 1618 after presentation by Ralph Sneyd of Keele esquire c1535-1620 he was instituted vicar of Wolstanton. In 1629 Capps was presented for not wearing the surplice and for giving communion to parishioners whilst not kneeling as required. On one occasion "when the holy and blessed co[mmun]ion was in celebratinge the ... vicar did revile and call one of the churchwardens knave and base fellowe with many other base speeches" after the warden's attempt to force a parishioner to kneel. Still in office Capps died, aged about 63, and was buried here on 24 Nov 1643. Capps married on 16 Apr 1619 at Burslem to Margaret Cowall (no known children).

(1 Jul 1615) Marriage licence addressed to Francis Cappers [recte Capps], Clerk, Preacher at Astbury [Chester marriage licences]
(1629) In 1629, Francis Capps, the vicar of Wolstanton, Staffordshire, was presented for not wearing the surplice. He also failed to make parishioners kneel for communion. Maria Brett, a member of his congregation, 'forebore' to kneel on a number of occasions but still received the sacrament from Capps, who gave it to her both 'wittingly and willingly'. There was an angry confrontation when a churchwarden sought to make her comply with the requirements of the law, and 'when the holy and blessed co[mmun]ion was in celebratinge the ... vicar did revile and call one of the churchwardens knave and base fellowe with many other base speeches' because of his intervention. The case shows the dilemmas which Puritan clergymen could face. They had to take their parishioners' scruples of conscience into account, as well as keeping out of trouble with the bishop. There was no way Capps could satisfy both Mrs. Brett and the churchwarden. [B/V/1/52, Wolstanton, p.36. 97] ... 5. William Bourne's implied difference with Francis Capps the vicar of Wolstanton has a history to it that we can only guess at. What we do know is that William Bourne was in dispute with a body of his fellow parishioners in 1618 over his right to be churchwarden. If the established system for selection had been adhered to, he would have had to wait for another 10 years. William Bourne took his case to the episcopal consistory court. The vicar at the time was Henry Stevenson, who died before the hearing was complete, and was succeeded by Francis Capps, who no doubt was faced with two opposing parties in the parish, each expecting his support. In the course of the dispute William Bourne was excommunicated, but seems to have been successful against the archdeacon of Stafford. At any rate, he was awarded £5 of the £9 14s 8d costs he incurred as a result of taking up the case. Francis Capps' refusal to wear a surplice and his toleration of a parishioner's standing to receive communion instead of kneeling at the altar rail indicate Puritan sympathies which may not have been to William Bourne's taste. (For a price comparison, a Banbury will of 1597 of Elizabeth Goodryche bequeaths 3s 4d for a funeral sermon.) [INTERNET]

Martin V dispensed him to hold for seven years with his parish church of Kyngion (sic) Magna in the diocese of Salisbury one other benefice with cure or otherwise incompatible, and to resign both, simply or for exchange, as often as he pleased [Cal. Lett. VII, p. 285]. Subsequently, on Nicholas, who is of noble birth, setting forth to the said pope that after the said dispensation he obtained the church of Witrisham, value not exceeding 30 marks [see ibid., p. 403] and, after holding it for some time with Kyngion Magna, resigned the latter and obtained in its stead the church of Yden, value not exceeding 20, in the dioceses of Canterbury and Chichester, which last he was holding with Witrisham in virtue of the said dispensation, pope Martin, on 6 Kal. Aug. anno 13 [1430], prolonged the said seven years, which were about to expire, by other three. The present pope decrees as above, f. 44d, and for the same reason. Racioni etc. (B. and Jo.Rode. | B. xxx. Valven.)
[LATERAN REGESTA 302]

An instance of this uncommon name, which will be long gratefully remembered in this part of the county, occurs on page 160, which refers to the killing of Nicholas Capron, late parson of the church of Wyttresham, Kent. The name also occurs in 1429 as of Hunts., and in 1434 as of Yeovil.

William Cataline (parochial curate of Betley, Staffs) e1624-....
Cataline may have been born about 1624 of unknown parentage. Probably as a literate he was (presumably) anglicanly ordained deacon and priest before he was after (probable) presentation by Randal Egerton of Betley, Staffs esquire 1619-1681 (qua lord of the manor) appointed parochial curate of Betley about 1663. He signed Betley parish register "Guliel Cataline, rector ibm" about 25 Mar 1664. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Betley constablewick but was not assessed there. He had been replaced in office by 25 Mar 1667. In 1667 "William Cataline D.D." was said to be parochial curate of Horton. A William Catlin was vicar of Crambe, Yorks NR in 1641 and another William Catlin c1598-1673 was rector of Hargrave, Northants in the period 1623-1673.

William Chandler (vicar of Bushbury) c1605-1684 H23
Chandler, born about 1605, is of unknown parentage. (A man of this name - a son of William Chandler of Stratford-upon-Avon, Warwicks "gentleman" - studied at Oxford and on 23 Jan 1623.4 was a student at St John's College and matriculated but is not known to have graduated.) Chandler was ordained deacon and on 1 (or 10) Mar 1628.9 ordained priest by Lichfield. On 13 Jul 1632 after presentation by the dean of Lichfield qua prebendary of Brewood then Augustine Lindsell c1575-1634 he was instituted vicar of Brewood. On 22 May 1635 he was licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister but had resigned before 1 Jul 1646. On 4 Aug 1646 application was made in the House of Lords for an order for Robert Aylett LL.D. c1582-1655 "to institute and induct" Chandler to the vicarage of Bushbury and on 7 Aug 1646 after presentation by Walter Grosvenor of Bushbury esquire c1584-c1656 he was appointed compliant minister of Bushbury. In early Jun 1660 he continued here as de facto vicar and, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), was confirmed in office. In Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of 13/0. He subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 12 Aug 1662. In 1665 the vicarage was valued at £20. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Bushbury-cum-Moseley and Essington constablewicks and was assessed on 2 hearths at Bushbury township. About 1679 he was appointed prebendary of Wolverhampton Monmore. Still in both offices he died, aged about 79, and was buried on 26 May 1684 at Bushbury. Chandler married about 1635 to a woman by whom he may have had 1 son and 3 daughters.

Richard Chantry B.A. (presbyterian minister of Weeford) c1631-1694 G13
Chantry, born about 1631, was a son of John Chantry of Repton, Derbys husbandman. He was educated at Repton. He studied at Cambridge where on 21 Jun 1649 he was admitted as a sizar at St John's College and matriculated that year. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1652.3. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman before 30 Oct 1654 when after nomination by the Trustees for maintenance (at the request of the parishioners) he was established as presbyterian minister of Weeford independent parochial chapelry and on 6 Nov 1654 approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers. His certificate of fitness had been signed by Derbyshire ministers. On 21 Feb 1654.5 he was classically ordained as a presbyterian clergyman by the Derbyshire Wirksworth Classis at Wirksworth. His thesis was entitled "An in hac vita homo possit esse certus de salutae suae eternae certitudine fidei". In 1655 he certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry. In 1659 he received an augmentation of £80 to his annual salary. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto parochial curate. In Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of 5/0. Whilst at Weeford his ministry was encouraged by John Swinfen of Swinfen in Weeford esquire 1613-1694. On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived but remained at Weeford. Under The five mile act (31 Oct 1665), which prohibited nonconformist clergy from living in parishes where they had held a religious office since 1660, he was forced to move. Calamy records in 1702 he was forced "to remove with his Wife and Four Children into another Country to take a Farm upon a Rack Rent His Family encreas'd and he met with several Difficulties and yet subsisted chearfully". The farm is said to have been in Derbyshire perhaps at Smisby where on 13 May 1672 he was licensed as a presbyterian teacher at his own house. In his will written on 3 Jul 1677 Thomas Minors of Lichfield mercer bequeathed £10 to "Mr Richard Chauntry formerly of Weeford now of Smithsby ". He was still living there in 1689 when at Derbyshire Quarter Sessions he took the oath required of ministers. The Common Fund survey of dissenting ministers taken about 1690 has under Derbyshire " Mr Richd Chantry senr. Att Hartshorne an aged ejected minister hath 9 children who have all Some part of their dependence on him is afflicted with a great lameness and not able to goe without helpe, preacheth 3 Sabbaths in the month, the people poore not able to allow more then £4 odd mony pr quarter, of wch Mr Tym: Cox [Timothy Cox QV] hath a 1/4 part." The same survey under Staffordshire has the entry "Ministers that have a Competent Supply - Mr Richd Chantry - [ejected Minister] Of Weeford - able to goe abroad every Lords day 4. 5. or 6 miles for 9/0 or 7/0 pr day and horse hire paid out of it". In his case the Staffordshire survey was evidently in error. Whilst at Hartshorne he did receive (1690-

3) £8 pa from the Common Fund. Chantry died, aged about 63, on 22 Jul 1694 at Hartshorne and was buried there (perhaps as requested in the church yard) on 24 Jul. A funeral sermon was preached by a close friend Samuel Shaw (presbyterian minister of Long Whatton, Leics) c1635-1695. Both Chantry and Shaw were born and educated at Repton and then studied at St John's College, Cambridge. His will made on 30 Jun 1694 was proved under Lichfield on 19 Feb 1694.5. His personalty was valued at £26/15/0 and included "Itm his bookes £3". Chantry married about 1657 to Deborah by whom he had 9 children (perhaps 4 sons and 5 daus). Robert Chantry (minister of Staines, Middx) 1664-p1734 was one of his sons.

This day Mr Richard Chantrey Bachelour of Arts late student of St. John's Colledge in Cambridge who desireth to be ordained a preaching-presbyter was therefore ordered to preach his approbacon sermon before the Classis at their next meeting the third Teusday in Feb next. (20 Feb 1654.5) Wirksworth Classis. 4 ministers, 4 others. The said Mr Richard Chantrie (according to former order) preached before the Classis and his sermon being orthodox & edifying, was approved. After, Mr Richard Chantrey aforesaid (in order to his ordinacon) produced a certificate from the neighbouring ministers that he is orthodox & pious & fit to be imployed in preaching the Gospell which was approved. Then he was examined concerning the worke of grace upon his soule, his call to ths Ministrie, his skill in the original tongues & in the Arts, Logick, and Philosophie, likewise of his knowledge in divinitie, in all which the Classis received satisfaction, whereupon he had this Thesis given him An in hac vita homo possit esse certus de salutae suae eternae certitudine fidei.

(1778) WEFORD [Curate] {Chap.} Mr Richard Chantrye. Of St. John's College, Cambridge. He and Mr S. Shaw [Samuel Shaw (presbyterian minister of Long Whatton, Leics) c1635-1695] were intimate friends, born in the same town, educated at the same free-school, and afterwards in the same chamber of the same college,; and after that, for the most part, lived in near neighbourhood. At Mr Chantrye's first settlement he was much esteemed, and his ministry much encouraged, by the pious and judicious John Swynfen, Esq [John Swinfen of Swinfen in Weeford, Staffs esquire 1613-1694] ; with whom he often took sweet counsel; and they edified one another. After he was driven from Weford by the Oxford act [The five mile act (31 Oct 1665)], he took a small farm in a mean corner of Derbyshire, near the place of his nativity, and took all opportunities of preaching, encountering many dangers and hardships, which he bore manfully, like Jacob, who in feeding Laban's flock, "endured drought by day, and frost by night, and sleep departed from his eyes": though it can hardly be said that "his wages were changed" as oft as Jacob's, for Mr Chantrye had many times none at all; but, though he had an increasing family, he chearfully subsisted. He was like the zealous and courageous builders of the walls of Jerusalem, who "with one hand wrought in the work, and with the other held a weapon". For he would go in the twilight, to escape the informers, with a Bible in his pocket, and a fork on his shoulder. Having by his fortitude overcome great opposition, in more settled times he preached as long as he could stand, and longer too; being at last drawn in a chair into the room where his hearers met. Nor did he take less pains with himself than with his people, cultivating his own soul continually with pious meditations, and the exercise of grace. He "kept his own vineyard" as carefully as that of which he was made keeper. He was offered preferments to conform, but refused them. He was a man of much candor, lenity, and humility. No man was more apt to acknowledge his own unworthiness. His great zeal in his Master's work turned all to this complaint in his sickness, "Alas, how little have I done for my dearest Lord!" To all that visited him he generally recommended a fiducial affiance in Christ, and sincerity of the inward man. He was greatly supported under his last sinking pains and grievances, enduring them with an admirable holy patience, He died on a Sabbath-day morning, July 22, 1694, at Hartshorn in Derbyshire. He said, not long before his departure, "The Sabbath is begun; I hope I may this day begin my eternal Sabbath. Mr Shaw preached his funeral sermon in which he remarks; to the honour of Divine Grace, "that he knew not any man less beholden to external advantages than Mr Chantrye, either domestical, scholastical, or academical". He left a son in the ministry among the Dissenters, who had many years a small congregation at Staines in Middlesex. [Calamy (1778) p405-6]

Having by his fortitude overcome great opposition, in more settled times he preached as long as he could stand, and indeed longer too ; being at last drawn in a chair into the room where his hearers met. Nor did he take less pains with himself than with his people, for he cultivated his own soul continually with pious meditations, and the exercises of devotion. He kept his own vineyard as carefully as that of which he was made keeper. He was offered preferments to conform, but refused them. He was a man of much candor, lenity, and humility. No one was more ready to acknowledge his own unworthiness.' His great zeal in his Master's work was followed with this complaint in his last illness, "Alas, how little have I done for my dearest Lord !". To those who visited him, he generally recommended a fiducial trust in Christ, and sincerity of the inward man. He was greatly supported under his last sufferings, which he endured with an admirable patience. He died on a Lord's-day morning, July 22, 1694, at Hartshorn in Derbyshire. Not long before his departure he said, "The Sabbath is begun ; I hope I may this day begin my eternal Sabbath." Mr. Shaw preached his funeral sermon in which he remarks, to the honour of divine grace, "That he knew not any man less beholden to external advantages than Mr. Chantry, either domestic, scholastical, or academical." He left a son in the ministry among the Dissenters, who had many years a small congregation at Staines in Middlesex. [Calamy III (1803) p244-5]

Richard Chapman B.A. (rector of Leigh) c1604-?1652
Chapman, born about 1604 in Leicestershire, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Cambridge where at Easter 1622 he was a sizar at Queens' College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1625.6. On 5 Mar 1625.6 he was ordained deacon and on 6 Mar 1625.6 ordained priest (both) by Peterborough. By 1635 Chapman was living at Rugeley where about Apr 1635 (? after presentation by the dean & chapter of Lichfield) he was probably instituted vicar. On 14 Aug 1639 after presentation by Sir Harvey Bagot of Blithfield 1st baronet 1591-1660 he was, perhaps plurally, instituted rector of Leigh. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he might have continued as compliant minister in both parishes but under An act against the enjoying of pluralities ... (16 Jan 1642.3) was required to resign one of them and likely resigned at Rugeley. On 3 Jul 1646 it was certified that Chapman was "an able, religious minister, and that since the beginning of the troubles ... has been Chaplain to some of the forces under the Parliament". He resigned at Leigh before 29 Aug 1646 when after presentation by Sir George Booth of Dunham Massey, Cheshire 1st baronet 1566-1652 he was appointed compliant minister of Thornton-le-Moor rectory, Cheshire. Still in office he probably died, aged about 49, in 1652. His will made on 16 ??? 1652 was proved under PCC on 29 Sep 1653. Chapman married (? on 18 Apr 1630 at Fulletby, Lincs) to Muriel (? Elton of Fulletby) by whom he had 4 sons and 4 daughters. At Leigh on 7 Mar 1639.40 Chapman issued a licence to eat flesh as recorded in the parish register:

> "haveing certaine intelligence of the --- [Eliz]abeth daughter of Edward and Hellena Bright of Dodsley in the Parish aforesaid. And being also informed that it is the advise of her physician that flesh --- and fytt meates dyett for the recovery of her health do herby (so farre fourth as in me lyeth) license the sayd Edward and Hellena to freshe meat in the --- for the eating of flesh for the use and sustenance of the said Elizabeth. (1915) [Leigh] 6 Chapman. Probably B.A. 1625-6 Queens' Coll. Camb. (Venn). On 18 Dec 1646 the committee for plundered ministers found that he had "relinquished "this rectory and was settled in the cure of Thornton, co. Ches. (Bod. MS. 324, p. 182). Perhaps this is another instance of a pluralist being compelled to resign all his livings but one. [1915]
(1928) Richard Chapman, B.A., perhaps vicar from April, 1635 AND Thomas Handley, buried 4 Sep., 1640, probably curate. ... Chapman, afterwards rector of Leigh, Staffs., and Thornton, Ches., resided here from about April, 1635, until Sept., 1639, and probably was vicar. In Nov., 1650, he owed a small sum of money to a Rugeley resident, and it is quite possible that he held this living in plurality until shortly before this date. In this case, Handly would have been his curate here, and possibly he was also curate here in 1633, when a "sir Thomas" was paid 5s. for writing the will of an inhabitant of Rugeley. [Rugeley printed PR (1928) p xi] living in Castle Church parish in November 1577, when reported upon by the bishop of Lichfield to the Privy Council as one of the many Staffordshire gentlepeople who "come not to church to hear Divine Service" His land was then valued by the Justices, Trentham and Bagot, as being worth but £2 pa, but the bishop thought that they considerably underestimated the value of the property of their recusant neighbours, so he returned Chedulton as being worth £20 in goods. In a supplementary report made on 1 Feb 1577.8 he valued his goods at £40 and his land at £5 pa [1915]

July 11, 1838. At the Deanery, Wolverhampton, at an advanced age, the Rev. John Clare, vicar of Bushbury and P.C. of Wednesfield, and a magistrate for Staffordshire. He was of Worcester college, Oxford, M.A. 1787, and was presented to Bushbury in 1800. He held for more than twenty years the office of deputy chairman of the Stafford Sessions, and had only recently resigned it [GENT.MAG]

(Bushbury) "[Thomas Fletcher] Appointed ... but after only one year suffered a mental breakdown from which he never recovered. He resigned[???] and died in 1800; buried at Tutbury 1.2.1800. During the years of his illness his work was carried out by his curates, first Thomas [recte, John] Greaves, then from 1770, William Jones, who was also vicar of Wednesfield and a prebendary of St.Peter's Wolverhampton. He died in May 1793, and his successor, John Clare, curate of Pattingham, was appointed vicar in 1800." [INTERNET]

Richard Clarke M.A. (rector of Weston-under-Lizard, Staffs) c1580-?1651
Clarke, born about 1580 in Staffordshire, was a son of William Clarke (rector of Weston-under-Lizard) c1540-?1606. He studied at Oxford where in Feb 1597.8 he was a student at Christ Church College and matriculated. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 24 Oct 1601 (M.A., 4 Jul 1604). He was presumably ordained deacon and priest before 16 Mar 1606.7 when after probable presentation by John Mytton of Weston-under-Lizard esquire c1542-1615 he was instituted rector of Weston-under-Lizard in succession to his father. Still in office in Jul 1640 he certified that Richard Hobbs M.A. (later rector of Erpingham, Norfolk) c1604-?1675 was "a fit person to expound the Word of God". From 5 Feb 1643.4 he may have continued here as compliant minister. He might have died in office, aged about 71, between Mich 1650 and 1651.2 when a successor was appointed. Clarke may not have married.

Jonathan Clay M.A. (presbyterian minister of Hints) 1628-1682
Clay, christened on 7 Dec 1628 at Leicester St Martin, was 2nd son of John Clay of Leicester "gentleman" c1600-1680. He was educated at Leicester under Mr Knightley. He studied at Cambridge where on 29 May 1645 he was admitted as a pensioner under Mr Ball at Christ's College and matriculated that year. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1648 (M.A., Magdalene, 1661). He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman before his marriage at Hints on 13 Jun 1654 when he is described as "of Clifton Camvil Co. Staff cleark". The marriage was witnessed by "James[sic] Cross of Clifton cleark". Possibly Clay was an assistant presbyterian minister at Clifton Campville where George Cross c1610-1665 QV was presbyterian minister of the rectory. By 26 Jul 1654 he was in office as presbyterian minister of Hints parochial chapelry when the Trustees for maintenance granted him an augmentation of £50 to his annual salary. On 20 July 1655 he certified the fitness of a candidate for the ministry. On 20 Feb 1655.6 he was admitted by the Triers as presbyterian minister of Appleby Magna rectory, Leics but about Sep 1660 was displaced in office by the former rector Abraham Mould M.A. c1615-1684. On 6 May 1661 he was ordained deacon by Lincoln. On 23 Sep 1661 he was living in Leicester. On 3 Apr 1662 after presentation by (? his father) John Clay gentleman he was instituted rector of Heather, Leics. and subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 4 Aug 1662. The following day (5 Aug) he was ordained priest and licenced as a preacher in the diocese of Lincoln (both) by Lincoln. Still in office he died, aged about 54, and was buried on 10 Mar 1681.2 at Heather. Clay married first on 13 Jun 1654 at Hints to Ruth Burgess 1637-1657 dau of Anthony Burgess (rector of Sutton Coldfield, Warwicks) and Sarah (no known chn). He married second on 5 Sep 1659 at Derby St Werburgh to Hannah Houghton c1630-1718 by whom he had 4 sons and 6 daughters. His will made on 2 Jul 1681 was proved under Leicester in 1682. In his will Clay mentions property in Desford, Leics inherited from his father and property in Countesthorpe, Leics which he had purchased in 1661. A namesake Jonathan Clay M.A. (rector of Cadeby, Leics) c1656-1688 might be a kinsman.

Richard Clayton M.A. (compliant minister of Seighford) ?1595-1669 G14
Clayton, (? christened on 15 Sep 1595 at Maer), was probably a son of William Clayton of Maer. He studied at Cambridge where at Easter 1617 he was a pensioner at St John's College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1620.1 (M.A., 1624). On 21 Dec 1623 he was ordained deacon and on 22 Dec 1623 ordained priest (both) by Peterborough. On 8 Jan 1623.4 after presentation by Henry Leigh of Rushall esquire c1569-1630 he was instituted rector of Shawell, Leics. It was stated in a letter dated 25 Oct 1638 to the diocesan authorities that "he has been at Rugby, and there received the communion at the hands of Mr. Nalton, parson, of Rugby [James Nalton (rector of Rugby, Warwicks) c1599-1662], standing, and not kneeling [as was anglican practice]". He was, as a Leicestershire representative, a member of the Westminster assembly of divines on 12 Jun 1643. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he may have continued here as compliant minister but presumably resigned before 1644 when he was a preacher at Southwark St Olave, Surrey. By 20 Feb 1644.5 he was compliant minister of Great Easton rectory, Essex where one of his children was buried on 8 Jun 1648. Apparently a committed presbyterian, he signed the Essex testimony of ? Jul 1648. Perhaps later in 1648 he was appointed compliant joint minister of Lichfield St Mary vicarage by the Committee for plundered ministers (together with Francis Tallents 1619-1708 QV). Here he received an augmentation of £150 to his annual salary. On 24 Jun 1649 he received a quarterly payment of £37.50 which was paid again three months later. Additionally at Michaelmas 1650 he received a stipend from the Exchequer of £11/1/5. By 1651.2 he was in office as compliant minister of Weston-under-Lizard rectory. On 16 Jun 1652 he was appointed compliant assistant minister of Wolverhampton ?vicarage where Ambrose Sparry 1613-1679 QV was presbyterian minister. On 10 May 1654 the Trustees for maintenance reported that Sparry needed assistance "because the parish was very large and contained several chapelries for the maintenance of which no provision had been made up to this time". He was an assistant commissioner for Staffordshire on the Commission for the ejection of ignorant, scandalous, insufficient or negligent ministers and schoolmasters (formed on 28 Aug 1654). He frequently certified the fitness of candidates for the ministry while at Wolverhampton (and later at Seighford). On 29 Aug 1655 he was approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers as compliant minister of Seighford vicarage where in 1658 he was granted an augmentation of £20 to his annual salary. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto vicar and on 2 Jan 1661.2 paid a clerical subsidy of £2. At the Stafford jail delivery of 17 Aug 1660 he was indicted for refusing to read the "book containing the proclamation". It is unclear which book this was but he appears to have denied the charge and was bound in £20 then and again on 8 Mar 1661.2 and 21 Jul 1662. Clayton might be considered to have coercively resigned about Feb 1661.2. At Seighford his successor John Wright ?1636-1682 was presented by the Crown on 27 Feb 1661.2 and instituted on 4 Mar 1661.2. During Easter 1662 at Stafford Quarter Sessions Wright was ordered to make restitution for forcibly dispossessing Clayton of church and glebe. It is said that next "After some time he remov'd to Nuneaton in Warwickshire where he lived many Years. Dr Wild [Robert Wild D.D. (rector of Tatenhill) c1616-1679 QV] being there at the same Time, there was such an Intimacy and Friendship between these two that they were to each other as David and J*onathan.* Mr Cleyton was a good Scholar a sound Divine and one of strict Piety. He was very courteous and obliging in his Temper and Carriage and at the same Time very sedate and grave but not morose. His whole Life adorn'd Religion, and his sacred Character. He was that perfect and upright Man whom the Psalmist speaks of, whose End is said to be Peace." At Nuneaton Clayton died, aged about 74, and was buried there on 12 Feb 1668.9. His will made on 5 Feb 1668.9 was proved under PCC on 1 Dec 1669. Clayton married first about 1624 to Frances by whom he had 3 sons and 4 daughters. He married second perhaps about 1650 to

Dorothy Wright c1609-1654 dau of Simon Wright of Fulford in Stone c1577-1649 and widow of John Worswick of Stafford ?1604-a1632 (no known children). He married third on 27 Nov 1655 at Walsall to (a widow) Elizabeth Cock of Plymouth, Devon (no known children). In his will Clayton writes a religious preamble and gives instructions for the disposal of some of his books. He writes:

> [I] doe sincerely protest my detestation of all Popish and Arminian Errors and doe desire by Gods grace to live and die in cordiall Adherence to those divine Truthes of the Doctrine of the Church of England as they are more fully held forth in the Confession of faith agreed upon by the Assembly of Divines at Westminster ... [NB: In 1658 Clayton was the plaintiff in a court case regarding property in Maer and he is then probably the man christened on 15 Sep 1595 at Maer as son of William Clayton. It is also said that he was born at Coton Clanford in Seighford as son of William.] [NB: Richard Clayton may be confused with two contemporaries viz: Richard Clayton (vicar of Great Wilbraham, Cambs) c1596-? 1647; and Richard Clayton (prebendary of Salisbury) D.D. c1603-1676.]

After some time he quitted that living also, and removed to Seighford, where he was ejected in 1662; after which he lived many years at Nuneaton in Warwickshire. Dr Wild being there at the same time, there was a very intimate friendship between them. Mr Cleyton was a good scholar, a sound divine, and one of strict piety. He was very courteous and obliging in his behaviour, and at the same time very sedate and grave. His whole life adorned religion, and his sacred character. He was that "perfect and upright man" of whom the Psalmist says, "his end is peace". [Calamy (1778) p402]

Richard Clayton (prebendary of Salisbury) D.D. c1603-1676

Richard Clayton (died 10 June 1676) was a Canon, Oxford academic and administrator. He was Master of University College, Oxford, from 1665 until his death in 1676. Clayton was originally from Yorkshire and matriculated at University College in 1618. In 1629, he was elected as a Percy Fellow at University College in Oxford. He was bursar of the college from 1631 to 1634 and 1636–37. He resigned from his Fellowship in 1639 to escape from the Civil War. Richard Clayton's son, John, matriculated at University College in 1657. Clayton became a Prebendary and then Canon of Salisbury Cathedral from 1661. He spent more time in Salisbury than in Oxford. Clayton became Master of University College in 1665. From 1670 to the end of his Mastership, there was great concentration on rebuilding at the college. In 1670, funding for completion of the library was solicited. Between 1670 and 1674, funds were sought for completing the main quadrangle. During Clayton's time as Master, from 1666, John Radcliffe (1650–1714) was the pupil of Obadiah Walker, the next Master of University College. John Radcliffe was subsequently physician to the King and a major benefactor of the college, including the Radcliffe Quad, immediately to the east of the main quad. In 1674, the tradition of every new Fellow and student at University College signing an Admissions Register was started. This has continued to the present day. Clayton died in Salisbury, Wiltshire, in 1676, while still Master of University College.

When his uncle Francis Cockayne was elected lord mayor of London in 1750, he was appointed his chaplain, and preached before him the anniversary sermon of 5 November that year. In 1753 he was chaplain to the countess of Orkney and Inchiquin. From 1752 to 1795 he held the chair of astronomy in Gresham College, London, for which at that date no particular astronomical competence was required. [ODNB]

Francis Coke M.A. (rector of Yoxall) 1598-1682 H24
Coke, born on 6 Nov 1598 at Trusley, was 4th son of Sir Francis Coke of Trusley, Derbys knight 1561-1639 and (his 1st wife) Frances Holles (b 1566) dau of Denzell Holles. He studied at Cambridge where at Easter 1616 he was a pensioner at St John's College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1619.20 (M.A., Christ's College, 1623). In 1620 he was elected a fellow of Christ's College and served until 1637. He was also a Cambridge taxor in 1629. On 27 May 1621 - having obtained a faculty from the archbishop of Canterbury for simultaneous ordination - he was ordained deacon and priest by Lichfield and after 1632 was licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. On 18 Nov 1637 after presentation by (his cousin) John Holles 2nd earl of Clare 1595-1666 he was instituted rector of Yoxall. On 12 Feb 1638.9 he was collated by (his uncle) George Coke (bishop of Hereford) 1570-1646 precentor of Hereford.
On 25 Apr 1642 the House of commons chose Coke to be one of two Staffordshire representatives on the W*estminster assembly of divines* (which held meetings between 1643 and 1653). On 5 Feb 1643.4 his precentorship was abolished but he continued at Yoxall as compliant minister. During the interregnum (1649/60) he is said to have used the Book of common prayer, to have been threatened and insulted by soldiers and to have lost £1.000.
Still in office as minister in early Jun 1660 he was then reinstated as rector and, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), was confirmed in office. He was also restored as precentor. On 6 Dec 1660 after presentation by the Crown he was installed archdeacon of Stafford and on 6 Dec 1661 also after presentation by the Crown was installed prebendary of Lichfield Tachbrook. For this office he paid a subsidy of £3/6/8 in 1662.
In 1665 Yoxall rectory was valued at £66/13/4. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Yoxall constablewick and was assessed on 5 hearths. In Nov 1665 he was apparently named as 6th of 6 men "now possessed of Canonicall howses" but applied unsuccessfully to reside on 28 Jan 1675.6 and 15 Jul 1676. On 8 Oct 1677 he was admitted as a canon residentiary at Lichfield. Still in all his offices Coke died, aged 84, and was buried (perhaps as requested in the chancel) on 4 May 1682 at Yoxall. His will made on 24 Nov 1681 was proved under Lichfield on 26 May 1682. His personalty was valued at £363/11/4 and included "his Studdy of of[sic] bookes £50". In his will Coke bequeathed to his wife most of his goods including his books "?one excepted wch I give unto my son William". Coke married about 1637 to Margaret Evans (d 1694) of Wiltshire by whom he had 5 sons and 5 daughters. His daughter Mary was the wife of William Squire M.A. (rector of Rolleston) ? 1633-1677 QV. Coke was the author of an undated broadsheet "Prayer for church in Ireland".

John Cole D.D. (parochial curate of Weeford) c1610-1672
Cole, born about 1610, was a son of John Coles of Duston, Northants. He studied at Oxford where on 20 Jun 1628 he was a "commoner" at Oriel College and matriculated. He graduated B.A. on 17 Jun 1631 (M.A., 11 Jun 1634) (D.D., ????). In 1632 when he sought medical attention for melancholia he was described as "sad & pensive a great student ...". On 4 Jun 1637 he was probably ordained deacon by Exeter at Exeter. In 1639 after probable presentation by the prebendary of Lichfield Weeford then Anthony Methwin (vicar of Frome, Soms) c1574-1640 he was in office as parochial curate of Weeford. On 3 Jun or 31 Jul 1640 he was collated by Canterbury rector of Isfield, Sussex and (on 31 Jul) compounded for first-fruits. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he may have continued here as compliant minister but had been replaced in office by Apr 1645. He was sometime chaplain to ●Prince Maurice 1621-1652. On 16 Mar 1652.3 as "John Cole D.D., Ifield, Sussex" he was granted a discharge from sequestration on Scilly Articles. About 1653 he was involved in a royalist plot in Surrey when he was described as "a divine, who lives about Tunbridge ... he is a great stickler, but a great coward; so that I believe by menaces you may have any thing out of him, if you can apprehend him, and he knows much as to that particular." By An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660) he was restored as rector of Isfield. On 5 or 6 Feb 1661.2 he was collated prebendary of Lichfield Dasset Parva and subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 20 Aug 1662. On 16 Feb 1662.3 after presentation by Sir Edward Hales 2nd baronet c1626-1683 he was instituted rector of Paulerspury, Northants and, probably after some dispute, on 28 Aug 1665 after a further presentation by Hales was (again) instituted rector. Still in office at Lichfield and Paulerspury he died, aged 62, and was buried there on 12 Feb 1671.2. His administration was granted under Northampton on 11 Apr 1672. His personalty was valued at £104/13/4 and included some books valued at £6. Coles apparently married first about 1652 to Mary Roland daughter of Thomas Roland and widow of Theophilus Brereton of Mitcham, Surrey esquire c1574-1638 (no known children). He married [? second 1 Jan ?1662 at London Temple Church] to Dorothy [Lelly (or Lilly)] (no known children). [NB: It is possible that men of the same name are here conflated.]

(1638) SIR,-I have lately been reading your publication, and I think that perhaps you may consider the following worth a corner in your next number. If we look in Aubrey's or Maoning and Bray's history of Surrey under the bead of Mitcham, and read the description of the church and monuments, we find amongst others that of "Theophilus Brereton." (I quote the following from Aubrey's History, 1718)-'On the South Wall of the Chancel is a fair Marble Monument bearing the Figures of a Man with a skull in his Hand, and a Woman with a book; underneath is a Group of smaller Figures, viz., five Sons and five Daugbters, the eldest of each Sex kneeling before a Desk with Books lying open before them, the rest behind them, and on a black Marble Tablet, in Capitals, Gold Letters, is the following Inscription :- "Nere this lyeth ye Body of Theophilus Brereton, Esq., descended from Sr Randall Brereton of Malpas in Cheshire, who had Issue hy his wife Mary Danghter of Thomas Roland deceased, Eleven Chidren viz. Five Sonnes and six Daughters, and ye said Theophilus departed this Life ye fift day of December Anno Dni 1638, aged 64 years."
(30 May 1640) John Cole (as M.A. "Ed coll: Marie in Academie politane", ordained deacon by Peterborough at Westminster) 30 May 1640
(31 Jul 1640) John Cole, collated by the Archbishop of Canterbury (Lib. Inst., A. v. p. 74). He compounded for first fruits on the same day (Lib. Comp.). ... William Beecher, "minister of Isfield " in Apr., 1645 (Addit. MS., 15669, f. 105). The benefice had evidently been sequestered from Cole. Thomas Stafford. "Oct. 19, 1647. Whereas the Rectorie of the p'ish church of Isfeild in the ye com, of Sussex is sequestered from Mr. John Cole to the use of Tho: Stafford (a godly and orthodox Divine) by order of this Committee of the 18 of Sept., 1646, for that the said Mr. Stafford hathe officiated the said cure ever since Sept. the 29th, 1645. It is ordered that the said Mr. Stafford shall have all the tythes and p'fitts of the said Rectorie due and payable from the said 29th Sept., 1645." -Register book of Proceedings for the relief of "plundered ministers" (Addit. chn: John Colley [? c 25 Jan 1578.9 Bushbury]; d young 15 Mar 1593; i Bushbury; M.I. [below]

A. Oliver, writing in "The incised effigies of Staffordshire" 1913, has this to say: Bushbury: Francis Colley 1626. Chancel. Half effigy in a gown with full sleeves; much worn and the inscription nearly obliterated. Verses below the effigy not decipherable except for a few words: "Here lyeth the body of Francis Colley Clarke which lived 38 [recte, 58] years near this place, who dyed the 22nd August and was buried the 24th August 1626. He gave to the poor of Bushbury and Brewood £3-6s-8d yearly for ever. And he gave £10 towards a bell." An article in the Express and Star, 18th September 1925, refers to the epitaph of John Colley, the infant son of Francis Colley, the vicar of Bushbury from 1567/8 to 1626. John died on 15th March 1593 and was buried in the chancel. The article records the epitaph as reading: Loe, here an ymp of tender age / Whose body was scarce out-blowne; / But cut off as soon as does appear / Before his deeds were knowne. / Who should have been by succession / His father's sonne and heire; / As now by God's permission, / Enjoyeth the heavenly quire. [INTERNET]

... the vicar, Francis Colley, whose extremely long life was commemorated, together with that of Thomas Leacroft, one of his parishioners, by the gift of a bell to the church in 1619. In 1625, the year before he died, he endowed a charity to the poor of the parish of £1-13s-4d per annum, from the rent of a cottage and land. Thomas Leacroft had established a similar fund in 1624. [INTERNET]

Here lyeth the body of Francis Colley clarke which lived 38 [?58] yeares vicar of this pace who dyed the 22 of August and was buryed the 24 of August 1626. He gave to the poor of Bishbury and Brewood £3/6/8 yearly for ever. Also he gave £10 towards a bell. [Shaw (1801) p179]

Christopher Comyn M.A. (compliant minister of Norbury) ?1618-1698
Comyn, (? christened on 24 Nov 1618 at Durham Saint Margaret), was probably a son of Nicholas Comyn of Durham. He studied at Cambridge where on 2 Jun 1634 he was admitted as a pensioner at Emmanuel College and matriculated that year. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1636.7 (M.A., 1641). In 1641 he was elected a fellow of Peterhouse, Cambridge but was ejected in 1644. On 25 Sep 1642 he was ordained deacon by Lincoln at Buckden, ?Hunts and likely ordained priest soon after. On 3 Jun 1649 he was appointed compliant minister of Norbury rectory and signed the parish register on 12 Jun. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto rector. On 17 Aug 1660 after presentation by the Crown he was, plurally, instituted rector of Skirpenbeck, Yorks East Riding but was replaced in office on 21 Dec 1660. On 10 Jan 1660.1 he was, plurally, ?collated vicar of Prees, Salop (some 15 miles N.W. of Norbury) and from there subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 12 Aug 1662. At Norbury he was replaced in office on 22 Dec 1662. In Jan 1663.4 he was collated prebendary of Lichfield Bishopshull. On 30 Mar 1674 he was admitted a canonical householder at Lichfield where he was briefly ejected from 18 Apr 1676 until 8 Jan 1676.7. On 11 Mar 1683.4 he was admitted as a canon residentiary at Lichfield. Still in office at Prees and as prebendary, (? canonical householder) and canon residentiary at Lichfield he died, aged about 80, and was buried at Prees on 17 Sep 1698. His will made on 12 Apr 1692 was proved under Lichfield on 3 Nov 1699. Comyn married about 1648 to Mary (d 1680) by whom he had 1 son and 4 daughters.

Our first notice of Alan de Conesburgh is as a clerk in the service of William de Melton, who in 1326 went to Avignon to obtain for the archbishop of York a second pall, his first having been stolen from his chapel in London. In 1328, he is referred to as canon of Wells and provided with the prebend of Yatton, but in 1330 he is again, at the request of the archbishop of York provided with a canonry at York with reservation of a prebend since he has not been able to gain possession of the prebend of Yatton. He is next referred to in Bishop Ralph's Register as warden or provost of Wells, and the wardenship is in sequestration August 27, 1332, because Alan de Conesburgh has not paid the debt due from the office to the subsidy to the pope from the vacant benefices and again on September 5 the post is referred to as under sequestration. This seems to suggest that Conesburgh had seized upon the prebend as the first that came vacant, and it almost suggests that he claimed exemption from the subsidy in that the office was not of the nature of a benefice. Thus we have the anomalous position of a man who is an honorary canon by papal provision, and who holds a prebend attached to the cathedral church which does not make the holder a member of the chapter. After this it becomes somewhat difficult to trace the possession of this office. [INTERNET]

John Cook B.A. (vicar of Eccleshall) c1636-.... H25
Cook, born about 1636 in Staffordshire, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Cambridge where on 13 May 1654 he was admitted as a sizar at King's College and matriculated. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1657.8. On 2 Aug 1661 (together with James Maddock c1637-1697 QV) he was ordained deacon and priest by Sodor & Man. In Jan 1661.2 after probable presentation by the rector of Stoke-upon-Trent then John Mainwaring c1605-1692 QV he was in office as dependent curate of Whitmore and paid a clerical subsidy of 15/0. He resigned at Whitmore before 9 Jul 1662 when after presentation by the prebendary of Lichfield Eccleshall then James Fleetwood 1603-1683 he was instituted vicar of Eccleshall. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Eccleshall constablewick and Adbaston constablewick (which contained part of Eccleshall parish) and was assessed on 3 hearths at Eccleshall township. He resigned at Eccleshall before 25 Feb 1667.8 when after presentation by Edward Hyde of Hyde, Cheshire gentleman he was instituted rector of Northenden, Cheshire. On 25 Feb 1667.8 he was licensed as a preacher by Chester. In 1674/5 he was accused of serious sexual offences but a study of witness statements suggests he was innocent. He was still in office at Northenden on 12 Jul 1677 after which no further record has been discovered. A successor was in office there on 14 Mar 1681. Cook married about 1665 to a woman by whom he had 2 sons and 1 daughter.

(1674/5) Complex case alleging immorality with many witness statements mainly in support of Cooke [EDC5/1674/3; 1675/28 (unfol.) Linney c Cooke] (12 Nov 1674) [Ann Savage states ... She hath known the arlate Mr John Cooke for these 5 or 6 years last past during all which time he hath had and yet hath a wife... she was a hired servant to the said Mr Cooke the last year for the space of about fifteen weeks till about a fortnight before Martinmas that she came from him, and in that time that she was so a servant there he did very many times solicit and importune this deponent to be nought with him and to commit the sin of adultery with him, and when by his fair words he could not persuade nor entice her to that lewdness he many times endeavoured to have done it by force, and was very uncivil with her putting his hand under her clothes and many times taking up her clothes above her navel, and holding them for a good while, and sometimes throwing her down upon the floor pulling up all her clothes and lying with his naked belly lying upon her naked belly and did several times endeavour to get between her thighs and enter her body but the Lord was pleased to enable her to resist him, and one time lying upon her, after he had thrown her down upon the floor he did spend his nature upon her naked belly saying it would have done both him and her more good if it had been in her belly and constantly when she endeavoured to shout as many times she did in such his uncivilness he would clap his hand upon her mouth, and has many times told her that he could have the use of her body without the danger of her being with child for he had a herb growing in his garden which he would give her in a posset drink and she should be free before morning and there was very few days all the while that she lived there (if they were both at home) but he had his hand forcibly twice or thrice a day or oftener under her coats up to her naked belly. And this deponent hath seen him many times with his hand under his servant Ann Massy's coats as high as her belly for a good while together and sometimes in the presence of his own wife but whether she did see it or no she durst not speak... and the said Ann Massy told this deponent one time that he had so pulled and lugged her by her cunt (as she called it) that she could not sleep it ached so sore, and he hath about a hundred time showed his nakedness to this deponent and put his privy member into her hand and forced her hand into his codpiece... there hath been and is a common voice and fame within the parish of Northenden and other places thereabouts that the said Mr John Cooke is the father of his sister the arlate Isabel Cooke's bastard child... she this deponent hath seen the aforesaid Mr Cooke to quarrel and fight with and strike one Lawrence Massy and has seen him strike Jane Hamnet, also Alice Royle widow, and to strike and knock down the aforenamed Ann Massy because she left his service, and all these at several times without any provocation given him so to do that this deponent see or could perceive, and one time without any cause then given him he did in his own house quarrel with this deponent's contest John Goodyer and after the said John was gone home he followed him to the said John's brother's house with a cleaver in his hand and a great dog with him, and dared him to come out and fight with him and when he could not get him out of doors to fight with him he came home and charged his gun and kept it so in his kitchen three days together charged and said that if he could see him go by (as many times he used to do) he would shoot him, and he is very often overtaken in drink and when he is so he is very quarrelsome and abusive, and mightily uncivil with women and he was one night so far in drink that he could not be got to his bed, and this deponent was forced to sit up and watch him all night for fear he should have fallen in the fire.

John Cooke

1623. Leonard Davies, Subdeane, died the 9th of November, and John Cooke, a basse from Litchfield, was sworne pisteler in his place the 16th of December following, with this proviso, that the whole wages to the end of the quarter should be given unto Mr. Subdeane Davies['s] wiffe by our Lord Deane his order.

Cooke, Henry (d. 1672), singer, composer, and choirmaster, was 'bred up' in the Chapel Royal according to Anthony Wood, but Joseph Bridge's suggestion that his father was John Cooke of the chapel, formerly a vicar-choral at Lichfield, is speculative. Cooke joined the royalist army in the civil wars; it is uncertain whether he was the Lieutenant Henry Cooke of Colonel George Goring's regiment in 1640, but if he was it must be doubtful whether he could, as sometimes stated, have been the Henry Cooke who in 1642 scratched his name on a window in the Jerusalem chamber at Westminster. He reached the rank of captain, and retained the title; the will of the musician Thomas Ford, in which he was forgiven a debt, shows that he was using it by 1648.

Cooke was born about 1639 of unknown parentage. He was (presumably) anglicanly ordained deacon and priest before, after (probable) presentation by the rector of Stoke-upon-Trent - John Mainwaring c1605-1692, he was appointed parochial curate of both Bagnall and Bucknall. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Audley constablewick and was personally assessed on two hearths at Bagnall township. On 31 May 1666 styled "of Bucknall" he was appointed a reader. Between 1669 and 1672 he was parochial curate of Waterfall. Cooke married 3 Jan 1668.9 at Waterfall to Elizabeth Barge (d ?1674) by whom he had two children - likely a son and a daughter - who both died in infancy.

Edward Cooper (parochial curate of Ellenhall) 1591-1665
Cooper, christened on 18 Jun 1591 at Haughton was only son of Edward Cooper (parochial curate of Adbaston) c1556-1632 [SCD] and Ursula (Walter). He was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably ordained deacon (? and priest) before his appointment as a parochial curate. Cooper might have been licensed as parochial curate of Ellenhall shortly after Apr 1624 (when a predecessor died) and was in office there about Dec 1643. Cooper might, after probable presentation by the rector of Stafford St Mary then John Palmer c1558-1639, have been licensed as parochial curate of Marston shortly after 17 Apr 1631 (when a predecessor was buried) and was in office there in 1636 and 1639. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he may have continued as compliant minister at both Ellenhall and Marston (their respective churches were five miles apart). By 1651.2 successors were in office at both parishes. Cooper may never have moved from his birthplace (nearby) Haughton where five of his children were christened between 1630 and 1641 and he probably died, aged about 74, and was buried "as clerk" on 5 Sep 1665. Cooper married about 1628 to Isabel (d 1677) by whom he had 2 sons and 3 daughters.

Hugh Cooper (parochial curate of Norton-in-the-Moors) c1602-1678 ?1634-?1648
Cooper, born about 1602, is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade. On 24 Sep 1626 he was ordained deacon by Lichfield; on 1 Sep 1628 ?licensed parochial curate of Gayton and on 25 Sep 1631 ordained priest by Lichfield. Perhaps in 1634 he resigned Gayton and after probable presentation by the rector of Stoke-upon-Trent then John Mainwaring c1605-1692 QV was ?licensed parochial curate of Norton-in-the-Moors. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he may have continued here as compliant minister and may have been in office until 1648. By Nov 1656 he was compliant minister of Preston-upon-the-Weald Moors rectory, Salop when the Committee for plundered ministers granted him an augmentation of £50 to his annual salary. In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto rector and subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 22 Jul 1662. In 1665 the rectory was valued at £24. Still in office Cooper died, aged about 76, shortly before 26 Dec 1678. His administration was granted under Lichfield on 15 Sep 1698. His inventory made on 26 Dec 1678 totalled £84/2/8 and included "Books. Impr. three score large folies valued at £25, It forty octavoes & twenty quart' at £4, It twenty octavoes valued at £2, It five more large folos valued at £2, It one hundred quartoes at £10, It more quartoes & octavoes at £6, It more quartoes valued at £5, It yet more books of all sorts at £5 [Total for books £59]". Cooper married first about 1628 to Jane by whom he had 1 son and 2 daughters. He married second Ann (no known children) who survived him.

SANDBACH [V.S.] Mr. Joseph Cope. Ejected here upon the old sequestered minister's coming in, though he allowed him 70l. per ann. before. He preached afterwards at Eccleshal and Bartomley, for the old incumbent that was to come in there, Mr. Zach. Cawdrey, a worthy moderate conformist: and afterwards at Biddulph in Staffordshire, through the favour of the old Sir John Bowyer, till the church-doors were shut upon him. He did much good as an intinerant preacher in Cheshire, Shropshire and Staffordshire, for many years. Soon after the Revolution, he fixed in the public chapel at Haslington, in Bartomley parish, by the consent of the gentleman to whom it belonged, and kept up a very considerable congregation in it as long as he lived, which was to his 83d year; and through God's goodness, he enjoyed a wonderful vigour of body, and vivacity of spirit to the last, so that he could travel and preach with his usual ease. He preached twice, and it was thought with more than ordinary liveliness, the Lord's day before he died, which was in August, 1694. The first Lord's day after his death, the minister of Bartomley, Dr. Egerton, who had kindly connived at Mr. Cope's having the chapel while he lived, took possession of it himself; but was so obliging as to permit Mr. Matthew Henry to preach his funeral sermon there the week after, according to the old gentleman's desire. James Corbet (lay reader of Chapel Chorlton, Staffs) ?1647-1728
Corbet was born (perhaps) about 1647 (and probably christened 13 Feb 1647.8 as son of William Corbett of Eccleshall ?yeoman). On 14 Oct 1663 - apparently aged about 16 - he was appointed lay reader of Chapel Chorlton by the Dean and Chapter of Lichfield (in the absence of a parochial curate) and on 1 Jan 1663.4 master of Eccleshall Parish School. He probably resigned at Chapel Chorlton in Dec 1668 when as a literate he was ordained deacon by Lichfield and licensed as a preacher for Stoke-upon-Trent. Here he served until 1671 when (presumably having been ordained priest) he was on 25 Sep after probable presentation by George Parker of "Park Hall", Weston Coyney in Caverswall, Staffs esquire c1592-1675 appointed vicar of Caverswall. Here he may have resigned about 1712 by when he was living at Handford in Trentham. Then not in office he died, aged about 81, and was buried on 25 Aug 1728 at Caverswall. His will made on 15 May 1728 was proved at Lichfield on 30 Aug 1728. Corbet married 28 Jul 1695 at Keele to Mary Corbet (d 1713) widow of Thomas Brerehurst of Handford in Trentham yeoman but may not have had any children.

A close friend of Henry Martyn (the missionary and Senior Wrangler of 1801), although in the heat of a discussion Martyn threw a knife at him which fortunately missed its aim, entering the opposite wall where it remained trembling with the concussion". [Sargent, Life of Henry Martyn].

Cotterill published his "Family Prayers" in six editions. Though he did write some original hymns, he is better known as the compiler of "Selection of Psalms and Hymns, adapted to the Festivals of the Church of England", which had a marked effect on modern hymnals. The first edition of Selection was in 1810, and the ninth in 1820. Cotterill himself contributed 25 original hymns and versions of individual psalms to Selection. Died: December 29, 1823, Sheffield, England (John Julian says the Gentlemen's Magazine incorrectly published Cotterill's death date as January 5, 1824). [INTERNET]

John Crees {Crecy} e1419-....

John Creeke (rector of Bramshall) c1574-1652
Creeke, born about 1574, is of unknown parentage. He was only educated to literate grade. On 19 May 1611 he was ordained deacon and on 22 Sep 1611 ordained priest (both) by Oxford. On 11 Nov 1612 after presentation by Sir Richard Farmor Knight he was instituted as rector of Tusmore, Oxon. Here he may have resigned before 3 Oct 1614 when he was instituted by Lincoln as vicar of Kings Sutton, Northants. On 9 Aug 1636 after presentation by Sir Greville Verney of Compton Verney, Warwicks Knight c1586-1642 he was instituted as rector of Bramshall. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. On 27 Jul 1644 the Staffordshire parliamentary committee ordered the inhabitants of Bramshall to pay to Creeke their tithes and Easter offerings. Still in office he died, aged about 78, in 1652 and may have been buried here. About Sep 1652 his successor at Bramshall John Shorthose 1633-1670 made an entry in the parish register "The Register book that was in Mr. Creeke his time was taken away by one Blackwell his executor & could never be gott againe". Creeke married perhaps about 1604 to a woman by whom he had 2 sons: John Creeke (stipendiary curate at Kineton, Warwicks) c1606-..... and Joseph Creeke (vicar of Penkridge) c1610-1643 QV.

$●Zachary Crofton (presbyterian minister of Newcastle) c1626-1672
Crofton, born about 1626, was a son of Daniel Crofton of Dublin "gentleman" c1595-1651 - a protestant. He was only educated to literate grade. He studied at Dublin where on 16 Jul 1641 he was admitted to Trinity College but did not graduate. On 23 Oct 1641 an Irish catholic uprising commenced and shortly afterwards Crofton travelled to England "and when he came on shore, he had but a groat, which he spent the first night at his quarters". During 1644 he served in the parliamentarian army in Lancashire and Cheshire. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman by 7 Feb 1646.7 when he was in office as presbyterian minister of Goosetrey-cum-Barnshaw, Cheshire parochial chapelry. On 2 Jul 1647 he was appointed by Newcastle corporation as presbyterian minister of Newcastle independent parochial chapelry. The corporation were to pay him quarterly a salary of £60 pa and allowed him the use of a house rent free. Apparently a committed presbyterian, he signed the Staffordshire testimony of Jul 1648 as "Zachariah Crofton Minister of Newcastle Underline". By Jan 1648.9 he had left Newcastle and on 24 Feb 1648.9 was in office as presbyterian minister of Dilhorne rectory when the Committee for plundered ministers granted him an augmentation of £4/13/4 to his salary of £40. By Jun 1650 he had left Dilhorne. Two of his children were christened at Wilmslow, Cheshire on 16 Jun 1650 and 4 Apr 1652. In this period he was presbyterian minister of Wrenbury parochial chapelry, Cheshire (some 25 miles south-west of Wilmslow) but on 9 Oct 1651 was removed by the Committee for compounding for refusing the Engagement. On 26 Dec 1651 he was elected presbyterian minister of London St James Garlickhythe rectory but resigned in Jun 1654 on appointment as presbyterian minister of Gravely rectory, Herts. On 30 Apr 1655 he was appointed by ●Oliver Cromwell qua Protector as presbyterian minister of London St Botolph without Aldgate parochial chapelry. In 1660 he was removed. During 1661/2 he was in prison in the Tower of London on a charge of high treason. By 1665 he was farming at Little Barford, Beds when two of his children who were living in London came to visit but were not admitted and died nearby of the plague. Crofton returned to London and conducted a school in Aldgate. On 25 Jul 1672 he was licensed as a presbyterian at his house in Tower Hill. Then living in London St Botolph without Aldgate Crofton died, aged about 46, and was buried there on 26 Dec 1672. His will made on 20 Dec 1672 was proved under London on 5 May 1673. Crofton married about 1646 Hannah Eaton (d 1675) (niece of John Eaton of Weaverham, Cheshire) by whom he had 8 sons and 3 daughters. Five children had unusual biblical christian names: Zaretan, Zephaniah, Zebadiah, Hoshaiah and Zelophehad. Crofton who Calamy (1702) described as a "A quick and warm but upright Man" was involved in many theological controversies sometimes involving spells in prison and was also the author of many sermons and other theological works.

(1681) William Webb, of London, Esq., Margery Scragg, of St. Buttolph's parish, widow, and William Beard, of Newcastle, Co. Stafford, Salter, as procheins amys (next friends) of Elizabeth Crofton, an infant, sued Mary Eaton, widow, in the Cheshire Exchequer Court (Pub: Rec: Office), alleging that on May 19, 1652, Tho. Marbury, of Marbury, Co. Chester, leased a messuage in Weverham (lately occupied by Edward Billington, of Weverham, yeoman, and Ellen his widow), to Ellen Billington, for lives of Edward and Alice her children. Zachary Crofton bought the freehold subject to that lease. Ellen Billington assigned to Robert Winterbotham, of Warrington, husbandman, who borrowed, in 1665, £40 from John Eaton, of Weverham, yeoman, and William Beard, trustees for Zachary Crofton's children (Public Record Office).
(1702) Mr. Zachary Crofton, from St. Buttolphs Aldgate. A quick and warm but upright Man. He not long after King Charles's Return had a hot Contest with Bp Gauden, about the Obligation of the National Vow, call'd the Solemn League and Covenant. The Bishop was for Cancelling it entirely. Mr. Crofton did no plead for it as binding any Man to Rebellion, or to any thing Unlawful, but as Obliging every one that took it in his Place and Calling to endeavour Reformation; to be against Schism, Popery, Prelacy and Profaneness, and to defend the King. Many Writings pass'd on both sides: But at length they who had the upper hand, (as hath bin usual in the like Case) back'd their Arguments with force, to mik them unanswerable. Mr. Crofton was sent Prisoner to the Tower; where when he had continu'd long, at a vast Expence and Charge, he fought to get an Habeas Corpus: But his Life being threaten'd, he was glad to let the Motion fall, and at last to Petition f0r his Liberty, which with some difficulty he obtain'd. But going into his own Country of Cheshire, he was there again cast into Prison: And when he procur'd his Liberty, he was forc'd to fet up a Grocers Shop to get a Maintenance for his Family, While he was in the Tower, he went to the Chappel Service and Sermon: His Judgment being against Separating from the Parish Churches, notwithstanding their Conformity, so be it he were not put himself to use the Common-Prayer as a Minister, or the Ceremonies. And this occasion'd some that tho't his Course unlawful, to write against it: To which he reply'd with Sharpness, and so divers Writings were publish'd on both sides, about such Communion. [Calamy (1702) p196-7]
1802) ST. BOTOLPH'S ALDGATE, [C. and D. £520] Mr. ZACHARY CROFTON. An upright man, but of a warm and hasty temper: an acute, learned and solid divine, and an excellent christian. He was born, and for the most part educated, in Dublin, being related to Sir Ed. Crofton, Bart. In the Irish troubles, he fled into England; and when he came on shore, he had but a groat, which he spent the first night at his quarters. He was pastor of a church at Wrenbury in Cheshire, where he met with much trouble, of which there is an account in his preface to his Bethshemesh clouded. He was turned out from Wrenbury for refusing the Engagement, and appearing very zealous to dissuade others from taking it. Before his settling at Aldgate, he was some time minister at St. James's, Garlickhithe. Not long after the restoration he had a hot contest with Bp. Gauden about the obligation of the solemn league and covenant. The bishop was for cancelling it entirely. Mr. Crofton did not plead for it as binding any man to rebellion, or to any thing unlawful; but as obliging every one that took it, in his place and calling, to endeavour after reformation; to be against schism, popery, prelacy and profaneness, and to defend the king. Many writings passed on both sides; but at length they who had the upper-hand, (as hath been usual in the like cases) backed their arguments with force, to make them unanswerable. Mr. Crofton was sent prisoner to the Tower; where after a long continuance, at a vast expence, at a time when he had a wife and seven small children, he sought to get a Habeas corpus; but his life being threatened, he was glad to let the motion fall, and at last to petition for his liberty, which with some difficulty he obtained. But going into Cheshire, he was there imprisoned again. When he again procured his liberty, he set up a grocer's shop to maintain his family. While he was in the Tower, he attended the chapel-service; being against separation from the parish churches, though he himself (as a minister) could not use the Common-prayer or the ceremonies. Some who thought his conduct unlawful, wrote against it. He replied with sharpness; and various writings were published on both sides, about such conformity. He afterwards took a farm at Little Barford in Bedfordshire. In the time of the plague, his son and daughter, (whom he had set up in business in London), went down to him, but could not be admitted into the village, and were kept in little huts at a distance, he hiring a man to look after them. They all died, and Mr. Crofton took good care of the man's children. He then removed to London (bringing one of this man's daughters to be his servant), and set up a school in the parish of Aldgate, which he continued to his death; having sometimes above a hundred scholars. $George Cross M.A. (presbyterian minister of Clifton Campville) c1610-1665

Cross, born about 1610, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Oxford where (perhaps from about 1629) he was a student at Christ Church College. At Oxford he graduated B.A. on 27 Jan 1631.2 (M.A., 2 Nov 1634). He was perhaps qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman about 1637 for he is said to have "preached for 9 years without ordination". About 1646 he was classically ordained as a presbyterian clergyman by a London classis. Earlier he was chaplain to "Lady Scudamore" at Sutton Coldfield, Warwicks where he became a friend of ●Anthony Burgess c1606-1664 who had been instituted rector there on 3 Nov 1635. "Lady Scudamore" was Ruth Hampden 1575-1649 sister of William Hampden of Great Hampden, Bucks 1570-1597 whose wife Elizabeth Cromwell was aunt of ●Oliver Cromwell. On 7 Aug 1646 the Committee for plundered ministers recommended the Westminster assembly of divines to appoint him as presbyterian minister of Clifton Campville rectory. However in Sep 1646 William Barton c1598-1678 (formerly vicar of Mayfield but then presbyterian minister of London St John Zachary) also petitioned (unsuccesfully) for this office. On 22 Apr 1647 Cross was appointed (? by the Committee) and was then described as a godly and orthodox divine and ordered to preach diligently to the parishioners. Shortly afterwards Cross's predecessor Henry Gilbert B.A., B.C.L. 1608-1664 wrote a letter "Neighbours of Clifton, If you are resolved to pay your Tithes to Crosse, who hath no Right unto them by the known Laws of the Kingdom, and who hath by Violence and the Committee's Power thrust me out of my own Freehold and Rectory; I desire you, more for your own Security than my own Advantage, to be careful to tie him unto such Conditions, and upon so good Bail, that, when the Laws shall once again recover their Force, you may come to no Damage for your own Particulars, nor I may be moved to use such Extremities against you which the Law of the Kingdom (I doubt not) will One Day afford me ..." Probably late in 1654 Thomas Ford c1633-1678 QV moved to Staffordshire where he appears to have trained to become minister of Harlaston parochial curacy then (apparently) in the patronage of Cross (as presbyterian minister of Clifton Campville). Cross may have appointed him as parochial curate. (In 1658 Ford married Judith Cross a ?kinswoman of George). Apparently a committed presbyterian, Cross signed the Staffordshire testimony of Jul 1648 as "George Crosse Pastor of Clifton Camville". In Jun 1660 he continued in office as de facto rector. About Sep 1660 he was displaced from office by (the former rector) Henry Gilbert who alleged that he had never been paid his fifth. Cross and his family then moved to London where they lived with Richard Hampden 1631-1695 (grandson of William, above). In 1665 the "Great Plague" broke out in London and Cross moved back to the Midlands. One of his children had been infected and died at the house of Samuel Shaw (presbyterian minister of Long Whatton, Leics) c1635-1695 who was then living at Cotes, Leics. Cross and his wife then moved to Basford, Notts. Shortly after both died here of the plague - first his wife and then Cross himself, aged about 55, on 8 Aug 1665. Cross married about 1660 to Ann Whitehall c1637-1665 dau of Joseph Whitehall of Whitehall in Ipstones gentleman c1611-c1680 by whom he may have had 1 son and 1 daughter. Calamy records in 1713 "[Cross] Was a considerable Scholar, a judicious Divine, and a fervent Preacher; and had a clear Head, a solid Judgment, and a wonderful Memory. ... He was always averse to appearing from the Press, which made him not so well known to the World as some others, not superior to him in Abilities." [NB: Richard Bell B.A. (presbyterian minister of Stafford St Chad) 1615-1686 QV, William Fincher (presbyterian minister of Wednesbury) c1628-1691 QV and Thomas Ford M.A. (presbyterian minister of Harlaston) c1633-1678 QV were married to three sisters - ?---?, Elizabeth and Judith Cross - who were probably kinswomen of George Cross.]

(1917) CROSS, or CROSSE, WILLIAM (d. 1697). P. Born at Fringford, Oxon. Matric. pleb., at Pembroke Coll., Oxford, 25 July 1655. Ordained by presbyters at Nottingham. Vicar of Attenborough, Notts; vicar of Beeston, Notts; ejected, 1662. Removed to Loughborough. The Episc. Returns, 1669, report him as one of the preachers to about 40 Presbyterians at Hugglescote, Leic. ; also as one of two preachers to 20 persons at Bradmore, Notts, "At the house of Mr Robert Kirkby on Sundayes, morning & evening, in time of Divine Service." Licensed, 17 Apr. 1672, as " Presb. Teacher in the howse of Thomas Porter in Bingham, Notts"; also, 30 Apr. 1672, as " Pr. Teacher " in his house at Loughborough, Leic. He received £2 (10 N. 1690) from an anonymous donation received through Matthew Rapier [q.v.]. The Common Fund granted him (1690 to 1696) £10 a year for Loughborough, reduced (1695) to £8. On 4 S. 1697 he was reported dead, and payment made to Sanford, his successor at Loughborough. Calamy says he died pastor at Derby, evidently an error. (C. F. M. P. T.) [66, 67] [Gordon (1917) p246]
(1934) CROSS, WILLIAM. Vicar of Beeston, Notts. 1662. Successor inst. 16 March 1662-3, on non-subscription of last incumbent (Act Book, York: Cal. 438. Acc. 530.) Born at Fringford, Oxon. Pembroke, Oxf., mc. 1655. V. of Attenborough 3 Nov. 1658: ord. thereto by Nottingham Association 25 Jan. 1658-9 (L. 999. 129: C.S. 2 s. xli. 168). After ejection lived at Loughborough, Leics. 1669, preaching at Bradmore, Notts., and Hugglescote, Leics. Licensed (P.) at his house, Loughborough, 30 April 1672: also at Bingham, Notts. Calamy mistaken in saying he was minister at Derby. 1690, preaching at Loughborough, Leics., with allowance of £10 a year, also giving monthly lectures at Nottingham and Leicester. Received grant from Common Fund for service at Loughborough 1690-6. His death reported to the Fund Board 4 Sept. 1697 (Gordon, 246). See above, R. BELL. Publication. [Matthews (1934) p149]

John Crosse (?parochial curate of Kinver) ?1580-?1660
Crosse, (? christened on 29 May 1580 at Hale, Lancs), is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably ordained deacon (? and priest) before 1619 when he was probably appointed as a reader or lecturer at Kinver. On 1 Sep 1621 he was licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. In 1639 he was probably appointed parochial curate. From 5 Feb 1643.4 he continued here as compliant minister. On 13 Jun 1646 the Committee for plundered ministers described him as "a learned and orthodox divine, the preacher of the parish church of Kinver" and granted him an augmentation of £70 to his annual salary of £40. At Kinver he probably resigned before 1648 when he was in office as compliant minister (or perhaps weekly lecturer) of London St Matthew Friday Street. Probably still in office he died, aged about 80, before 7 Apr 1660. His will made on 12 Jul 1658 was proved under PCC on 7 Apr 1660. Crosse married about 1613 to Margaret Longworth (d ?1666) dau of Christopher Longworth of Longworth, Lancs esquire 1551-1608 and Alice Standish dau of Thomas Standish of Duxbury, Lancs esquire by whom he had 3 sons and 2 daughters.

Richard Croxton (vicar of Chebsey) e1587-e1642
Croxton, born perhaps about 1587, is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade. On 26 May 1615 he was ordained deacon by Lichfield and presumably ordained priest before 22 Sep 1617 when - after presentation pro hac vice by Thomas Whitmore & Cassandra Whitmore of Chebsey assigns of Sir Edward Littleton of Pillaton in Penkridge, Staffs knight c1577-1629 assign of Lichfield dean and chapter - he was instituted vicar of Chebsey. Still in office in 1639 he likely died, aged perhaps about 55, in 1642. Croxton married perhaps about 1617 to a woman by whom he had 1 daughter - Mary who married (his successor at Chebsey) Thomas Mason M.A. c1606-1681.

must not forget at this time that a Thomas Danet (14) of Bromkinsthorpe, Doctor of Theology, emerges out of the Fosters Members of the University of Cambridge. He had a distinguished religious career making quite a name for himself. A full list of his achievements covers a full page of small print and appears to have held offices all over the country (and Calias). He was also engaged in negotiations between Edward IV and Charles Duke of Burgundy at Namur 1475 and sent to France by Edward IV to take up the cause of his sister, the duchess Margaret, with Louis XI 1478. It is stated that he owned and probably began the collection of musical settings for the mass used at St George's Chapel, Windsor contained in the Old Hall Manuscript. He died in 19 September 1483, Dean of the College of Windsor, and was of sufficient importance to be buried near the door of the chapter-house, St. George's Chapel, Windsor, in a now badly damaged tombstone in the North Aisle. Although there is recorded a mass of his career, apart from knowing he came from Bromkinsthorpe, Leices., his identity within the family can only be guessed at. [INTERNET, unsourced]

In 1575 Darell became the subject of much local gossip and was brought before the ecclesiastical courts when Clemence Ward, a lady of 'suspect behaviour', was apprehended by a lay clerk of the cathedral while being smuggled into Darell's residence in a laundry basket. In November 1579 the privy council wrote to the commissioners for causes ecclesiastical in the diocese of Canterbury 'to cite peremptorily William Darrell, prebendary of the Church of Canterbury, before them for certain horrible offences committed by him' [DNB]

He was Curate of the Church, and was made vicar in 1769. He was the author of a book entitled "Discourse on Spiritual Improvement from Affliction." It was printed in Walsall by F. Milward, in 1789, and is dedicated to the Earl of Mountrath, from whom the author had experienced the most generous kindness and the tenderest humanity in his afflicted state. He was a good musician, and his name survives in a favorite hymn tune. He died at the Vicarage on December 18th, 1789, and was interred in the "New Burial Ground". [WILLMORE (1887)]

John Darwall was an accomplished amateur musician. The work for which he will be remembered is music for Psalm 148 which was composed and sung at the inauguration of a new organ at his church in 1773. He was also a poet and some of his work was published in the Gentleman's magazine. He died in December 1789, having spent his whole career in Walsall.

Robert Darwin (parochial curate of Stowe) c1603-.... H27

[? Darwin, born about 1603 in Leicestershire, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Oxford where on 16 Nov 1621 he was a "commoner" at Christ Church and matriculated but is not known to have graduated.] Darwin was probably only educated to literate grade. He had likely been ordained deacon (? and priest) by 1639 when he was in office as parochial curate of Chilcote, Derbys. On 5 Feb 1643.4 he may not have been in an office. By 1645 he was in office as compliant minister of Weston-upon-Trent independent parochial chapelry but was replaced in 1647. In early Jun 1660 he may not have been in an office. By 26 Sep 1662 he was in office as parochial curate of Stowe (Weston's eastern neighbour). He subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 17 Dec 1663. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Chartley constablewick (which included Stowe township) but was not assessed there. By 1670 he had been replaced in office. Darwin may not have married. Thomas Darwin B.A. (vicar of Shenstone) c1601-.... (who was also a "commoner" at Christ Church) was probably his older brother.

Davenport, born perhaps about 1632, is of unknown parentage. He was probably only educated to literate grade. He was presumably qualified to be a presbyterian clergyman on his appointment as ? presbyterian minister or de facto parochial curate of Newchapel dependent parochial chapelry about 1660. On 24 Aug 1662 he did not subscribe to the Act of uniformity and was thus to be deprived. On 6 Apr 1665 Samuel Hall (presbyterian minister of Barlaston) c1635-1665 requested that he "be carried to my place of buriall by my worthy friends Mr Goddard Mr Swynfen Mr Mott & Mr Davenport ...". The latter three men are probably Richard Swinfen (presbyterian minister of Mavesyn Ridware) 1630-1691 QV, John Mott (presbyterian minister of Kings Bromley) e1623-1671 QV and Davenport himself. No further record has been discovered. [NB: On 27 Feb 1656.7 John Davenport, then parish clerk of Kingsley, was appointed parish register.]

Lawrence Dawson M.A. (compliant minister of Bramshall) c1599-1674 (H28)
Dawson, born about 1599, is of unknown parentage. He studied at Cambridge where at Easter 1617 he was admitted as a sizar at Trinity College and matriculated and in 1619 was a scholar. At Cambridge he graduated B.A. in 1620.1 (M.A., 1624). On 1 Dec 1621 he was appointed head schoolmaster of Uttoxeter Alleyne's Grammar School. On 13 or 19 Jun 1624 he was ordained deacon by Lichfield. On 19 Sep 1630 he was ordained priest by Lichfield and on the same day licensed parochial curate of Kingstone being replaced in office before 1639. From 1639 to 1653 he may not have been in an office. In 1653 he was appointed compliant minister of Uttoxeter vicarage which office he resigned before 31 Mar 1658. After presentation on 12 Mar 1658.9 by Thomas Wenman 2nd Viscount Wenman 1596-1665 qua guardian of his grandson Sir Greville Verney of Compton Verney, Warwicks K.B. 1649-1668 he was on 30 Mar 1659 approved by the Commission for approbation of public preachers and on 4 May 1659 appointed compliant minister of Bramshall rectory. In early Jun 1660 he continued here as de facto rector and, by An act for the confirming and restoring of ministers (13 Sep 1660), was confirmed in office. In Jan 1661.2 he paid a clerical subsidy of £1 and subscribed to the Act of uniformity on 14 Aug 1662. In 1665 the rectory was valued at £20. In 1665 he did not certify the hearth tax but was assessed on 3 hearths at Bramshall. Still in office at Alleyne's Grammar School and Bramshall he died, aged about 75, and was buried on 3 Oct 1674 at Bramshall. His will made on 29 Jun 1674 was proved under Lichfield on 13 Oct 1674. Dawson married on 10 Jul 1624 at Uttoxeter to Joan Clare (d 1654) widow of Michael Grey by whom he had 1 son and 2 daughters. [NB: Dawson was ordained deacon (1624) whilst a head schoolmaster and the reason for his ordination as a priest (1630) - after an unusual interval of six years - appears to have been his appointment as a parochial curate.]

WILL OF LAWRANCE DAWSON, BROMSHALL, 1674 "In the name of God, amen, the nine and twentieth day of June, Anno Domini 1674, and in the five and twentieth year [footnote] of the reign of our Sovereign Lord Charles the second by the grace of God of England, Scotland, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith. I Lawrance Dawson, of Bromshall, in the county of Stafford, clerk, weake in body but perfecte in minde (praised be God) doe make and ordain this my last will and testament in manner and form following. Ffirst and personally, I bequeath my soul into the hands of Almighty God my Creator and Redeemer hoping and assuredly trusting that through the merits of my Saviour Jesus Christ I shall obtaiyne everlasting salvation. And I bequeath my body to the earth, to be decently buried when and where it shall please God to appoint. Ffor my worldly goods I dispose of them as followeth : I give and bequeath to my daughter Hester Townsend five pounds, and to John and Thomas her two sons twenty shillings apeice. Item. I give my grandchildren, Thomas Beech and Mary Beech twenty shillings apeice. Item. I give to Lawrance and George, children of George Warner, twenty shillings apeice. Item. I give to my two servants John Startin and Elizabeth Clark, ten shillings apeice. Item. I give to the poor at my funeral three pounds, six shillings and eightpence. All the rest of my goods, cattall, chattels, household stuff, husbandry, cart, and yimplements, my debts, legacys and funeral charges being all discharged, I give and bequeath to my son William Dawson, whom I make executor of this my last will and testement, hoping he will see the same truly performed as my last trust is in him reposed. And I doe hereby renounce all other wills whatever by me formerly made, for witness whereunto I have hereunto put my hand and seal the day and year first above written. Sealed, signed, and witnessed in the presence of PETER LIGHTFOOT. FRANCIS THOMLINSON [? Tomkinson]." [footnote] ~~There is evidently a great blunder in the dates in this will, for at the time it was made, according to the date given, King Charles and had only reigned fourteen years, and the writer of it, Mr. Peter Lightfoot, had been dead nearly four years.~~ Otherwise the will is genuine, as it is written in the curious style of the period which but few persons would be able to imitate. [NOTE: Regnal year was correct - counted from 1649. Peter Lightfoot was alive - he died in 1677] [Francis Redfern History of Uttoxeter (1886) p242-3]

Josias Deane (parochial curate of Armitage & Pipe Ridware) e1638-1697 D29
Deane, born perhaps about 1638, is of unknown parentage. He may have studied at Oxford as a student at Brasenose College but is not known to have graduated. On 23 Oct 1662 he was appointed schoolmaster of Mavesyn Ridware parish school. In Jan 1662.3 he was ordained deacon and in Jul 1663 ordained priest (both) by Lichfield.
Perhaps in 1663 after probable presentation by the prebendary of Lichfield Hansacre then John Cornelius c1605-1675 he was licensed parochial curate of Armitage and perhaps in the same year after probable presentation by the prebendary of Lichfield Alrewas then Richard Harrison (rector of Blithfield) c1611-1676 QV was, jointly, licensed parochial curate of Pipe Ridware. In Jan 1663.4 he was licensed as a preacher by Lichfield. In 1665 he certified the hearth tax for Armitage and Pipe Ridware constablewicks but was not assessed at either place. By 4 Aug 1666 John Ashbrook c1624-.... had succeded Deane at Armitage. On 1 Feb 1666.7 after presentation by George Digby of Sandon esquire c1590-1675 he was instituted vicar of Sandon. He resigned at Sandon before 13 Apr 1681 when he was appointed vicar of Dunchurch, Warwickshire. On 10 Mar 1682.3 he was appointed prebendary of Lichfield Dassett Parva. Still in both offices he died, perhaps aged about 59, and was buried on 26 Jun 1697 at Dunchurch. His will made on 22 Jun 1697 was proved under Lichfield on 21 Oct 1697. The value of his personalty is undiscovered but in his will he made bequests exceeeding £300. Deane married about 23 Dec 1662 to Ann Shaw probably older daughter of William Shaw (rector of Mavesyn Ridware) c1617-1672 QV by whom he had 3 daughters.
